Housing for Aged, Park Action Taken

Legislation by the Common Council Tuesday night enabled advancement of procedure and plans to gain the city low cost housing for the aged, a park development at Kingston Point and extension of the city's sewage disposal facilities.

Mayor John J. Schwenk informed the aldermen that the city's street-repair program should be completed in two weeks and it is hoped to have an appropriation approved at the June council meeting.

A reading on a local law which would provide for a uniform allowance in the police and fire departments was given, and action on it is expected to follow at a later meeting.

The aldermen were informed through a letter from H. Edgar Timmerman, civil defense director, that facilities at Dietz Stadium and the Municipal Auditorium, have been designated for fallout shelter purposes, and forms were forwarded for obtaining the required fallout shelter licenses. The letter, addressed to City Clerk Walter S. Foster, was referred to the council's building and supplies committee.

Democrats Want Beck

The aldermen by a party vote authorized appointment of Attorney George A. Beck to appear for Corporation Counsel Harry Gold in two property matters in which Gold had represented persons involved. Republicans apparently felt the selection was one of political leaning. Democrats then asked if Gold, himself would give an opinion on the question of whether anything was legally wrong with the action, and when they were informed that nothing was legally amiss they proceeded with the vote.

Legislation on "housing for senior citizens" asked that the Kingston Housing Authority "proceed with plans to acquire a suitable site for construction of a low-cost housing project which will alleviate the pressing need for adequate housing for said citizens."

To Ask Federal Aid

Action on the Kingston Point Park proposal empowers the city to apply for federal assistance for a permanent park and recreation area. The city, if the project is approved, stands to get assistance amounting to 20 per cent of cost from the Housing and Home Finance Agency, 75 per cent from the state, with the city paying only five per cent.

Acquisition of the site would in accord with the city's "Comprehensive Development Plan." Some 103 acres of land would be involved. The New York Central Railroad owns 75.2, The Hutton Company (beach site) owns 17.22, and Bernard Wolper, of New Y ork, 11.50 acres. The tentative rough estimate of the project is some $72,000.

Alderman Francis R. Koenig (D) Ninth Ward, noted that former Mayor Edwin F. Radel had taken initial steps to get the city a Kingston Point Park project, and he was glad to see that Mayor Schwenk was following through.

Folsom Running Third in Alabama

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Former Gov. Raymond Gary held the lead today in Oklahoma's Democratic gubernatorial primary. Another former governor seeking to return to public life—James E. Folsom—was trailing in Alabama.

Gary's Foe Unknown

In Tuesday's primary election Gary easily made it into the May 22 runoff in his bid to be Oklahoma's first two-term governor. The name of his Democratic opponent three weeks hence was still a question mark. Four candidates were grouped close together, but the choice appeared to be W. P. Bill Atkinson. The rest of the field of 12 was far behind.

In Alabama two less widely known candidates, whose main campaign difference was over how best to maintain racial segregation in that state, were locked in a seesaw race well ahead of Folsom who was bidding for an unprecedented third term.

Democratic voters in both states nominated incumbent U.S. senators for new terms. Sen. Mike Monroney handily won nomination for a third term in Oklahoma. Sen. Lester Hill beat two opponents to win the nod for a seventh term in Alabama.

Leads by 23,000

With 2,826 precincts counted out of about 3,600, former state Judge George A. Wallace, runnerup four years ago, had 151,901 and state Sen. Ryan deGraffenried had 128,982. Folsom tallied 118,169; Atty. Gen. MacDonald Gallion was fourth with 61,102, and three other candidates were far behind.

The two leaders will battle it out in Alabama's May 29 runoff.

With 2,904 of Oklahoma's 3,143 precincts counted, Gary had 156,371 votes; Atkinson 83,814; Lt. Gov. George Nigh 78,549; former American Legion national commander Preston Moore 76,229 and state Sen. Fred Harris 74,588.

Elgin in Field

The Republican nominee in Alabama, where Democratic nomination is equivalent to election, has not been named yet, but Julian Elgin of Montgomery, who ran for the Senate in 1960, has announced his candidacy.

Oklahoma could face a tough challenge from Henry Bellmon, wheat farmer and former state Republican chairman who easily won nomination against token opposition. He is expected to make a strong bid to be Oklahoma's first Republican governor.

All ine Alabama Democratic congressmen apparently made it into the May 29 runoff in which the one who gets the lowest number of votes in a statewide race will be retired. The sudden death election results from Alabama loss of one representative based on the 1960 census.

Browning Leads School Vote, Elected With Beal to Board

Gifford R. Beal of Town of Ulster and Robert F. (Bob) Browning of Kingston will become members of the board of education of the Kingston City School District, Consolidated, on July 1.

They will succeed President George Schneider and Vice-President Mrs. Bertha Connelly, both of whom declined to become candidates.

Fewer Cast Votes

A total of 3,361 voters appeared at the polls Tuesday to cast their ballots for two members of the board. Yesterday's voting fell way below totals for the previous two years, according to figures in the office of the Board of Education: 5,001 in 1961 and 4,583 in 1960.

Browning led the voting with a total of 1,653 and Mr. Beal was second with a total of 1,595 votes, according to an unofficial tabulation today.

The votes will be officially tabulated tonight at a meeting of the Board of Education at 7:30 o'clock. Under the law the Board must meet within 24 hours and canvass the vote.

The regular monthly meeting of the board will also be held tonight.

How Voting Went

Following the vote cast for Mr. Beal, Thomas Lyle of Kingston received 970 votes, Mrs. Julietta Netter of Kingston received 919, Zale Liese of Port Ewen received 903 and Charles Rinchler of Kingston 476.

Both Beal and Browning had the endorsement of the Non-Partisan Nominating Committee, a committee of citizens formed to select and recommend candidates. Browning was also endorsed by the Kingston Teachers Federation.

Four Write-ins

The unofficial tabulation today indicated there were 19 void ballots and four write-ins. The "write-ins" were one each cast as follows:

School No. 6, Mrs. Bertha Connelly.

George Washington School, Charles Ellis.

Hurley, Milton Tompkins.

Tillson, Henry Paul Jr.

Gifford R. Beal has resided in the school district 9½ years and is employed as claims manager for Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation. He has three children, two attending Kingston Public Schools. Beal attended Lincoln School in New York City and College of William and Mary, Williamsburg, Va., and has been active in civic affairs in the area.

Robert F. Browning has resided in this area for 22 years and is well known as a radio newscaster. He attended schools in Henderson, Texas; Baltimore, Md.; Washington, D. C.; Panama Canal Zone, and New Jersey Military Academy. During World War I he served as an infantry lieutenant.

Unofficial Count

The unofficial tabulation of the vote cast for each candidate in the various school districts is:

School No. 8, Beal 80, Browning 105, Liese 45, Lyle 48, Netter 58, Rinschler 18. Total 354.

School No. 6, Beal 186, Browning 205, Liese 111, Lyle 190, Netter 137, Rinschler 59. Total 889.

Police Board Probe Still Democrat Aim

Appointment of a special committee to investigate a March police board meeting was approved by an 8-5 party vote at Tuesday night's Common Council meeting with Republican aldermen contending that the move was one of "sore losers" seeking to embarrass the mayor and Democrats holding that a reported statement at the meeting requires clarification.

The statement said to have been made by Mayor John J. Schwenk at a March 22 police board meeting, and dealt with in a radio report, in effect said the mayor advised that commissioners who did not agree with him could resign.

A court ruling against continuance of a previously named committee held that it had not been duly authorized to make an investigation, and that such action as was taken at last night's meeting was required.

Not Named Yet

Alderman-at-large Harold L. Kaye said the committee would be named later. He apparently considered the point that Mayor Schwenk has the power of veto in dealing with the resolution adopted at last night's meeting and is not expected to name a committee until after a report from the mayor. It is expected that the same five-man committee, headed by Donald M. Hastings (D) Third Ward, could be named.

Alderman John Machione, (R) 12th Ward, who was unable to make his point after completion of a vote, told a reporter later that he felt that Kaye should not be permitted to name a committee, since it appears that Kaye, himself, is to be involved in whatever investigation is held.

The resolution as adopted last night, mentions "recurrent reports of purported threats, coercion, or attempts to mention certain members of the police board" at or as the result of the March 22 meeting. Published reports, it said, noted that the mayor as police board president has welcomed the investigation.

Calls for New Counsel

The resolution also authorizes the hiring of special counsel because of disqualification of the corporation counsel, and it empowers the chairman of the special committee to subpoena witnesses. It was signed by seven Democratic aldermen.

One paragraph of the resolution said that "matters which reportedly transpired at, and as the result of that meeting have been released to public exposure by the act of an official of the city classified as the 'executive assistant to the mayor,' and such matters have thus become subject to widespread notoriety and public conjecture."

Waste of Time: Carroll

Alderman Joseph F. Carroll Jr. (R), 11th Ward, minority party leader, who characterized the proposed investigation as a "so-called kangaroo court," which the "majority party would force on the people," held that the move "is a waste of time, effort and money," and he felt that "few people of the city care about the issue, because they know it is pure political tripe." He claimed the "public wants to be represented in the important issues that face the city, such as parking."

Carroll said he could not understand the insistance of the

State Forcast Is Warm and Dry For Next 30 Days

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The Weather Bureau predicts generally warm, dry weather in New York State for the next 30 days.

The bureau said in its 30-day forecast, issued Tuesday, that average temperatures for May were expected to range from the high 50s to mid 60s. The range is considered normal for the month.

The forecast said precipitation would be light, ranging from less than 2.11 inches at Buffalo to about 2.54 inches in New York City.

2 Planners Favor Parking Structure

Action on off-street parking for uptown was deferred Tuesday night by the Common Council which recessed subject to call of the chair, the move drawing angry comment from merchants who attended the session apparently anticipating immediate action.

Republican aldermen argued that majority party members would do better to expedite action on parking than to be concerned with the naming of a committee to investigate procedure at a police board meeting, and Democratic aldermen held that recessing the meeting will make no material difference because weeks are yet involved for processing as required by federal officials.

Alderman-at-large Harold L. Kaye, who said he foresaw a flareup of tempers, ruled the meeting recessed subject to his call within 10 days.

Differ on Plan

Report of an April 30 planning board meeting read at the session indicated differences of opinion there as to which off-street parking plan should be approved.

A communication noted that Mayor John J. Schwenk had received from the Executive Advisory Committee on Urban Renewal a report favoring acquisition of property and construction of off-street parking facilities on two North Front Street sites, as proposed in Study Plan No. 3-A and Study Plan No. 6, noted in maps drafted by Brinnier & Larios. No. 3-A would be on the south side of North Front between Crown and Green Streets, and the other would be in a parallel area opposite it.

Cost, said the letter, "is not the most controlling factor." The cost, it said, comes "within recognized limits, and because the cost is to be borne on a self-liquidating basis" it should not be a delaying factor in dealing with plans. State and federal aid, it said, will bring $7 for $1 spent.

Further Study Indicated

The letter from the planning board signed by Elmore C. Yallum, its chairman, noted that he with Frank E. Bourke, and Corporation Counsel Harry Gold, who is a member of the board, attended the April 30 meeting of the board, which resulted in "diverse positions not irrevocably incompatible," but requiring additional study of "multiple factors to attain a unanimous expression."

Gold, said the letter, favored sites No. 6 and No. 3-A (those mentioned by the urban renewal

Allen Declares More Federal Aid To Schools Needed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dr. James E. Allen Jr., New York State education commissioner, says increased federal aid to education is urgently needed.

Allen testified Tuesday before a House Education subcommittee that is conducting hearings on a bill to provide federal support for public schools.

Allen called the bill the best that has been proposed to meet national education needs and still preserve state and local control of public schools.

The measure would provide federal grants equal to 2 per cent of what a state spent on education, and would also give poorer states additional money. Federal aid, under the bill, would total $437.8 million to be used as each state education department chose.

Allen said the bill would leave the states in complete charge of their schools.

"The pervading fear of federal interference in state and local school systems as a result of massive federal aid is allayed by (its) provisions," he told the subcommittee.

But Allen said that, in addition to financial aid, education was in need of administrative reorganization at both the state and federal level.

He called for creation of a federal office of education as an independent agency and also urged strengthening of state education departments.

He added that the federal government should work with state and local educational systems on their reorganization.

Fed, Treated Well Freed GIs Report

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) —Two American Army sergeants released by Communist guerrillas said the Reds kept them bound during their 22 days of captivity but fed them regularly on rice. They said they suffered no brutality.

Sgts. Francis Quinn of Niagara Falls, N.Y., and George E. Groom of St. Joseph, Mo., freed in what appeared to be a May Day gesture, looked weary from their ordeal but in good shape otherwise as they arrived in Saigon by plane Tuesday night.

Denying reports they had been led through villages as propaganda exhibits, they told interrogating officers they were held the entire 22 days atop a mountain near where they were captured April 8.

Still wearing the camouflage uniforms and berets of the Army Special Forces, they were released less than five miles from the spot outside the coastal town of Da Nang where they were ambushed with two other American soldiers and 31 Vietnamese trainees.

The other Americans, Sgt. Wayne E. Marchand of Plattsmouth, Neb., and Spec. 5 James Gabriel of Honolulu, were wounded and their bodies later found two miles from the ambush scene.

Quinn and Groom said they had carried their wounded comrades for more than a mile until the Viet Cong guerrillas ordered them put down. They said they did not witness the final moments of the two, who apparently were murdered because they were slowing the Viet Cong escape.

The sergeants said the Communists gave no reason for freeing them. After their release, it took 2½ hours to make their way down the mountainside, led by a mountaineer who worked for the guerrillas.

SAFE IN SOUTH VIET NAM—Sgt. George E. Groom of St. Joseph, Mo., left, and Sgt. 1/C Francis Quinn of Niagara Falls, N. Army enlisted men, captured by Communist guerrillas early in April, were reported to be "tired but otherwise in good health." (AP Wirephoto)

Following the vote cast for Mr. Beal, Thomas Lyle of Kingston received 970 votes, Mrs. Julietta Netter of Kingston received 919, Zale Liese of Port Ewen received 903 and Charles Rinchler of Kingston 476.

Both Beal and Browning had the endorsement of the Non-Partisan Nominating Committee, a committee of citizens formed to select and recommend candidates. Browning was also endorsed by the Kingston Teachers Federation.

Four Write-ins

The unofficial tabulation today indicated there were 19 void ballots and four write-ins. The "write-ins" were one each cast as follows:

School No. 6, Mrs. Bertha Connelly.

George Washington School, Charles Ellis.

Hurley, Milton Tompkins.

Tillson, Henry Paul Jr.

Gifford R. Beal has resided in the school district 9½ years and is employed as claims manager for Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation. He has three children, two attending Kingston Public Schools. Beal attended Lincoln School in New York City and College of William and Mary, Williamsburg, Va., and has been active in civic affairs in the area.

Robert F. Browning has resided in this area for 22 years and is well known as a radio newscaster. He attended schools in Henderson, Texas; Baltimore, Md.; Washington, D. C.; Panama Canal Zone, and New Jersey Military Academy. During World War I he served as an infantry lieutenant.

Unofficial Count

The unofficial tabulation of the vote cast for each candidate in the various school districts is:

School No. 8, Beal 80, Browning 105, Liese 45, Lyle 48, Netter 58, Rinschler 18. Total 354.

School No. 6, Beal 186, Browning 205, Liese 111, Lyle 190, Netter 137, Rinschler 59. Total 889.

Police Board Probe Still Democrat Aim

Appointment of a special committee to investigate a March police board meeting was approved by an 8-5 party vote at Tuesday night's Common Council meeting with Republican aldermen contending that the move was one of "sore losers" seeking to embarrass the mayor and Democrats holding that a reported statement at the meeting requires clarification.

The statement said to have been made by Mayor John J. Schwenk at a March 22 police board meeting, and dealt with in a radio report, in effect said the mayor advised that commissioners who did not agree with him could resign.

A court ruling against continuance of a previously named committee held that it had not been duly authorized to make an investigation, and that such action as was taken at last night's meeting was required.

Not Named Yet

Alderman-at-large Harold L. Kaye said the committee would be named later. He apparently considered the point that Mayor Schwenk has the power of veto in dealing with the resolution adopted at last night's meeting and is not expected to name a committee until after a report from the mayor. It is expected that the same five-man committee, headed by Donald M. Hastings (D) Third Ward, could be named.

Alderman John Machione, (R) 12th Ward, who was unable to make his point after completion of a vote, told a reporter later that he felt that Kaye should not be permitted to name a committee, since it appears that Kaye, himself, is to be involved in whatever investigation is held.

The resolution as adopted last night, mentions "recurrent reports of purported threats, coercion, or attempts to mention certain members of the police board" at or as the result of the March 22 meeting. Published reports, it said, noted that the mayor as police board president has welcomed the investigation.

Calls for New Counsel

The resolution also authorizes the hiring of special counsel because of disqualification of the corporation counsel, and it empowers the chairman of the special committee to subpoena witnesses. It was signed by seven Democratic aldermen.

One paragraph of the resolution said that "matters which reportedly transpired at, and as the result of that meeting have been released to public exposure by the act of an official of the city classified as the 'executive assistant to the mayor,' and such matters have thus become subject to widespread notoriety and public conjecture."

Waste of Time: Carroll

Alderman Joseph F. Carroll Jr. (R), 11th Ward, minority party leader, who characterized the proposed investigation as a "so-called kangaroo court," which the "majority party would force on the people," held that the move "is a waste of time, effort and money," and he felt that "few people of the city care about the issue, because they know it is pure political tripe." He claimed the "public wants to be represented in the important issues that face the city, such as parking."

Carroll said he could not understand the insistance of the

State Forcast Is Warm and Dry For Next 30 Days

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The Weather Bureau predicts generally warm, dry weather in New York State for the next 30 days.

The bureau said in its 30-day forecast, issued Tuesday, that average temperatures for May were expected to range from the high 50s to mid 60s. The range is considered normal for the month.

The forecast said precipitation would be light, ranging from less than 2.11 inches at Buffalo to about 2.54 inches in New York City.

Democrats Ask More Study Time

2 Planners Favor Parking Structure

Action on off-street parking for uptown was deferred Tuesday night by the Common Council which recessed subject to call of the chair, the move drawing angry comment from merchants who attended the session apparently anticipating immediate action.

Republican aldermen argued that majority party members would do better to expedite action on parking than to be concerned with the naming of a committee to investigate procedure at a police board meeting, and Democratic aldermen held that recessing the meeting will make no material difference because weeks are yet involved for processing as required by federal officials.

Alderman-at-large Harold L. Kaye, who said he foresaw a flareup of tempers, ruled the meeting recessed subject to his call within 10 days.

Differ on Plan

Report of an April 30 planning board meeting read at the session indicated differences of opinion there as to which off-street parking plan should be approved.

A communication noted that Mayor John J. Schwenk had received from the Executive Advisory Committee on Urban Renewal a report favoring acquisition of property and construction of off-street parking facilities on two North Front Street sites, as proposed in Study Plan No. 3-A and Study Plan No. 6, noted in maps drafted by Brinnier & Larios. No. 3-A would be on the south side of North Front between Crown and Green Streets, and the other would be in a parallel area opposite it.

Cost, said the letter, "is not the most controlling factor." The cost, it said, comes "within recognized limits, and because the cost is to be borne on a self-liquidating basis" it should not be a delaying factor in dealing with plans. State and federal aid, it said, will bring $7 for $1 spent.

Further Study Indicated

The letter from the planning board signed by Elmore C. Yallum, its chairman, noted that he with Frank E. Bourke, and Corporation Counsel Harry Gold, who is a member of the board, attended the April 30 meeting of the board, which resulted in "diverse positions not irrevocably incompatible," but requiring additional study of "multiple factors to attain a unanimous expression."

Gold, said the letter, favored sites No. 6 and No. 3-A (those mentioned by the urban renewal

Allen Declares More Federal Aid To Schools Needed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dr. James E. Allen Jr., New York State education commissioner, says increased federal aid to education is urgently needed.

Allen testified Tuesday before a House Education subcommittee that is conducting hearings on a bill to provide federal support for public schools.

Allen called the bill the best that has been proposed to meet national education needs and still preserve state and local control of public schools.

The measure would provide federal grants equal to 2 per cent of what a state spent on education, and would also give poorer states additional money. Federal aid, under the bill, would total $437.8 million to be used as each state education department chose.

Allen said the bill would leave the states in complete charge of their schools.

"The pervading fear of federal interference in state and local school systems as a result of massive federal aid is allayed by (its) provisions," he told the subcommittee.

But Allen said that, in addition to financial aid, education was in need of administrative reorganization at both the state and federal level.

He called for creation of a federal office of education as an independent agency and also urged strengthening of state education departments.

He added that the federal government should work with state and local educational systems on their reorganization.

Fed, Treated Well Freed GIs Report

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) —Two American Army sergeants released by Communist guerrillas said the Reds kept them bound during their 22 days of captivity but fed them regularly on rice. They said they suffered no brutality.

Sgts. Francis Quinn of Niagara Falls, N.Y., and George E. Groom of St. Joseph, Mo., freed in what appeared to be a May Day gesture, looked weary from their ordeal but in good shape otherwise as they arrived in Saigon by plane Tuesday night.

Denying reports they had been led through villages as propaganda exhibits, they told interrogating officers they were held the entire 22 days atop a mountain near where they were captured April 8.

Still wearing the camouflage uniforms and berets of the Army Special Forces, they were released less than five miles from the spot outside the coastal town of Da Nang where they were ambushed with two other American soldiers and 31 Vietnamese trainees.

The other Americans, Sgt. Wayne E. Marchand of Plattsmouth, Neb., and Spec. 5 James Gabriel of Honolulu, were wounded and their bodies later found two miles from the ambush scene.

Quinn and Groom said they had carried their wounded comrades for more than a mile until the Viet Cong guerrillas ordered them put down. They said they did not witness the final moments of the two, who apparently were murdered because they were slowing the Viet Cong escape.

The sergeants said the Communists gave no reason for freeing them. After their release, it took 2½ hours to make their way down the mountainside, led by a mountaineer who worked for the guerrillas.

SAFE IN SOUTH VIET NAM—Sgt. George E. Groom of St. Joseph, Mo., left, and Sgt. 1/C Francis Quinn of Niagara Falls, N. Y., right, were recovered safely by South Vietnamese government forces near the coastal town of Da Nang, about 360 miles north of Saigon. The two U. S. Army enlisted men, captured by Communist guerrillas early in April, were reported to be "tired but otherwise in good health." (AP Wirephoto)

WASHINGTON (AP) — Diplomats invited to a White House reception tonight will find something new added—dancing in the famous Blue Room.

A trio of Marine Corps musicians will provide the dance music for some 300 guests at the affair.

President and Mrs. Kennedy will be hosts to ambassadors and heads of the foreign missions in Washington, plus Cabinet members, House Speaker John W. McCormack, Chief Justice Earl Warren and top State Department officials.

Would Upset Taft-Hartley Law

Panel Advises Government Have More Power in Strikes

By NORMAN WALKER

WASHINGTON (AP) — A presidential advisory panel has recommended giving government more power to deal with national emergency labor strikes.

For one thing, the President would have the authority to halt such strikes for an 80-day cooling-off period without obtaining court injunctions. Fact-finding groups appointed by the President would be empowered to suggest settlement terms.

Would Upset T-H Law

These were the major recommendations in a report handed President Kennedy Tuesday night by his labor-management advisers. If enacted by Congress they would upset provisions of the 15-year-old Taft-Hartley law.

The advisory group—made up of seven representatives each from industry, labor unions and the public—called for broad revision of Taft-Hartley law procedures for handling big strikes that threaten the nation's health or safety.

One Dissenter

Among the committee members only one industry man, automaker Henry Ford II, dissented from the proposed emergency strike changes. Ford said the present law has worked remarkably well and it would be both unjustified and unwise to give fact-finding boards power to recommend labor dispute settlement terms.

Such industry men as Chairmen Joseph L. Block of Inland Steel and John M. Franklin of U.S. Lines and Presidents Richard S. Reynolds Jr. of Reynolds Metals and Thomas S. Watson of International Business Machines Corp. went along with the plan for overhauling big strike procedures.

Highlights of the report:

1. Emergency dispute boards named by the President not only could recommend settlement terms, they could also call for interim changes in pay and working conditions pending ultimate settlement.

2. There would be a legal obligation to follow presidential stay-at-work orders for 80-day cooling off periods—without court injunctions as now. This adopts the long-time voluntary compliance procedures contained in the separate Railway Labor Act dealing with rail and airline disputes.

3. The emergency procedures could be applied to only part of an industry, if that were practicable. In the past the law has been invoked generally over entire industries.

4. The present procedure of submitting an employer's final offer to employes for their approval would be eliminated as ineffective. Workers have never voted acceptance of such an offer. Ford agreed with this.

Although many businessmen, following the government's role in the recent steel wage and price controversy, have criticized federal intervention in such matters, the advisory committee said a broader government role in emergency-type bargaining situations is necessary.

Syracuse Site Of Tax Clinic

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal-tax clinic for small businessmen was launched today in Syracuse, N.Y., and Mortimer M. Caplin, commissioner of Internal Revenue, cited it as an example of his agency's desire for a "friendly and cooperative working relationship" with business.

Caplin spoke Tuesday night before the Empire State Chamber of Commerce here in conjunction with the meeting of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce.

The tax clinic for small businessmen, he said, was a one-day program to be held in cities across the country. The one in Syracuse today was the first.

Conscience Fund Enriched by $444

ALBANY — State Tax Commissioner Joseph H. Murphy announced today that "conscience fund" payments totalling $444 have been received from anonymous taxpayers and have been deposited in the State General Fund.

Largest payment was a New York bank money order for $250 made payable to the New York State Income Tax Bureau. Accompanying it was a note saying: "Gentlemen: The enclosed represents additional taxes I believe I owe for past years." It was signed "An American Citizen."

Also mailed from New York were two $20 bills; another envelope containing four $20 bills, and a payment of $29 — one $20, a $5 and four $1 bills — addressed to "Inheritance Tax Department."

The Utica District Tax Office received two payments. Two $10 bills were mailed from Lakeland, Fla., with an unsigned note designating the money as "back taxes." A taxpayer in Rome, N. Y., mailed a $20 bill with an anonymous note, "Conscience money," to the Utica office.

An anonymous payment of $5 was mailed from Albany to the Income Tax Bureau here.

Bosshart Dies, State '61 Vet

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Dr. John K. Bosshart of Camden, a pioneer in animal surgery and New York State's veterinarian of the year in 1961, died at Memorial Hospital Tuesday after a brief illness. He was 77.

Dr. Bosshart was a native of Switzerland and was graduated from the School of Veterinary Medicine at Cornell University. He was a member for several years of the State Board of Veterinary Medical Examiners.

Last fall, the State Veterinary Medical Society named him veterinarian of the year in the state.

He pioneered the use of Caesarian sections in cows and other surgical techniques for animals and wrote a textbook on the diagnosis of animal diseases.

Cuts Her Own Curb Despite City Protest

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y. (AP)— A woman bus driver, despite objections from the city, completed the job of cutting out a 10-foot section of curb with a hammer and chisel to form a driveway for her home.

"The city won't do it for me, so I have to do it myself," said Rachel Perkins Tuesday. "All they did was come out and mark off a section of the curb."

Public Works Director David Mann had objected, claiming the curb had to be cut out by a competent stonecutter.

But Mrs. Perkins, who had obtained a permit to put in a driveway, replied: "If I can drive a bus and build two houses, I can cut curbs. "Only last week I dug a 175-foot ditch to drain one of my homes in Angola."

Scientists Disagree

They Leave Many Intelligent Citizens Puzzled on Fallout

EDITOR'S NOTE—As the fallout from last fall's series of Soviet tests enters its heaviest period of descent around the globe, the United States begins its response in the Pacific. Is this contest in nuclear development polluting the world's atmosphere, or are the hazards of testing often exaggerated? This is the first of three articles.

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer

OAK RIDGE, Tenn. (AP)—The controversy over radioactive fallout from nuclear tests is boiling again.

It finds many intelligent citizens confused and puzzled, especially over the disagreements among scientists.

A few say test fallout doesn't hurt humans at all.

Many experts say there possibly or probably are some effects but so small they can never be measured.

Another says the fallout from the new U.S. test series alone might cause 300,000 persons to die early. He quickly adds a vital qualification—that this would happen during the next 2,000 years. This would average to 150 a year among the billions of humans who would be born in 2,000 years.

Other scientists put the toll from cumulative fallout far higher.

They're Not Sure

Well, the citizen may ask, who's right? Why don't scientists agree? Don't they know?

Frankly, they don't know for sure.

They can only make highly educated guesses based on indirect evidence. The fallout controversy is highly colored with emotional, humanitarian, military and political considerations.

To some observers, it is a side issue to the real problem: How can the world avoid nuclear war? Does testing make war more or less likely?

The fallout issue cannot be neatly resolved like a mathematical equation to everyone's satisfaction.

For scientists aren't postive yet whether the radiation from fallout, admittedly small, really harms human heredity and health, or how little radiation it takes to do so.

Not For Lack of Study

The scientific uncertainty does not stem from lack of trying to find these answers.

Here at the Oak Ridge National Laboratory, for instance, Dr. William L. Russell and associates have analyzed one million mice since 1950 for clues or principles concerning the effects low-level, chronic radiation might have on human heredity.

At any one time, Dr. Russell usually has 100,000 mice living in a grand mouse hotel, exposing some to radiation, then comparing them with other mice. It costs half a cent per week to feed each mouse. The total budget in these genetic studies runs about $500,000 a year.

This is but one of scores of experiments and studies here and abroad to assess human effects from radiation.

Could Leave Doubts

Human volunteers can't be used. Just one impracticality is that such experiments would take several 20-year generations or longer to detect any effects. Even then there could be doubts whether the effects truly came from fallout amounts of radiation, or from other causes.

But scientists do have some guideposts to help the citizen get some perspective in the fallout argument.

First, they are not talking about the very heavy, immediate kind of fallout which would come if bombs blew up cities. That rain of radiation could be quickly deadly, without shelter.

The concern is with tests which throw radioactive atoms high into the air, to settle down slowly. They disperse widely. Some last or stay hot for many years. They do get into people.

Secondly, human bodies have always been unavoidably a bit radioactive, since life began.

Always Getting Some

This is caused by natural or background radiation. It comes from radioactive carbon in the air and in food, and radioactive potassium in food. Atoms of uranium, thorium and radium in the ground, in rocks, in bricks and concrete buildings, are always shooting some radiation at you.

About 1,000 cosmic rays per minute strike the average human at sea level—and 2,000 per minute if you live at mile-high altitude.

All this natural radiation gives us, on the average, a dose of about 3 to 4 roentgens (units of radiation) in 30 years. That's equal to about 12 to 16 highly efficient chest X-rays.

Thirdly, all the radiation from fallout from all tests thus far has increased this exposure by about 5 per cent, on the average, most experts agree.

So—if fallout is doing anything to human inheritance, it is doing only a little more this way than the radiation which has always existed.

Crucial questions therefore involve the human effects produced by natural radiation, the added radiation from fallout, plus special effects, if any, from peculiar types of atoms in fallout.

Many scientists are working diligently to answer these points with better estimates than they now can make.

Barrings Trucks To Be Eliminated In a Few Years

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Restrictions barring heavy trucks from state roads during the spring thaw have become a "minor annoyance" and will be eliminated completely in a few years, the state public works commissioner reports.

Commissioner J. Burch McMorran said Tuesday that only 889 miles of state highways had been posted against heavy truck traffic this spring.

He said the posted road signs would be removed this week.

During the summer construction season, more than 300 miles of state highways will be improved so that they will not have to be posted again, the commissioner said.

The department posts roads against heavy traffic when it considers the highways unable to bear the weight of the trucks during the spring, when alternate thawing and freezing soften road beds.

McMorran said that improvements to highways, plus a new program that pemits periodic use of the highways for heavy traffic to and from farms, had reduced the problem to a minor annoyance.

county and town roads are poste

Besides state highways, some county and town roads are posted by local governments. A bill signed recently by Gov. Rockefeller authorizes those governments also to permit farm pickup and delivery by heavy vehicles despite the posting.

Because of the increasing use of heavy trucks for bulk milk pickups and bulk deliveries of fuel and grain, posting of roads in the spring has become a cause for concern to farmers and to their representatives in the Legislature.

Scientists Disagree

They Leave Many Intelligent Citizens Puzzled on Fallout

EDITOR'S NOTE—As the fallout from last fall's series of Soviet tests enters its heaviest period of descent around the globe, the United States begins its response in the Pacific. Is this contest in nuclear development polluting the world's atmosphere, or are the hazards of testing often exaggerated? This is the first of three articles.

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer

OAK RIDGE, Tenn. (AP)—The controversy over radioactive fallout from nuclear tests is boiling again.

It finds many intelligent citizens confused and puzzled, especially over the disagreements among scientists.

A few say test fallout doesn't hurt humans at all.

Many experts say there possibly or probably are some effects but so small they can never be measured.

Another says the fallout from the new U.S. test series alone might cause 300,000 persons to die early. He quickly adds a vital qualification—that this would happen during the next 2,000 years. This would average to 150 a year among the billions of humans who would be born in 2,000 years.

Other scientists put the toll from cumulative fallout far higher.

They're Not Sure

Well, the citizen may ask, who's right? Why don't scientists agree? Don't they know?

Frankly, they don't know for sure.

They can only make highly educated guesses based on indirect evidence. The fallout controversy is highly colored with emotional, humanitarian, military and political considerations.

To some observers, it is a side issue to the real problem: How can the world avoid nuclear war? Does testing make war more or less likely?

The fallout issue cannot be neatly resolved like a mathematical equation to everyone's satisfaction.

Not For Lack of Study

The scientific uncertainty does not stem from lack of trying to find these answers.

Here at the Oak Ridge National Laboratory, for instance, Dr. William L. Russell and associates have analyzed one million mice since 1950 for clues or principles concerning the effects low-level, chronic radiation might have on human heredity.

SPREADING THE BITE

Those who have done any thinking about the problems of financing political campaigns almost invariably arrive at the same general conclusion: a fundamental need is for a very substantial increase in the number of small contributors. This would broaden the contributions base, thus assuring parties and candidates enough campaign money without putting them in the grip of large donors. It also would give many more citizens a feeling of greater direct participation in the electoral process.

The bipartisan presidential Commission on Campaign Costs is no exception to the generalization above. In its report and recommendations the commission has focused sharply on ways of increasing the number of contributors. Tax incentives to encourage political contributions are the chief tool recommanded.

The commission also made a parallel recommendation that federal subsidies, often proposed as a means of financing campaigns, be avoided except as a last resort. This is a sensible attitude. For though having the federal government foot campaign bills might be the simplest way out, there are serious drawbacks in such a solution. Not the least of these would be the removal of that sense of intimate participation referred to above.

We agree, too, with the commission's recommendation that ceilings on giving and spending be removed, and that a Federal Registry of Election Finance be set up to publicize political contributions and what is done with them. The present unrealistic ceilings are so generally evaded that they are, as the commission says, "a mockery."

It is worth noting that the national chairmen of both major parties have given the commission's report their approval. Congress would be well advised to push ahead with legislation to bring about much-needed reform.

MANY-SIDED PROGRAM

There is such drama in separate rocket launchings that one tends to forget the broad, many-faceted nature of the nation's space program. A weather satellite goes up, a man is hurtled in orbit around the earth, an effort is made to land an instrument packet on the moon—these and other ventures are considered individually by the public, but the fact is that they are all more or less closely related.

Another pertinent factor in our space program is that there cannot be one grand progression of successes. Development of space capability is a tissue of both successes and meaningful failures. The adjective is superfluous; all failures are meaningful, in the sense that scientists and technicians learn from mistakes.

The pattern of success and failure all tending toward the same goal was neatly illustrated within a few days when an instrument package was flipped off to the moon and the giant Saturn rocket was launched. The moon attempt was a partial failure because something went wrong with the capsule's commmunications system and it became, for practical purposes, only a mass of metal. The Saturn launching was a notable success, most significant in the context of U. S. plans to send a three-man team around the earth a couple of years hence, and around the moon perhaps in 1967.

There will be other successes, other failures. And launchings are not the whole story; they are like the tip of the iceberg, with the vast complex of scientific and engineering accomplishment more or less out of sight beneath. Taken all together, our space program is moving ahead steadily and well.

QUIT GNASHING 'EM

Tension has been blamed for a variety of ailments ranging from ulcers to high blood pressure and heart attacks. Now it is blamed for certain kinds of dental trouble, also.

It seems that quite a few Americans are more or less gnashing their teeth away. Nine out of 10 of us are doing this, Dr. Ralph H. Boos of Minnesota told the Southern California Dental Association, and in the process we're cutting down the life of our teeth by 50 per cent.

This leads up to a new kind of dental prescription. To make your teeth last longer, relax.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

METHODS OF TAXATION

Representative George M. Rhodes wrote to a reader of this column as follows:

"The tax bill had my support because it would enable the Federal government to receive at least $600 million in tax revenues that escape the Treasury every year. The legislation imposes no now tax."

The method of collecting taxes is as important and can be as brutal as the tax itself. When the income tax was accepted by the American people, it was said that the tax would not become burdensome.

For most Americans, the tax takes about 26 per cent of personal income. There are, of course, deductions which give some relief, but the burden is becoming unconscionable, particularly as there is a rise in prices due, in part, to excessive corporation taxes as well as many hidden taxes.

It must be taken for granted that in this time of war, the government must have enormous sums of money. Each orbiting effort, each bomb testing, runs into millions of dollars. This burden must be carried by the American people until we are safe from conquest by Soviet Russia. Our first problem is national security.

On the other hand, the income tax is too violent a method for gathering funds for the government in a capitalist country. It destroys incentive. It leaves young people without hope. It encourages cheating. It drives surplus money out of the country.

The times require a radical approach to taxation to get the country moving. I have, for many years, recommended the transaction tax as a substitute for the personal income tax. Perhaps the transaction tax is not the best remedy, but a remedy must be found because both the personal income tax and the corporate income tax are too damaging to the morale of the country.

What is the moral basis of our economic system? It is that the individual labors to provide for himself and his family, to set aside an estate to support his old age and disabilities, to educate his children and to improve their status in the community and to leave something over for them when he dies.

All the social security devices have not succeeded in making the American people dependent upon government. Americans still want to earn their own way; want to build their own lives around a family; want to form the pattern of their own lives. This we might call the capitalist system, the free enterprise system, but a better term for it is the System of Free Individuals joined together in families and living by mutual respect and aid.

The mechanism of this system is the exchange of goods, services and labor by means of money. Government, in such a system, rightfully performs only such tasks as individuals or groups of individuals cannot perform privately. Because of war and economic miscalculation, during the past half century, the tasks that have fallen to government or which government has assumed have grown more numerous.

For instance, the task of keeping the streets clean is a proper government function, long recognized and relatively inexpensive, but the orbiting of the Earth, the search for means to control weather, the need to maintain an equality of intricate defense involve new and ultra-expensive governmental costs. These costs force upon the individual as well as upon government a restudy and a revision of the tax methods of the nation, which require a greater vigilance against cheating but a gentler approach to the individual and the corporation lest our economic system and morale be destroyed not only by the amount of taxation but by the methods of taxation. Confidence in the system of government can be destroyed by the tax collector.

From a political standpoint, this subject is extremely important. The present Administration is making a valiant effort to halt the inflation which is like a rotting disease. Psychologically the attempt to do it by means of taxes was tried by the Roosevelt Administration which used taxes to alter the social system of the country. The method prolonged the 1929 Depression until 1938.

The Kennedy Administration would be well-advised to stimulate confidence in the economy of the country and its future. No one man knows all the answers to this question of tax reform, nor can it be left to the economists alone. Hepatitis May Be Caused By Drugs or by Virus

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

So many readers express confusion about inflammations of the liver (hepatitis) that the following summary may serve to answer the questions asked:

Some forms of hepatitis are caused by drugs, particularly tranquilizers. Sometimes the inflammation caused by the tranquilizer or any other drug or chemical is due to prolonged use of excessive doses. Most often, a chemical hepatitis is the result of great sensitivity and it follows brief use of an average dose. Either way, recovery is the rule if the drug is promptly discontinued. And prompt discontinuance depends on your alertness in first noting a yellow discoloration of the whites of your eyes (jaundice).

You can avoid the danger of a drug hepatitis by postponing the use of a tranquilizer until you have made every effort to control and calm yourself by other measures. And the most important of these is self-discipline. For tranquilizers cure nothing. They merely push the dirt under the rug.

Of the infectious types of hepatitis, we Americans are mostly exposed to those of virus origin (catarrhal, jaundice). And the viruses that cause infectious hepatitis may enter our bodies in various ways. They enter our blood streams for days or weeks before we are aware of their presence and they remain there for months or years after we've recovered from an attack of catarrhal jaundice. Because of this they may be passed on to someone else if we give blood for transfusion or if the needle or syringe used for us is then used for someone else before it has been sterilized.

That is why, if you've ever had an attack of jaundice, you must never donate blood for transfusion.

Then too a virus that ordinarily produces a quite different disease, like infectious mononucleosis, may decide to attack the liver. Now you have infectious hepatitis as a complication of the "kissing disease" under which circumstance the virus may be transmitted by mouth.

Most often, however, the jaundice virus enters by way of contaminated water or food. When this happens, the virus is excreted by the bowel throughout the long period of incubation and for years after recovery. To prevent further spread of the infection, you can see the importance of thoroughly scrubbing your hands after each bathroom visit.

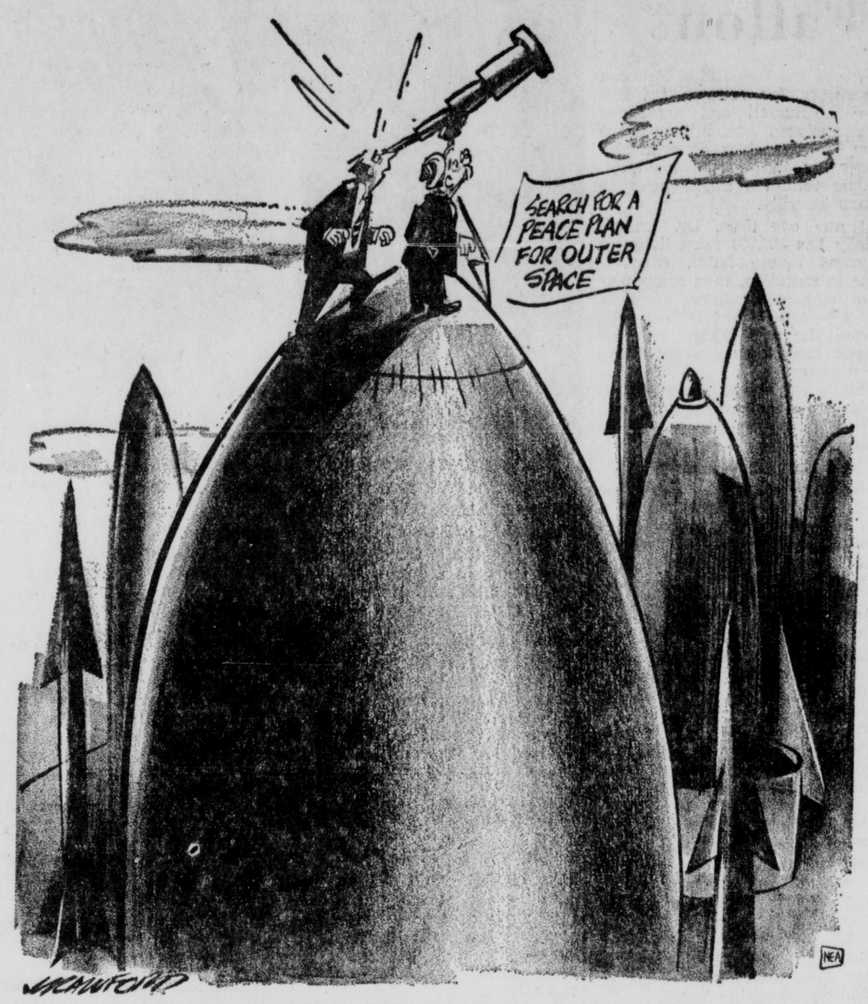
"Things Could Get Downright Dangerous Out There"



Washington News

BY PETER EDSON
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Washington — (NEA) — Next developments in President Kennedy's hold-the-line policy for prices and wages will be a couple of public, labor and management leaders' conferences in Washington.

FIRST WILL BE the regular May 1-2 meeting of the President's Advisory Committee on Labor-Management Policy.

This will be its third try to reach agreement on a broad statement of how to obtain free and responsible collective bargaining and industrial peace. Two previous drafts have been rejected. During the past month a third draft worked out by a subcommittee under David L. Cole has been circulated for consideration. If it can be approved, it will be presented to the President as a policy paper.

In more than a year's effort, the full 21-member Advisory Committee has produced only one final paper for the President, on automation.

Others still in preperation are intended to recommend programs for dealing with economic growth and unemployment, insuring that American products are competitive in world markets, sound wage and price policies.

THE SECOND MEETING to consider all these problems will be a much larger White House Conference on National Economic Issues, now scheduled for May 21-23. The idea for this gathering came from the President's Advisory Committee.

Invitations are going out to nearly 200 public, labor and management leaders suggested by Advisory Committee members. President Kennedy is scheduled to address the opening session.

Other speakers will be the following secretaries: Treasury, Dillion; Labor, Goldberg; Commerce, Hodges. If he is in the country at the time, Secretary of State Dean Rusk will review trade policy. Chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers Dr. Walter W. Heller will review the business outlook.

Speeches by government leaders will be interspersed with round table discussions in which any of the participants may get up and speak their mind.

This session is not expected to produce any resolutions or decide any policies. It will be strictly a communication meeting for free exchange of views by public, labor and management leaders. Government spokesmen will explain their programs and attempt to do selling job on the President's policies to restrain price and wage increases, curb inflation and stablize the economy.

THESE WILL BE first general meetings of labor and management leaders with government officials and representatives of the general public since the steel price increase was announced and withdrawn. This devedopment has left labor leaders sore and aggressive, employers in something of a quandry, on the defensive .

The coming meetings may therefore produce more heat than light.

Labor leaders are back where they were last December. That was when President Kennedy made his direct appeal for voluntary restraint in collective bargaining at the AFL-CIO convention in Miami Beach. Delegates rejected the idea out of hand, calling for higher wages and shorter hours. This is the organized labor position now, in spite of restraint shown in the steel wage negatiations, under government pressure.

Management representatives are definitely on something of a spot—which has been nlarged by U. S. Steel Corporation's favorable first quarter financial report, without benefit of any price increase. It is significant, however, that one of the industry representatives on the President's Advisory Committee is Inland Steel Chairman David L. Block, who was really responsible for breaking a general steel price rise.

THE STEEL PRICE controversy is also sure to be a lively topic of conversation at the Business Council's spring meeting in Hot Springs, Va., May 10. Formerly the Business Advisory Council in the Department of Commerce, this group of big business heads was cast adrift from government contracts early in the Kennedy administration.

Contrary to some reports, President Kennedy has not been invited to address this group and it is probable that no government representative will be present at its closed sessions.

Hassle Over Rights Bill Recalls Debates of 1865

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—The business of Congress has slowed down. The Senate is engaged in a "filibuster," or lengthy debate, which represents a desperate attempt by a small group of men to save the Constitution from being violated by a majority who are seeking allegedly to protect "civil rights."

If the vote to shut off debate, known as "cloture," were to succeed in getting the two-thirds majority it requires, there is a 51 per cent majority ready to pass a bill which would take away from the states the right to set the qualifications for voters. This would be an unconstitutional act, and many Senators who feel they must vote in favor of it, for political reasons back home, are secretly hoping "cloture" will fail and that the "literacy" measure will never get through both houses. Then they would presumably retain the favor of the minority groups even though the bill doesn't become law.

It's a transparent case of hypocrisy in public office. It could't happen if the American people knew all the circumstances. But the gap in communication between the people and their government is in some respects not much different from what it was nearly a century ago. Then, as now, a fraud could be perpetrated and the Constitution completely disregarded without encountering the protest that certainly would come if the people were told all the facts so that they could understand the issues.

Today, few people in the United States know, for instance, that the 14th and 15th amendments — on which the whole controversy over "civil rights" laws is based—were never legally adopted.

Few people know that the Supreme Court of the United States has repeatedly dodged the issue and refused to consider any case involving the legality of the method used in "ratifying" these two proposed amendments to the Constitution.

The alibi or excuse given is that these are questions involving the "political departments" of the government and what are termed "political questions."

Trouble in 1865

All the history books describing the events that ccurred, after the war between the states was over, agree on the facts. Both Presidents Lincoln and Johnson took the position that the Southern states had never left the union. In May 1865, after the surrender of the South President Johnson issued a proclamation of amnesty and set up provisional governments in all of the Southern states. Constitutional conventions were convened in each, and new state governments and members of Congress were elected. Before the end of the year, the new legislatures had ratified the 13th Amendement, which abolished slavery, and their action was accepted as formal ratification by legally constituted state governments. When, however, the newly elected Senators and Representatives presented themselves at the opening of Congress on December 4, 1865, they were refused admittance by the "Radical Republicans," who were in control.

These same state governments continued to function through 1866 but declined to ratify the 14th Amendment, which had been proposed by Congress in June of that year. The Republican party then pushed through in April 1867 the first of the "Reconstruction Acts." This divided the South into five military districts, imposed martial rule, and made ratification of the 14th Amendement the price for restoration of civil government and full rights in the union.

President Johnson vetoed the measure as plainly unconstitutional, but the bill was passed over his veto. Federal troops were stationed throughout the South and in one instance in a legislative chamber itself. Coercive tactics were used to set up rump legislatures, as white voters generally were disenfranchised. At the point of the bayonet, the Southern states one by one "ratified" the 14th Amendment, until the requisite number had been obtained by July, 1868.

Seward Hesitated

Secretary of State Seward, who also had served in Lincoln's cabinet and was an outstanding lawyer, hesitated to accept the "ratification" process as legal and publicly said so. Congress thereupon, by joint resolution, ordered him to proclaim the amendment to have been ratified. It had no right to do so.

The 15th amendment was similarly adopted under virtually the same conditions.

Various attempts were made in the 1870's to get the Supreme Court to take cognizance of what had been happening, but to no avail. Since those days, the high court has merely assumed the legality of the two amendments because the ratification procedure itself had never been declared invalid. Even within the last five years, efforts of lawyers to get the Supreme Court to consider this phase have proved fruitless, though the high court has taken cases with respect to controversies over the ratification of other amendments involving such points as denying the right of a state to rescind its approval even if it takes action before the requisite majority of three fourths of the states has been attained for a particular amendment.

It is not too late for the 14th and 15th amendments to be resubmitted to the states for ratification, if only to erase a disgraceful chapter in American history. It would be a fitting centennial celebration.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

ODESA, Tex., May 1–A Democratic Teapot Dome is bubbling with the deep ominous rumble of a volcano in the western plains of Vice President Lyndon Johnson's domain. Will Wilson, the Texas Attorney General, has ventured an opinion that when the full effect of the financial fantastics of Billie Sol Estes has been felt, the whole economy of the West Texas realm of cotton, grain and Federal farm subsidies will be shaken. However, Mr. Wilson is campaigning for the Democratic nomination for governor and it may be that his judgment is affected by his immediate political aspiration.

Billie Sol Estes is a native of these plains who operated out of Pecos, a useful but unsightly town of 11,000. He is 37, wears dark-rimmed spectacles which impart owlish solemnity to a naturally grave countenance, and is noted for his religious activity as a lay preacher. He has never taken a drink but he has taken many chumps. He was until recently regarded as a familiar and trusted henchman of Lyndon Johnson, and that was not mere name-dropping either, because there is factual evidence to prove their intimacy. Moreover, Estes could not resist the temptation to start a daily newspaper in Pecos and on that great occasion the paper published on page one a facsimile of a telegram from "The White House," Washington, signed "John F. Kennedy." This telegram was addressed to Preston A. Hawks, the publisher of Billie Sol's paper, which is called the Pecos Daily News. It read as follows:

"De Wa316 Government D—The White House, Washington, D. C., Dec. 26, 5:45 P. Preston A. Hawks, publisher the Pecos Daily News, Pecos, Tex.

"Congressman Rutherford has told me that the first edition of the Pecos Daily News will be published on August first. I am sure that your newspaper will play a constructive role in serving the public in Reeves County and in all Southwestern Texas. I want to take this opportunity to congratulate you and wish you all success in this new venture. John F. Kennedy."

Lyndon Johnson sent a similar message, "government paid," in his official capacity, signed with his title "Vice President of the United States." It was addressed to Preston Hawks and it said:

"Congratulations on the birth of the Pecos Daily News. May it always speak fearlessly for the people it serves and inspire new respect for the freedom and power of the press. By using that freedom with courage and wielding that power with responsibility the Pecos Daily News can open a new, important chapter of growth and achievement for this dream of horizons unlimited and vast and important region of the unafraid to fight for the progress that will make these dreams come true. Lyndon B. Johnson, Vice President of the United States."

There were similar telegrams, though not as flowery as Johnson's from Ralph Yarborough, a hearty "liberal" of the Roosevelt-Truman-Kennedy doctrine, now the senior Texas Senator, and a letter from J. T. Rutherford, known by the nickname of "Slick," the Congressman for the district in which Estes lives and has his business headquarters in a building built for that purpose. However, Estes' financial promotions extend to many other Texas counties and other states and he has conducted political activities in Washington. He bought two tables at $1,000 each for each of two Democratic holy ceremonies, the first anniversary dinner of Kennedy's Presidency and another dinner to raise money to lift the mortgage on the party which remained after the 1960 campaign. That made $4,000 for the dream of horizons unlimited on those occasions alone.

Congressman Rutherford is now barnstorming the district in the style sometimes called "whirlwind," emitting oratory pointing with pride and condemning with scorn. If he is embarrassed by his old friend's untimely arrest by the FBI under an indictment charging him with interstate transportation of fraudulent securities, he has given no sign. His telegram celebrating the creation of this glorious palladium of the people's liberties was addressed to Mr. Hawks, the publisher. It read as follows:

"I think you and my friend, Billy Sol Estes, have gathered together one of the finest newspaper staffs I have ever seen under one roof. The press has a noble function to perform for our security and I have always believed in impartial reporting of the news so the people may have the facts and I consider this to be one of the most important functions of the publishing industry."

By some malfunction, not one word was published in the News impartially reporting Estes' paraphrase of the Mississippi Bubble and the Ponzi case until the facts had been exploded by Oscar Griffin, 28, the editor of the semi-weekly Independent and Enterprise, which is published two doors away from the News. This paper was founded in 1887 and its files go back to 1911. It is "conservative." Its owners are a physician, a dentist and an accountant. Estes calls them "Birchites," but they all deny that they belong to the John Birch Society, which is very strong in Texas, however.

SPREADING THE BITE

Those who have done any thinking about the problems of financing political campaigns almost invariably arrive at the same general conclusion; a fundamental need is for a very substantial increase in the number of small contributors. This would broaden the contributions base, thus assuring parties and candidates enough campaign money without putting them in the grip of large donors. It also would give many more citizens a feeling of greater direct participation in the electoral process.

The bipartisan presidential Commission on Campaign Costs is no exception to the generalization above. In its report and recommendations the commission has focused sharply on ways of increasing the number of contributors. Tax incentives to encourage political contributions are the chief tool recommanded.

The commission also made a parallel recommendation that federal subsidies, often proposed as a means of financing campaigns, be avoided except as a last resort. This is a sensible attitude. For though having the federal government foot campaign bills might be the simplest way out, there are serious drawbacks in such a solution. Not the least of these would be the removal of that sense of intimate participation referred to above.

We agree, too, with the commission's recommendation that ceilings on giving and spending be removed, and that a Federal Registry of Election Finance be set up to publicize political contributions and what is done with them. The present unrealistic ceilings are so generally evaded that they are, as the commission says, "a mockery."

It is worth noting that the national chairmen of both major parties have given the commission's report their approval. Congress would be well advised to push ahead with legislation to bring about much-needed reform.

MANY-SIDED PROGRAM

There is such drama in separate rocket launchings that one tends to forget the broad, many-faceted nature of the nation's space program. A weather satellite goes up, a man is hurtled in orbit around the earth, an effort is made to land an instrument packet on the moon—these and other ventures are considered individually by the public, but the fact is that they are all more or less closely related.

Another pertinent factor in our space program is that there cannot be one grand progression of successes. Development of space capability is a tissue of both successes and meaningful failures. The adjective is superfluous; all failures are meaningful, in the sense that scientists and technicians learn from mistakes.

The pattern of success and failure all tending toward the same goal was neatly illustrated within a few days when an instrument package was flipped off to the moon and the giant Saturn rocket was launched. The moon attempt was a partial failure because something went wrong with the capsule's commmunications system and it became, for practical purposes, only a mass of metal. The Saturn launching was a notable success, most significant in the context of U. S. plans to send a three-man team around the earth a couple of years hence, and around the moon perhaps in 1967.

There will be other successes, other failures. And launchings are not the whole story; they are like the tip of the iceberg, with the vast complex of scientific and engineering accomplishment more or less out of sight beneath. Taken all together, our space program is moving ahead steadily and well.

QUIT GNASHING 'EM

Tension has been blamed for a variety of ailments ranging from ulcers to high blood pressure and heart attacks. Now it is blamed for certain kinds of dental trouble, also.

It seems that quite a few Americans are more or less gnashing their teeth away. Nine out of 10 of us are doing this, Dr. Ralph H. Boos of Minnesota told the Southern California Dental Association, and in the process we're cutting down the life of our teeth by 50 per cent.

This leads up to a new kind of dental prescription. To make your teeth last longer, relax.

METHODS OF TAXATION

Representative George M. Rhodes wrote to a reader of this column as follows:

"The tax bill had my support because it would enable the Federal government to receive at least $600 million in tax revenues that escape the Treasury every year. The legislation imposes no new tax."

The method of collecting taxes is as important and can be as brutal as the tax itself. When the income tax was accepted by the American people, it was said that the tax would not become burdensome.

For most Americans, the tax takes about 26 per cent of personal income. There are, of course, deductions which give some relief, but the burden is becoming unconscionable, particularly as there is a rise in prices due, in part, to excessive corporation taxes as well as many hidden taxes.

It must be taken for granted that in this time of war, the government must have enormous sums of money. Each orbiting effort, each bomb testing, runs into millions of dollars. This burden must be carried by the American people until we are safe from conquest by Soviet Russia. Our first problem is national security.

On the other hand, the income tax is too violent a method for gathering funds for the government in a capitalist country. It destroys incentive. It leaves young people without hope. It encourages cheating. It drives surplus money out of the country.

The times require a radical approach to taxation to get the country moving. I have, for many years, recommended the transaction tax as a substitute for the personal income tax. Perhaps the transaction tax is not the best remedy, but a remedy must be found because both the personal income tax and the corporate income tax are too damaging to the morale of the country.

What is the moral basis of our economic system? It is that the individual labors to provide for himself and his family, to set aside an estate to support his old age and disabilities, to educate his children and to improve their status in the community and to leave something over for them when he dies.

All the social security devices have not succeeded in making the American people dependent upon government. Americans still want to earn their own way; want to build their own lives around a family; want to form the pattern of their own lives. This we might call the capitalist system, the free enterprise system, but a better term for it is the System of Free Individuals joined together in families and living by mutual respect and aid.

The mechanism of this system is the exchange of goods, services and labor by means of money. Government, in such a system, rightfully performs only such tasks as individuals or groups of individuals cannot perform privately. Because of war and economic miscalculation, during the past half century, the tasks that have fallen to government or which government has assumed have grown more numerous.

For instance, the task of keeping the streets clean is a proper government function, long recognized and relatively inexpensive, but the orbiting of the Earth, the search for means to control weather, the need to maintain an equality of intricate defense involve new and ultra-expensive governmental costs. These costs force upon the individual as well as upon government a restudy and a revision of the tax methods of the nation, which require a greater vigilance against cheating but a gentler approach to the individual and the corporation lest our economic system and morale be destroyed not only by the amount of taxation but by the methods of taxation. Confidence in the system of government can be destroyed by the tax collector.

From a political standpoint, this subject is extremely important. The present Administration is making a valiant effort to halt the inflation which is like a rotting disease. Psychologically the attempt to do it by means of taxes was tried by the Roosevelt Administration which used taxes to alter the social system of the country. The method prolonged the 1929 Depression until 1938.

The Kennedy Administration would be well-advised to stimulate confidence in the economy of the country and its future. No one man knows all the answers to this question of tax reform, nor can it be left to the economists alone. It requires a very thorough study in which both the theoretician and the practical man play a role.

WASHINGTON—The business of Congress has slowed down. The Senate is engaged in a "filibuster," or lengthy debate, which represents a desperate attempt by a small group of men to save the Constitution from being violated by a majority who are seeking allegedly to protect "civil rights."

If the vote to shut off debate, known as "cloture," were to succeed in getting the two-thirds majority it requires, there is a 51 per cent majority ready to pass a bill which would take away from the states the right to set the qualifications for voters. This would be an unconstitutional act, and many Senators who feel they must vote in favor of it, for political reasons back home, are secretly hoping "cloture" will fail and that the "literacy" measure will never get through both houses. Then they would presumably retain the favor of the minority groups even though the bill doesn't become law.

It's a transparent case of hypocrisy in public office. It could't happen if the American people knew all the circumstances. But the gap in communication between the people and their government is in some respects not much different from what it was nearly a century ago. Then, as now, a fraud could be perpetrated and the Constitution completely disregarded without encountering the protest that certainly would come if the people were told all the facts so that they could understand the issues.

Today, few people in the United States know, for instance, that the 14th and 15th amendments — on which the whole controversy over "civil rights" laws is based—were never legally adopted.

Few people know that the Supreme Court of the United States has repeatedly dodged the issue and refused to consider any case involving the legality of the method used in "ratifying" these two proposed amendments to the Constitution.

The alibi or excuse given is that these are questions involving the "political departments" of the government and what are termed "political questions."

Trouble in 1865

All the history books describing the events that ccurred, after the war between the states was over, agree on the facts. Both Presidents Lincoln and Johnson took the position that the Southern states had never left the union. In May 1865, after the surrender of the South President Johnson issued a proclamation of amnesty and set up provisional governments in all of the Southern states. Constitutional conventions were convened in each, and new state governments and members of Congress were elected. Before the end of the year, the new legislatures had ratified the 13th Amendement, which abolished slavery, and their action was accepted as formal ratification by legally constituted state governments. When, however, the newly elected Senators and Representatives presented themselves at the opening of Congress on December 4, 1865, they were refused admittance by the "Radical Republicans," who were in control.

These same state governments continued to function through 1866 but declined to ratify the 14th Amendment, which had been proposed by Congress in June of that year. The Republican party then pushed through in April 1867 the first of the "Reconstruction Acts." This divided the South into five military districts, imposed martial rule, and made ratification of the 14th Amendement the price for restoration of civil government and full rights in the union.

President Johnson vetoed the measure as plainly unconstitutional, but the bill was passed over his veto. Federal troops were stationed throughout the South and in one instance in a legislative chamber itself. Coercive tactics were used to set up rump legislatures, as white voters generally were disenfranchised. At the point of the bayonet, the Southern states one by one "ratified" the 14th Amendment, until the requisite number had been obtained by July, 1868.

Seward Hesitated

Secretary of State Seward, who also had served in Lincoln's cabinet and was an outstanding lawyer, hesitated to accept the "ratification" process as legal and publicly said so. Congress thereupon, by joint resolution, ordered him to proclaim the amendment to have been ratified. It had no right to do so.

The 15th amendment was similarly adopted under virtually the same conditions.

Various attempts were made in the 1870's to get the Supreme Court to take cognizance of what had been happening, but to no avail. Since those days, the high court has merely assumed the legality of the two amendments because the ratification procedure itself had never been declared invalid. Even within the last five years, efforts of lawyers to get the Supreme Court to consider this phase have proved fruitless, though the high court has taken cases with respect to controversies over the ratification of other amendments involving such points as denying the right of a state to rescind its approval even if it takes action before the requisite majority of three fourths of the states has been attained for a particular amendment.

It is not too late for the 14th and 15th amendments to be resubmitted to the states for ratification, if only to erase a disgraceful chapter in American history. It would be a fitting centennial celebration.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

ODESA, Tex., May 1—A Democratic Teapot Dome is bubbling with the deep ominous rumble of a volcano in the western plains of Vice President Lyndon Johnson's domain. Will Wilson, the Texas Attorney General, has ventured an opinion that when the full effect of the financial fantastics of Billie Sol Estes has been felt, the whole economy of the West Texas realm of cotton, grain and Federal farm subsidies will be shaken. However, Mr. Wilson is campaigning for the Democratic nomination for governor and it may be that his judgment is affected by his immediate political aspiration.

Billie Sol Estes is a native of these plains who operated out of Pecos, a useful but unsightly town of 11,000. He is 37, wears dark-rimmed spectacles which impart owlish solemnity to a naturally grave countenance, and is noted for his religious activity as a lay preacher. He has never taken a drink but he has taken many chumps. He was until recently regarded as a familiar and trusted henchman of Lyndon Johnson, and that was not mere name-dropping either, because there is factual evidence to prove their intimacy. Moreover, Estes could not resist the temptation to start a daily newspaper in Pecos and on that great occasion the paper published on page one a facsimile of a telegram from "The White House," Washington, signed "John F. Kennedy." This telegram was addressed to Preston A. Hawks, the publisher of Billie Sol's paper, which is called the Pecos Daily News. It read as follows:

"De Wa316 Government D—The White House, Washington, D. C., Dec. 26, 5:45 P. Preston A. Hawks, publisher the Pecos Daily News, Pecos, Tex.

"Congressman Rutherford has told me that the first edition of the Pecos Daily News will be published on August first. I am sure that your newspaper will play a constructive role in serving the public in Reeves County and in all Southwestern Texas. I want to take this opportunity to congratulate you and wish you all success in this new venture. John F. Kennedy."

Lyndon Johnson sent a similar message, "government paid," in his official capacity, signed with his title "Vice President of the United States." It was addressed to Preston Hawks and it said:

"Congratulations on the birth of the Pecos Daily News. May it always speak fearlessly for the people it serves and inspire new respect for the freedom and power of the press. By using that freedom with courage and wielding that power with responsibility the Pecos Daily News can open a new, important chapter of growth and achievement for this dream of horizons unlimited and vast and important region of the unafraid to fight for the progress that will make these dreams come true. Lyndon B. Johnson, Vice President of the United States."

There were similar telegrams, though not as flowery as Johnson's from Ralph Yarborough, a hearty "liberal" of the Roosevelt-Truman-Kennedy doctrine, now the senior Texas Senator, and a letter from J. T. Rutherford, known by the nickname of "Slick," the Congressman for the district in which Estes lives and has his business headquarters in a building built for that purpose. However, Estes' financial promotions extend to many other Texas counties and other states and he has conducted political activities in Washington. He bought two tables at $1,000 each for each of two Democratic holy ceremonies, the first anniversary dinner of Kennedy's Presidency and another dinner to raise money to lift the mortgage on the party which remained after the 1960 campaign. That made $4,000 for the dream of horizons unlimited on those occasions alone.

Congressman Rutherford 's now barnstorming the district in the style sometimes called "whirlwind," emitting oratory pointing with pride and condemning with scorn. If he is embarrassed by his old friend's untimely arrest by the FBI under an indictment charging him with interstate transportation of fraudulent securities, he has given no sign. His telegram celebrating the creation of this glorious palladium of the people's liberties was addressed to Mr. Hawks, the publisher. It read as follows:

"I think you and my friend, Billy Sol Estes, have gathered together one of the finest newspaper staffs I have ever seen under one roof. The press has a noble function to perform for our security and I have always believed in impartial reporting of the news so the people may have the facts and I consider this to be one of the most important functions of the publishing industry."

By some malfunction, not one word was published in the News impartially reporting Estes' paraphrase of the Mississippi Bubble and the Ponzi case until the facts had been exploded by Oscar Griffin, 28, the editor of the semi-weekly Independent and Enterprise, which is published two doors away from the News. This paper was founded in 1887 and its files go back to 1911. It is "conservative." Its owners are a physician, a dentist and an accountant. Estes calls them "Birchites," but they all deny that they belong to the John Birch Society, which is very strong in Texas, however.

It disturbs me when a whole community.....decides airplanes aren't worth the noise. Noise is a serious problem, but it is interesting that the people of isolated Berlin...don't complain about airplane noise. The people in our cities aren't dependent on airplanes to this extent—fortunately—but they are a lot more dependent than they think.

One cannot help wondering whether the good that has been done by program after program of foreign aid is in danger of being undone by the image of America as it appears on program after program on the television screens of the world... In the countries of Asia, Africa and Latin America there are thousands of young idealistic people who want more from television than the ideals of Tombstone and Dead Man's Gulch.

Legion, VFW Oppose Cut Of Guard

INDIANTOWN GAP, Pa. (AP)—Two of Pennsylvania's most powerful veterans' organizations—the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars—were officially on record today opposing a Defense Department proposal cutting the National Guard.

The legion and VFW joined with eight other veterans' groups Tuesday in protesting the controversial cutback in telegrams to State Adjutant General Malcolm Hay.

"In keeping with the mandates of the Veterans of Foreign Wars . . . the officers and members of the Department of Pennsylvania urge you (Hay) to most vigorously oppose with all the implements at your command the recently proposed cutback," declared John T. Radko, commander of the State VFW.

A similar telegram was sent by George Bruno, state legion commander. It read:

"You have the complete support and cooperation of the American Legion, Department of Pennsylvania, in opposing the proposed elimination of 19 units of the Pennsylvania Army National Guard."

Hay has been fighting the proposal since it was first announced last week.

The Defense Department seeks to reduce the National Guard by 37,000 men and the reserves by 21,000 men. The proposal would chop about 2,000 men from the Pennsylvania National Guard.

On Monday, Maj. Gen. Henry K. Fluck, commanding officer of Pennsylvania's famed 28th Infantry Division, voiced his opposition to the proposal.

First Negro Hired

ORANGE, Va. (AP)— The Virginia Metal Products Corp. has hired the first Negro in its 25 years of existence.

A spokesman said Tuesday the move was designed to protect defense contracts carrying racial non-discriminatory employment clauses.

The employe, Howard Ware, 19, of Orange, a 1961 graduate of George Washington High in Rapidan, was assigned to clerical work.

Four Are Burned In Orange Blast

HARRIMAN, N.Y. (AP) — Two company employes and two Middletown firemen suffered burns today in a fire that followed an explosion at the Nepra Chemical Co.

Debris was thrown 300 feet. The fire destroyed part of the one-story concrete building in the rear of the main building at the plant.

Charles Houghtaling, 41, of Goshen, night supervisor at the plant, was admitted to Goshen Hospital with serious burns

William Lebeau, 39, of Newburgh, another employe of the company, was treated at the hospital and released.

The names of the firemen were not released.

The one-story building contained a 2,000-gallon tank of solvent used in processing chemicals, but the fire did not ignite the solvent.

A company spokesman said the fire was not expected to hamper operations seriously.

Charges Are Dismissed Against Korea General

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—South Korean strongman Gen. Chung-hee Park today quashed a sentence of life imprisonment against the ruling military junta's former front man, Lt. Gen. Chang Do-young.

Park dismissed charges that Chang had tried to obstruct the military coup which overthrew the parliamentary governmen' last May 16 and then tried to take full control of the junta.

Chang, army chief of staff at the time of the coup, became premier and chairman of the junta after the coup but Park, the architect of the coup, was the real power.

New Appointments Announced by IBM

RAYMOND J. ARMATER

LEO F. KILCOYNE

FRANKLIN G. CRUSIUS

EDWIN C. GERLACK

ERNEST K. FRIEDLI

Richard J. Whalen, general manager of the IBM Data Systems Division plant in Kingston, today announced five new appointments of area men to key positions at the plant.

They included Raymond J. Armater of Kingston as new products and programs manager; Leo F. Kilcoyne as industrial engineer manager; Franklin G. Crusius as financial services manager; Edwin C. Gerlack as superitendent of the second shift plant operations and Ernest K. Friedli as industrial and manufacturing engineering manager.

R. J. ARMATER

In his new position Armater is responsible for the coordination of new product activity in both the military and commercial programs.

A graduate of Kingston High School, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Armater Sr. of Route 209, Hurley.

Armater joined IBM in August, 1948 in the production control department at the Poughkeepsie plant. He held several managerial positions there until late in 1954 when he was named manager of production control in early SAGE computer development. He was named assistant to the production manager in that area in early 1955 at Kingston and contract negotiator, production and facilities contracts one year later. In March, 1958 he was named contracts manager, contracts administration and in April, 1961 senior marketing representative, SAC Control System, a post he has held until his present appointment.

Armater is a member of the Ulster Grand Jurors Association and Theta Delta Chi fraternity. He received a bachelor of arts degree from Williams College, Williamstown, Mass.

He, his wife and children Elissa, 9, and Raymond, 4, reside on 84 Washington Ave., Kingston.

Leo F. Kilcoyne

Kilcoyne will now be responsible for all cost and measurement activity and operation and long range plant planning activity.

Kilcoyne joined IBM in June, 1955 as a production scheduler at the Kingston plant. In early 1956 he was named assistant to the production division manager in production control and one year later manager of engineering changes. In November, 1958 he was named project manager of production control and in late 1960 new products coordinator on the works manager's staff, a position he has held until his present appointment.

Kilcoyne is president of the Hudson Valley Philharmonic Society and chairman of the Sight Conservation Committee of the Lions Club. He received a bachelor of science degree in mathematics from the University of Massachusetts.

He, his wife Julie, and children Maura, 14 months, and Diane, 2 weeks, reside on Forest Hill Drive, Kingston.

F. G. CRUSIUS

Crusius is responsible for providing all pricing and financial data for Kingston government proposals and commercial programs.

He joined IBM in September, 1950 as a timekeeper at the Poughkeepsie plant. The following year he was named a cost accountant in the cost accounting department and in November, 1954 he was transferred to the cost accounting department in the Kingston organization in a similar position. In April, 1955 he was named manager of cost accounting and one year later technical assistant to the works accountant. He was named manager of financial planning in July, 1957 and administrative assistant to the controller in August, 1959, a post he has held until his present appointment.

He is a member of the National Association of Accountants and is finance chairman of the Ulster County Council of Girl Scouts. He received a bachelor of arts degree in business administration from St. Lawrence University.

Crusius, his wife Margaret [illegible] children Nancy, 13, and [illegible]gy Lynne, 10, reside on 9 [illegible] Street, Rolling Meadows, Hurley.

E. C. Gerlack

Gerlack is responsible for all direct manufacturing operations on second and third shifts and administratively responsible for all other plant operations on second and third shifts.

He is the son of Mrs. Mary Gerlack of Sherry Lane, Kingston.

Gerlack joined IBM in November, 1946 in the assembly area at the Poughkeepsie plant. He served in several manufacturing positions there and at the IBM plant in Endicott. He was transferred from Poughkeepsie to the Kingston plant in July, 1955 as manager of pluggable units assembly. He then served in several manufacturing managerial posts until he was named a project manager in manufacturing assembly in mid-1956. He continued in this post on several manufacturing projects, including IBM 7030 (STRETCH) computer final assembly, until early 1962, when he was named project manager of second shift plant operations, a post he has held until his present appointment.

Gerlack, his wife Joan and children Edwin Jr. 2, Brian, 1, and Mary Frances, 5 months, reside on Sherry Lane.

E. K. Friedli

Friedli has the overall responsibility for plant planning, all plant manufacturing methods and processes, and all cost and work measurement activity.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Anderson of West Hurley.

Friedli joined IBM in March, 1947 as an engineering trainee at Endicott. He was transferred to the Poughkeepsie plant the following year as a design engineer. After advancing through several technical positions there, he attended the administrative training program, corporate headquarters, in early 1953, returning to Poughkeepsie in December of that year. One year later he was transferred to San Jose, Calif., as project manager in pilot production and was named assistant manager of product engineering in May, 1957.

In early 1958, Friedli was transferred to the General Products Division headquarters, White Plains, as an administrative assistant and in mid-1959 he joined the Data Systems Division headquarters, White Plains, as assistant for equipment scheduling. He was transferred to the Kingston plant in February, 1961 as an IBM 7030 (STRETCH) program administrator and was named administrative assistant in the office of the works manager later that year, a post he has held until his present appointment.

He received a bachelor of science degree in mechanical engineering from Duke University.

Friedli, his wife Sheila and children Kipp, 7, and Brett, 4, reside on 7 Woodward Road, Poughkeepsie.

Union Spokesman Offers to Debate Hercules Manager

Robert R. Wright, international representative of District 50, Local 13226, United Mine Workers of America, today said he was willing to debate the issues of a strike at Hercules Powder Company plant, Port Ewen, with the works manager, D. C. Parker.

There are 430 union members away from their jobs at the plant, where pickets are marching in "orderly fashion." The work stoppage occurred at midnight Monday.

Wright said today "The union has no dispute with the company wage offer. This strike has been forced on us by the refusal of the company to recognize a basic principle in good labor-management relations, the opportunity to settle honest differences of opinion by submitting such differences to an impartial third party, a qualified arbitrator for final decision."

In a statement, Works Manager Parker said:

Prior to the actual work stoppage, Hercules had offered increases of seven, eight and nine cents an hour in various wage categories and one cent increase in shift differentials. In addition the company has offered improvements in the pension plan, increasing by 10 per cent the applicable minimum benefit and has agreed to pay the increased cost of Blue Cross premiums for employes during the term of the new contract.

"We fell so strongly as to the justice of our stand on the issues involved in this strike that I am willing to debate them publicly with Mr. Parker, works manager," Wright said.

He added that "We point out that the fact-finding board appointed by President Kennedy to study possible amendments to the Federal Labor-Management Act concurs with the position of our union in its report."

Motorist Jailed

Henry R. Rowles, 28, of Box 54, Mt. Marion Park, was arrested in Saugerties Tuesday by Officer Donald Sullivan on a charge of operating an unregistered vehicle. Before Justice G. Thomas Rea Jr., a $25 fine or 25 days in jail was imposed. Unable to pay the fine he was committed to the county jail.

Copper Miners Strike

NDOLA, Northern Rhodesia (AP)—More than 30,000 African miners struck at seven mines in Northern Rhodesia's copper belt today, demanding wages and vacation benefits equal to those given white workers.

2 Held as Drunk Drivers, 2 on Assault Charges

A driver was charged with driving while intoxicated and a traffic light infraction early today another was booked late Tuesday night on a charge of driving while intoxicated and two men were charged with assault.

Thomas Joseph Malone, 38, of RD 2, Box 91-A, Kingston, was booked on the two charges after a reported accident at Fair and Pearl Streets. City Judge Joseph D. Saccoman today adjourned the case to Thursday to permit him time to obtain counsel.

A report by officers Meyer Levy and Joseph Kivlan, said the other car involved in the mishap was driven by Robert W. Middaugh, 37, of 10 Center Street, who reported an injury of the left shoulder.

Samuel Lee Jackson, 36, of Gardiner also charged with driving while intoxicated, pleaded guilty today and was given the choice of paying a $100 fine or spending 10 days in jail. The fine was not immediately paid. The arrest on Ann Street was by officers Anthony Turck and Robert Bonesteel.

Thomas Jameson, 19, of 235 Main Street, was charged with third degree assault by Ramond Navara, of the Town of Ulster last night. The case was put over to May 9 to permit him time to obtain counsel.

Robert Harvey, 21, of 114 O'Neil Street, was arrested yesterday on a warrant charging third degree assault. Shelby Jean Mowell, of Esopus, was listed as complainant. The case was put over to May 8 to permit the defendant time to obtain counsel.

Study Mass Transit

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency is trying to find out whether commuters might leave their cars at home and take a bus or train to work if mass transit systems were improved.

Robert C. Weaver, administrator of the agency, said it hoped to answer that question through a series of demonstration grants, the first of which has already been approved for Detroit.

His testimony came Tuesday as a House banking subcommittee opened hearings on the Kennedy administration's proposed $500-million mass transit program.

Man, 70, Dies Of Seizure at Accident Scene

Excitement over an automobile accident which happened in front of his home on Route 32, Modena, was the cause of death of a 70-year-old man last night.

Fred Bernard, who resided north of the cemetery intersection, had been under the care of Dr. C. F. Meekins of Highland for a heart ailment.

About 9:15 p. m. a car owned by Arthur Engle, R.D., Highland, and apparently operated by his daughter, was traveling north when it went off the easterly shoulder of the highway and struck a utility pole. She was injured about the head, suffering from possible nose fracture and laceration of the face.

Mr. Bernard went to the scene of the accident and apparently fainted. When Dr. H. H. Janssen of New Paltz arrived, he pronounced him dead.

The Modena Fire Department responded and attempted to revive Mr. Bernard. Coroner Francis J. McCardle was notified and on investigation learned the man had been under the care of Dr. Meekins for some time. The body was taken to the Sutton Funeral Home, Highland.

State Police from Highland conducted an investigation of the accident. In the excitement at the scene the driver of the car was removed from the scene and police did not secure her name or age. The matter is still under investigation.

Downtown Man Is To Be Sentenced In Girl's Attack

An investigation has been under way for some time by the District Attorney's office and the Kingston police into complaints of young girls being molested, particularly in the downtown section of the city.

A grand jury investigation has also been under way in regard to an alleged "ring" which is operating in the city, involving young girls and men.

A 15-year-old girl who resides in the uptown section of the city, reported she had been attacked last Friday in an unoccupied building downtown.

Today Robert Duncan, 19, of 2 Post Street, faced City Judge Joseph Saccoman on a charge of having attacked the girl. In City court a plea of guilty to statutory rape was entered and Judge Saccoman set the matter down for sentence on Thursday.

The arrest of Duncan follows an investigation which has been under way for several months of complaints of attacks on girls and women downtown. The conviction of Duncan in City Court today, Assistant District Attorney Ward W. Ingalsbe Jr., stated is the first conviction which has resulted since the misconduct allegations involving young girls and men has been under way.

Duncan is now on probation from Dutchess County Court.

Long Debate Due

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House today takes up a bill that promises to revolutionize world communications.

It would set up a new kind of semiprivate corporation to control a global network of space satellite relay stations, eventually capable of instantly flashing telegraph and voice messages and even television pictures anywhere around the earth.

Sara Deyo Dies, Former Head of Vassar Nurses

Miss Sara Elting Deyo, 98, of 25 Main Street, New Paltz, former superintendent of nursing at Vassar Hospital, Poughkeepsie, died this morning at her home following a long illness.

Born in New Paltz, Sept. 28, 1863, the daughter of the late Theodore and Mary Elting Deyo, she was educated in New Paltz schools. In 1891 she went to Vassar Hospital as general assistant to the superintendent of nurses. Miss Deyo entered the hospital's school of nursing in 1894, graduating in 1896.

From 1898 to 1907 she served as superintendent of nurses at the Poughkeepsie hospital, leaving to become official nurse at Lake Mohonk House, a post she held until 1937. She also was in charge of health work at New Paltz Normal School, now State University College, from 1920 to 1922.

Miss Deyo was a member of the New Paltz Reformed Church and the Ladies Aid of the church as well as Vassar Alumnae.

Surviving are three nieces, Mrs. Alfred P. Ferris of Old Lyme, Conn., Mrs. Gertrude Perrault of Newark, N. J. and Mrs. Reynold E. Church of Bronxville.

Funeral services will be held Friday 2 p. m. at the New Paltz Reformed Church with the Rev. Gerret J. Wullschleger, pastor, officiating. Burial will be in New Paltz Rural Cemetery. Friends may call at the Pine Funeral Home Inc., New Paltz, Thursday evening.

DIED

Memoriam

In loving memory of my dear sister, Viola Sickler, who passed away seven years ago today, May 2, 1955.
The roses in memory's garden
Never fade away.
But the one who died seven years ago,
Is the one I miss today.
Sister, MRS. A. SINGER

Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear mother and grandmother, Grace B. Longto, who died 14 years ago today, May 2, 1948.
It's not the tears at the moment shed.
That tells how loved was the soul that fled;
'Tis the silent tears frequently wept.
And a sweet remembrance forever kept.
SONS, DAUGHTERS and GRANDCHILDREN

Memoriam

A memory verse to my wife, Viola Sickler, who passed away seven years ago today, May 2, 1955.
The things you longed and hoped for,
God knew would bring you pain;
So in the blest hereafter,
This trial he'll explain.
Then ever trust thy Master,
Who doeth all things well;
He loveth more than heart can know
And more than tongue can tell.
Be still and trust tomorrow's tears
May all be wiped away.
By God Himself, O grieving heart,
My Lord may come today.
Husband, EARL

Memoriam

In loving memory of my dear husband, Arthur W. Hecht, who departed this life one year ago, May 2nd, 1961.
I cannot say, and I will not say
That he is dead. He is just away!
With a cheery smile and a wave of the hand
He has wandered into an unknown land,
And left us dreaming how very fair
It needs must be, since he lingers there.
And you—O you, who the wildest yearn
For the old-time step and the glad return—
Think of him as faring on, as dear
In the love of there as the love of here;
Think of him still as the same, I say;
He is not dead—he is just away!
Loving Wife, MINERVA

Faubus to Seek 5th

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Arkansas Gov. Orval E. Faubus said today he will run for an unprecedented fifth term.

Faubus called a news conference in his office and said he had changed his mind and decided not to retire after all.

He had said in a statewide television speech March 31 that he would bow out of politics, at least temporarily, to rest and write a book about his side of the Little Rock integration controversy.

Faubus will be running against former Gov. Sid McMath, the man who introduced him into politics.

An estimated 2 million types of animals have been classified since the 18th Century.

RAYMOND J. ARMATER

FRANKLIN G. CRUSIUS

EDWIN C. GERLACK

ERNEST K. FRIEDLI

Richard J. Whalen, general manager of the IBM Data Systems Division plant in Kingston, today announced five new appointments of area men to key positions at the plant.

They included Raymond J. Armater of Kingston as new products and programs manager; Leo F. Kilcoyne as industrial engineer manager; Franklin G. Crusius as financial services manager; Edwin C. Gerlack as superitendent of the second shift plant operations and Ernest K. Friedli as industrial and manufacturing engineering manager.

R. J. ARMATER

In his new position Armater is responsible for the coordination of new product activity in both the military and commercial programs.

A graduate of Kingston High School, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Armater Sr. of Route 209, Hurley.

Armater joined IBM in August, 1948 in the production control department at the Poughkeepsie plant. He held several managerial positions there until late in 1954 when he was named manager of production control in early SAGE computer development. He was named assistant to the production manager in that area in early 1955 at Kingston and contract negotiator, production and facilities contracts one year later. In March, 1958 he was named contracts manager, contracts administration and in April, 1961 senior marketing representative, SAC Control System, a post he has held until his present appointment.

Armater is a member of the Ulster Grand Jurors Association and Theta Delta Chi fraternity. He received a bachelor of arts degree from Williams College, Williamstown, Mass.

He, his wife and children Elissa, 9, and Raymond, 4, reside on 84 Washington Ave., Kingston.

Leo F. Kilcoyne

Kilcoyne will now be responsible for all cost and measurement activity and operation and long range plant planning activity.

Kilcoyne joined IBM in June, 1955 as a production scheduler at the Kingston plant. In early 1956 he was named assistant to the production division manager in production control and one year later manager of engineering changes. In November, 1958 he was named project manager of production control and in late 1960 new products coordinator on the works manager's staff, a position he has held until his present appointment.

Kilcoyne is president of the Hudson Valley Philharmonic Society and chairman of the Sight Conservation Committee of the Lions Club. He received a bachelor of science degree in mathematics from the University of Massachusetts.

He, his wife Julie, and children Maura, 14 months, and Diane, 2 weeks, reside on Forest Hill Drive, Kingston.

F. G. CRUSIUS

Crusius is responsible for providing all pricing and financial data for Kingston government proposals and commercial programs.

He joined IBM in September, 1950 as a timekeeper at the Poughkeepsie plant. The following year he was named a cost accountant in the cost accounting department and in November, 1954 he was transferred to the cost accounting department in the Kingston organization in a similar position. In April, 1955 he was named manager of cost accounting and one year later technical assistant to the works accountant. He was named manager of financial planning in July, 1957 and administrative assistant to the controller in August, 1959, a post he has held until his present appointment.

He is a member of the National Association of Accountants and is finance chairman of the Ulster County Council of Girl Scouts. He received a bachelor of arts degree in business administration from St. Lawrence University.

Crusius, his wife Margaret and children Nancy, 13, and Peggy Lynne, 10, reside on 9 Park Street, Rolling Meadows, Hurley.

E. C. Gerlack

Gerlack is responsible for all direct manufacturing operations on second and third shifts and administratively responsible for all other plant operations on second and third shifts.

He is the son of Mrs. Mary Gerlack of Sherry Lane, Kingston.

Gerlack joined IBM in November, 1946 in the assembly area at the Poughkeepsie plant. He served in several manufacturing positions there and at the IBM plant in Endicott. He was transferred from Poughkeepsie to the Kingston plant in July, 1955 as manager of pluggable units assembly. He then served in several manufacturing managerial posts until he was named a project manager in manufacturing assembly in mid-1956. He continued in this post on several manufacturing projects, including IBM 7030 (STRETCH) computer final assembly, until early 1962, when he was named project manager of second shift plant operations, a post he has held until his present appointment.

Gerlack, his wife Joan and children Edwin Jr. 2, Brian, 1, and Mary Frances, 5 months, reside on Sherry Lane.

E. K. Friedli

Friedli has the overall responsibility for plant planning, all plant manufacturing methods and processes, and all cost and work measurement activity.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Anderson of West Hurley.

Friedli joined IBM in March, 1947 as an engineering trainee at Endicott. He was transferred to the Poughkeepsie plant the following year as a design engineer. After advancing through several technical positions there, he attended the administrative training program, corporate headquarters, in early 1953, returning to Poughkeepsie in December of that year. One year later he was transferred to San Jose, Calif., as project manager in pilot production and was named assistant manager of product engineering in May, 1957.

In early 1958 Friedli was transferred to the General Products Division headquarters, White Plains, as an administrative assistant and in mid-1959 he joined the Data Systems Division headquarters, White Plains, as assistant for equipment scheduling. He was transferred to the Kingston plant in February, 1961 as an IBM 7030 (STRETCH) program administrator and was named administrative assistant in the office of the works manager later that year, a post he has held until his present appointment.

He received a bachelor of science degree in mechanical engineering from Duke University.

Friedli, his wife Sheila and children Kipp, 7, and Brett, 4 reside on 7 Woodward Road, Poughkeepsie.

Union Spokesman Offers to Debate Hercules Manager

Robert R. Wright, International representative of District 50, Local 13226, United Mine Workers of America, today said he was willing to debate the issues of a strike at Hercules Powder Company plant, Port Ewen, with the works manager, D. C. Parker.

There are 430 union members away from their jobs at the plant, where pickets are marching in "orderly fashion." The work stoppage occurred at midnight Monday.

Wright said today "The union has no dispute with the company wage offer. This strike has been forced on us by the refusal of the company to recognize a basic principle in good labor-management relations, the opportunity to settle honest differences of opinion by submitting such differences to an impartial third party, a qualified arbitrator for final decision."

In a statement, Works Manager Parker said:

Prior to the actual work stoppage, Hercules had offered increases of seven, eight and nine cents an hour in various wage categories and one cent increase in shift differentials. In addition the company has offered improvements in the pension plan, increasing by 10 per cent the applicable minimum benefit and has agreed to pay the increased cost of Blue Cross premiums for employes during the term of the new contract.

"We fell so strongly as to the justice of our stand on the issues involved in this strike that I am willing to debate them publicly with Mr. Parker, works manager," Wright said.

He added that "We point out that the fact-finding board appointed by President Kennedy to study possible amendments to the Federal Labor-Management Act concurs with the position of our union in its report."

Motorist Jailed

Henry R. Rowles, 28, of Box 54, Mt. Marion Park, was arrested in Saugerties Tuesday by Officer Donald Sullivan on a charge of operating an unregistered vehicle. Before Justice G. Thomas Rea Jr., a $25 fine or 25 days in jail was imposed. Unable to pay the fine he was committed to the county jail.

2 Held as Drunk Drivers, 2 on Assault Charges

A driver was charged with driving while intoxicated and a traffic light infraction early today another was booked late Tuesday night on a charge of driving while intoxicated and two men were charged with assault.

Thomas Joseph Malone, 38, of RD 2, Box 91-A, Kingston, was booked on the two charges after a reported accident at Fair and Pearl Streets. City Judge Joseph D. Saccoman today adjourned the case to Thursday to permit him time to obtain counsel.

A report by officers Meyer Levy and Joseph Kivlan, said the other car involved in the mishap was driven by Robert W. Middaugh, 37, of 10 Center Street, who reported an injury of the left shoulder.

Samuel Lee Jackson, 36, of Gardiner also charged with driving while intoxicated, pleaded guilty today and was given the choice of paying a $100 fine or spending 10 days in jail. The fine was not immediately paid. The arrest on Ann Street was by officers Anthony Turck and Robert Bonesteel.

Thomas Jameson, 19, of 235 Main Street, was charged with third degree assault by Ramond Navara, of the Town of Ulster last night. The case was put over to May 9 to permit him time to obtain counsel.

Robert Harvey, 21, of 114 O'Neil Street, was arrested yesterday on a warrant charging third degree assault. Shelby Jean Mowell, of Esopus, was listed as complainant. The case was put over to May 8 to permit the defendant time to obtain counsel.

Study Mass Transit

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency is trying to find out whether commuters might leave their cars at home and take a bus or train to work if mass transit systems were improved.

Robert C. Weaver, administrator of the agency, said it hoped to answer that question through a series of demonstration grants, the first of which has already been approved for Detroit.

His testimony came Tuesday as a House banking subcommittee opened hearings on the Kennedy administration's proposed $500-million mass transit program.

Man, 70, Dies Of Seizure at Accident Scene

Excitement over an automobile accident which happened in front of his home on Route 32, Modena, was the cause of death of a 70-year-old man last night.

Fred Bernard, who resided north of the cemetery intersection, had been under the care of Dr. C. F. Meekins of Highland for a heart ailment.

About 9:15 p. m. a car owned by Arthur Engle, R.D., Highland, and apparently operated by his daughter, was traveling north when it went off the easterly shoulder of the highway and struck a utility pole. She was injured about the head, suffering from possible nose fracture and laceration of the face.

Mr. Bernard went to the scene of the accident and apparently fainted. When Dr. H. H. Janssen of New Paltz arrived, he pronounced him dead.

The Modena Fire Department responded and attempted to revive Mr. Bernard. Coroner Francis J. McCardle was notified and on investigation learned the man had been under the care of Dr. Meekins for some time. The body was taken to the Sutton Funeral Home, Highland.

State Police from Highland conducted an investigation of the accident. In the excitement at the scene the driver of the car was removed from the scene and police did not secure her name or age. The matter is still under investigation.

Downtown Man Is To Be Sentenced In Girl's Attack

An investigation has been under way for some time by the District Attorney's office and the Kingston police into complaints of young girls being molested, particularly in the downtown section of the city.

A grand jury investigation has also been under way in regard to an alleged "ring" which is operating in the city, involving young girls and men.

A 15-year-old girl who resides in the uptown section of the city, reported she had been attacked last Friday in an unoccupied building downtown.

Today Robert Duncan, 19, of 2 Post Street, faced City Judge Joseph Saccoman on a charge of having attacked the girl. In City court a plea of guilty to statutory rape was entered and Judge Saccoman set the matter down for sentence on Thursday.

The arrest of Duncan follows an investigation which has been under way for several months of complaints of attacks on girls and women downtown. The conviction of Duncan in City Court today, Assistant District Attorney Ward W. Ingalsbe Jr., stated is the first conviction which has resulted since the misconduct allegations involving young girls and men has been under way.

Duncan is now on probation from Dutchess County Court.

Long Debate Due

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House today takes up a bill that promises to revolutionize world communications.

It would set up a new kind of semiprivate corporation to control a global network of space satellite relay stations, eventually capable of instantly flashing telegraph and voice messages and even television pictures anywhere around the earth.

Sara Deyo Dies, Former Head of Vassar Nurses

Miss Sara Elting Deyo, 98, of 25 Main Street, New Paltz, former superintendent of nursing at Vassar Hospital, Poughkeepsie, died this morning at her home following a long illness.

Born in New Paltz, Sept. 28, 1863, the daughter of the late Theodore and Mary Elting Deyo, she was educated in New Paltz schools. In 1891 she went to Vassar Hospital as general assistant to the superintendent of nurses. Miss Deyo entered the hospital's school of nursing in 1894, graduating in 1896.

From 1898 to 1907 she served as superintendent of nurses at the Poughkeepsie hospital, leaving to become official nurse at Lake Mohonk House, a post she held until 1937. She also was in charge of health work at New Paltz Normal School, now State University College, from 1920 to 1922.

Miss Deyo was a member of the New Paltz Reformed Church and the Ladies Aid of the church as well as Vassar Alumnae.

Surviving are three nieces, Mrs. Alfred P. Ferris of Old Lyme, Conn., Mrs. Gertrude Perrault of Newark, N. J. and Mrs. Reynold E. Church of Bronxville.

Funeral services will be held Friday 2 p. m. at the New Paltz Reformed Church with the Rev. Gerret J. Wullschleger, pastor, officiating. Burial will be in New Paltz Rural Cemetery. Friends may call at the Pine Funeral Home Inc., New Paltz, Thursday evening.

Faubus to Seek 5th

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Arkansas Gov. Orval E. Faubus said today he will run for an unprecedented fifth term.

Faubus called a news conference in his office and said he had changed his mind and decided not to retire after all.

He had said in a statewide television speech March 31 that he would bow out of politics, at least temporarily, to rest and write a book about his side of the Little Rock integration controversy.

Faubus will be running against former Gov. Sid McMath, the man who introduced him into politics.

An estimated 2 million types of animals have been classified since the 18th Century.

DIED

Memoriam

In loving memory of my dear sister, Viola Sickler, who passed away seven years ago today, May 2, 1955.
The roses in memory's garden
Never fade away.
But the one who died seven years ago,
Is the one I miss today.

Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear mother and grandmother, Grace B. Longto, who died 14 years ago today, May 2, 1948.
It's not the tears at the moment shed,
That tells how loved was the soul that fled;
'Tis the silent tears frequently wept.
And a sweet remembrance forever kept.

Memoriam

A memory verse to my wife, Viola Sickler, who passed away seven years ago today, May 2, 1955.
The things you longed and hoped for,
God knew would bring you pain;
So in the blest hereafter,
This trial he'll explain.
Then ever trust thy Master,
Who doeth all things well;
He loveth more than heart can know
And more than tongue can tell.
Be still and trust tomorrow's tears
May all be wiped away.
By God Himself, O grieving heart,
My Lord may come today.
Husband, EARL

Memoriam

In loving memory of my dear husband, Arthur W. Hecht, who departed this life one year ago, May 2nd, 1961.
I cannot say, and I will not say
That he is dead. He is just away!
With a cheery smile and a wave of the hand
He has wandered into an unknown land,
And left us dreaming how very fair
It needs must be, since he lingers there.
And you—O you, who the wildest yearn
For the old-time step and the glad return—
Think of him as faring on, as dear
In the love of there as the love of here;
Think of him still as the same, I say;
He is not dead—he is just away!
Loving Wife, MINERVA

Elimination Will Net Small Slam

North and South have a difficult par. They must first bid the spade slam and then they have to make it.

An elimination play is indicated so North draws trumps and plays out all the clubs and diamonds.

Then he must attack the heart suit and there are two plays better than the simple finesse. One is to lead the four of hearts from dummy and let it ride. If East wins the trick he will be end played, but West will surely play a high enough heart to keep the lead and play a second heart.

The best percentage play is to cash his ace of hearts, go to dummy, lead a second heart, and rise with his queen.

This play works if West holds the king, or in the situation as it appears here. East will take the queen with the king, but will have to lead a club or a diamond, whereupon North will discard dummy's last heart and ruff in his own hand.

Unwed Mother Faces Charge for Leaving

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—An unwed mother who police said admitted abandoning an infant baby girl last week has been charged with endangering the life or health of a child.

Miss Geraldine Mack, 26, of Buffalo told police the child was born April 18 and was left on the steps of a Lutheran home last Saturday, police said.

The child was turned over to the Children's Aid Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children.

Baby Suffocates

CORTLAND, N.Y. (AP) — A five-month-old boy was suffocated Tuesday by a plastic bag used as a mattress cover in his crib.

He was Leslie F. Cole, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald C. Cole of Cortland.

Dr. Sam Mason, a physician who was called to the home, said the thin plastic bag had been used as a mattress cover beneath a sheet.

matter of Fact

To those who make lemonade from real lemons: the best cold lemonade is made by starting with boiling water. Boiling water is added to the juice of lemons, along with white sugar and the rinds of the squeezed lemons. If it is to be kept for any length of time, it is strained and a small amount of tartaric or citric acid added.

Group Is Named For Equal Rights In Job Training

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—A committee to develop a labor-management program to guarantee equal rights in apprenticeship training has been named by Gov. Rockefeller.

The group, appointed Tuesday and called the Committee for Equal Opportunity in Apprenticeship Training, includes both labor leaders and employers.

Labor unions frequently have been accused of refusing to permit Negroes to enter apprenticeship programs.

Rockefeller asked the committee to submit its recommendations before the end of the year. Earlier, he signed a bill prohibiting racial discrimination in the training programs.

Report Is Given For Industrial Safety Campaign

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—A score of 6.4 accidents per million manhours worked was registered by New York State manufacturers who took part in a 12-week occupational safety campaign.

The drive was sponsored by Associated Industries of New York State Inc. President Joseph R. Shaw said 800 companies representing almost 25 per cent of all manufacturing employes in the state participated.

The best score in the annual campaigns was 5.7 accidents per million man-hours, set last year. The highest was 22.5 in 1926, one year after the safety promotion began.

In the campaign this year, more than 457,000 persons worked 219,354,063 hours.

General Dynamics - Telecommunications of Rochester had the highest number of accident-free man-hours, 2,066,976. The general office of Westinghouse Electric Corp. in Buffalo was second with 1,090,928.

Twenty-six companies and divisions of firms had no lost-time accidents during the first quarter of the year.

How Super Shell fights high-speed knock

High-speed knock makes a sharp, high-pitched noise—like metal tapping against metal. Because it's most likely to occur in hot engines at turnpike speeds, high-speed knock is often difficult to hear.

But even though you may not hear it, high-speed knock can pound away at pistons—even lead to costly damage.

Fortunately, high-speed knock isn't too common. But Shell scientists have known about it for a long time. Ever since they pioneered the development of a substance called Alkylate to help control high-speed knock in aircraft engines. Today, Alkylate is an ingredient in Super Shell gasoline.

WILLIAM J. PENROSE

Named Manager, Manufacturing, at Local IBM Plant

The appointment of William J. Penrose of Kingston as manufacturing manager has been announced by Richard J. Whalen, general manager of the IBM Data Systems Division plant at Kingston.

In his new position, Penrose is responsible for all manufacturing operations of the Kingston plant.

Penrose joined IBM in early 1941 as an inspector in quality control at the Endicott plant. He advanced through several quality administrative positions there to the post of manager of commercial products receiving inspection in late 1951. In April, 1955 he was transferred to the Kingston plant as project manager of quality control and was named division manager there two years later, In May, 1961 he was named plant planning manager, post he has held until his present appointment.

Penrose is a member of the Spring Lake Fire Department, Wiltwyck Country Club and has served as secretary, vice chairman and chairman of the Binghamton Chapter American Society for Quality Control.

He, his wife Margaret and daughter Jeanne, 13, reside on Miller's Lane Extension.

Elimination Will Net Small Slam

BY OSWALD JACOBY

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

North and South have a difficult par. They must first bid the spade slam and then they have to make it.

An elimination play is indicated so North draws trumps and plays out all the clubs and diamonds.

Then he must attack the heart suit and there are two plays better than the simple finesse. One is to lead the four of hearts from dummy and let it ride. If East wins the trick he will be end played, but West will surely play a high enough heart to keep the lead and play a second heart.

The best percentage play is to cash his ace of hearts, go to dummy, lead a second heart, and rise with his queen.

This play works if West holds the king, or in the situation as it appears here. East will take the queen with the king, but will have to lead a club or a diamond, whereupon North will discard dummy's last heart and ruff in his own hand.

Unwed Mother Faces Charge for Leaving

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—An unwed mother who police said admitted abandoning an infant baby girl last week has been charged with endangering the life or health of a child.

Miss Geraldine Mack, 26, of Buffalo told police the child was born April 18 and was left on the steps of a Lutheran home last Saturday, police said.

The child was turned over to the Children's Aid Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children.

Program Arranged by Bar Assn.

Law Day Is Observed In County Court Here

"Law Day, U.S.A." born as a refutation of the Red "May Day," was observed by members of the Ulster County Bar Association Tuesday afternoon with a ceremony held in conjunction with the April term of County Court.

The ceremony, held in the court room in the presence of members of the Ulster County Bar Association and the public, was instituted when President Hugh R. Elwyn of the Bar Association named a committee to arrange the observance in accordance with proclamation by President Kennedy, Governor Rockefeller and Mayor John J. Schwenk.

Scouts Take Part

Heading the committee was Bernard A. Feeney Jr., who presided at the opening when the Colors were advanced by members of Troop 12, Old Dutch Church, and the Pledge of Allegiance was recited. Thomas McCullough, led in the pledge and members of the color guard were Richard Clausi and Donald Temple.

Hugh R. Elwyn spoke, noting that this was the fifth anniversary of the ceremony and the fourth at which he had presided, twice as chairman of the Bar committee, and twice as president of the Bar. He spoke of the responsibility of the legal profession in bringing to the attention of all the great American heritage "liberty under law" and outlined briefly the liberty which is ours and noted that "where there is law there is liberty."

Have Richest Heritage

County Judge Mino in addressing the group said "we have cause for celebration because we are the beneficiaries of the richest heritage of liberty under the law in the history of civilized people."

Law Day is set apart by proclamation to "recognize the place of law in American life," Judge Mino stated and he said that "law is the intangible force that makes freedom and progress possible, it is law that brings order into the affairs of men, that enables them to lift their sights above mere survival, to accumulate possessions, to develop the arts, to pursue knowledge, and to enjoy life among their fellows."

Gives Each Security

Judge Mino said that "law gives the individual citizen security he could obtain in no other way; it protects the family and other groups organized for the advancement of common interests; it permits the growth of great cities and the development of enterprises, large and small. It is the cement that holds our free society together."

He said the court of law is "one of the cornerstones of our structure if government under law" and every American judge presides over a court "dedicated to the living American ideal of equality under law."

Judges, attorneys and all citizens as litigants or jurors, share the "profound responsibility of preserving, strengthening and passing on to future generations our judicial system which unconditionally guarantees equal justice under law to even the most humble among us." This guarantee is a vital part of our heritage as American citizens, Judge Mino said.

Need Love of Liberty

To keep alive this ideal of equal justice in this day of dictators who have replaced law with force throughout much of the world, "we need the same passionate love of liberty, dedication to ideal, respect for law, and faith in Divine guidance which inspired our pioneer forefathers to found this free nation as an example to liberty loving people everywhere."

Judge Mino called on everyone to, in his own way, "rededicate ourselves to that solemn task, to preserve and pass on to the citizens of tomorrow the heritage of liberty under law which is theirs.

Supreme Court Justice Louis G. Bruhn said Judge Mino had "quite adequately capsulated the feeling of reverence that all of us hold for the law which is unquestionably the strongest coagulant of our democratic society."

Justice Bruhn said Law Day was born as a "refutation of the Red May Day, which in contrast to our observance, is identified by displays of force and might and military strength." Through fear engendered by such force "almost half the world is compelled to follow the communist line," he said.

Force Seeks to Bury Freedom

"Time was when civilized people used to build walls around their settlements and towns to keep barbarians out but now barbarians build walls to keep civilized people in," he said. He said this was an "insidious force" seeking to bury us and he said we must come forward with the answer of how our nation can cope with an "implacable enemy" who knows only the "law of the

"In a country where man is so recognized as a human being and not as a creature of the state, there should be no difficulty in convincing our citizens that we still are the greatest land on the face of the earth," Justice Bruhn said. He said we should stand up and be counted and in no uncertain tone proclaim that "I am an American."

Must Trust in God

In conclusion he said "So long as we entrust our future to our faith in God all of our fears, whether from outside or in, will dissipate like ground fog in the sun, and we shall continue to go forward as a nation where all men are created equal and endowed by their Creator with the inalienable rights of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness."

Members of the committee serving with Attorney Feeney were: Robert MacKinnon, Robert Ronder, John Larkin, Francis Vogt, Seymour Werbalowsky, Richard Griggs, Daniel Lamb, James Matthews, William Curran, James Murray, Richard Lent, Stewart Schantz, Kirtland Snyder and Louis Canino.

Gary Easy Victor

had no opposition Tuesday. Three others won their races.

The only incumbent congressman in Oklahoma with a primary fight, Rep. Victor Wickersham of Mangum, led three foes in his bid for a second term but not enough to avoid a runoff. His probable opponent is state Rep. Jim Bullard. Rep. Carl Albert, the House majority leader, has no primary or Republican opposition.

In the Oklahoma gubernatorial primary campaign Gary, an independent oil company operator from Madill, near the Texas border, had opposed proposals to reapportion the state legislature according to the state constitution. This would have given voters in urban areas a larger voice in the rurally dominated legislature.

In Alabama all seven candidates pledged to fight for racial segregation in that state.

Floor Fight Looms

WASHINGTON (AP)—A possible floor fight over President Kennedy's trade expansion program loomed today at the annual meeting of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce.

The specific bone of contention is the provision to help domestic firms and workers injured by import conditions.

A dissenting group of chamber members, it was reported, favors fewer instead of more federal adjustment benefits to cushion the impact of rising imports as tariffs are reduced gradually.

Police Board . . .

majority party "in pursuing the subject to a more ridiculous conclusion than has already been reached at Monticello (the decision of Supreme Court Justice MacAffer). The judge, he noted, ruled that the first committee "was not even a legally constituted committee."

Since the mayor is the only duly elected official on the police board, who is responsible to the people of the city, Carroll said, and since he is the appointing official, "I fail to see any valid reason why this legislative body should concern itself with whether or not the mayor has suggested or requested the resignation of any member of the board."

It was his opinion, Carroll said, that "when the mayor feels that when any official appointed by him is not serving to the best interest of the people, it is not only his right, but his duty to ask for his resignation."

He's Outnumbered

Carroll said he was amused at the weeping of crocodile tears over reported coercion or intimidation, and contended that their concern "is as phony as a three-dollar bill. How, I ask you, can one man with one vote, coerce or intimidate four men with four votes?"

"And what is this big deal about the mayor's executive assistant revealing information about the meeting to the public?" he asked. "The mayor has already stated that his executive assistant wrote a letter five days after the board meeting to Tom Lacue of WGHQ, correcting misinformation that Lacue broadcast four days before on the day following the board meeting."

Cites Board Approval

The mayor, said Carroll, had authorized and approved the letter, "which plainly stated that the information disclosed to Lacue was privileged and for his own correct information. Furthermore, the Board of Police Commissioners, itself unanimously approved the sending of the letter to Lacue."

The proposed investigation Carroll felt, was a move of "sore losers" and while this "energy and commotion" is under way, he held, "many important issues have been passed off, and the people of the city have been poorly represented by an obstructionist majority party whose only desire is to get even with the men who beat them in last November's election."

Edward J. Schrowang, (R) First Ward, said he failed to see the need of the investigation. He saw the move as a dangerous precedent which could lead to a probe of all city boards on slight provocation.

Could Be Vetoed

Hastings said he did not feel that the investigation would set a precedent, and it could result in the clearing of several questionable points. "We live in the United States, not in Russia," he said, and he felt that if a member of a board is advised to resign for lack of agreement the aldermen were entitled to know about it.

The resolution adopted last night, Hastings noted, must go to the mayor, and it will be up to him whether or not to veto it. He recalled that the mayor said at the time the other committee was named that he would be glad to cooperate.

Alderman Robert P. Slover, (R) Fourth Ward, felt that committees could be formed for a lot more important matters. He felt the investigation "would not accomplish anything of importance."

Hastings thanked Corporation Counsel Gold for appearing for the committee April 16 at Monticello.

Brings in Department

Alderman Frank A. Adams (D), Fifth Ward, felt that the investigation could be vital to police department moral. If there had been a threat to get someone to change an opinion, he said, something should be done about it. Adams felt that at present that where money and extent of manpower were concerned the police board is not "in the best of shape." He felt the moral would not be at its best of the department's members felt its controlling board was being the victim of dictation.

Alderman Hastings and Koenig, during discussion of the investigating committee, felt that the Common Council was not functioning at best advantage without stenographic records of its proceedings. A stenotypist had been hired by the previous administration, but was not continued this year.

Four Named in Fix

WAVERLY, Iowa (AP) — Four dairies—two of them nationally known—and the top official of each were accused Tuesday of conspiring to fix milk prices in the Waverly area.

Named in informations filed by county attorney Mervin J. Flander were:

The Borden Co. of Marshalltown and Homer Buck, general manager for the western Iowa region.

Iowa Golden Dairies of Cedar Falls and Frank W. Peckacek, owner.

Walnut Dairy Farms of Waterloo and Robert Easley, president.

Nothing New on Dag

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —A U.N. commission of inquiry announced today its inability to penetrate the mystery of Dag Hammarskjold's death.

In a report to the General Assembly, the five-nation body did not rule out any of the rumored causes of the plane crash—sabotage, attack by hostile aircraft, mechanical difficulties or human failure. It did say there was no evidence to back up any of these theories.

Evangelicals Hear Reports at Meeting

The Hudson Valley Evangelical Ministerial Association held its regular monthly meeting Monday at the YMCA.

The meeting opened with a devotional period which was followed by a business session. Reports were given by the radio, Good Friday and Easter sunrise service committees. Plans were discussed for future activities including the summer community hymn sing to be held Sunday, Aug. 12, at Dietz Stadium at 3 p. m.

The next meeting of the association will be held at the Free Methodist Church, Tremper Avenue, Monday, May 28, at 10 a. m. This will be the annual meeting at which time officers will be elected, committees appointed and a program set up for the following year.

But Where?

Girl, 9, Only Survivor, May Go Home Today

LA MARQUE, Tex. (AP) — There was a small chance that Margaret Elizabeth Smith would get to go home today—wherever home may be.

Margaret, 9, is the only survivor of a family of six. Her parents, two brothers and a sister drowned Sunday in Galveston Bay.

There were eight people in the 14-foot boat when a wave from a passing ship tipped it over. Only Margaret and Raymond H. Henry, 30, survived.

Searchers have found the bodies of three children. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith and Danny Ray Henry, 12, are missing.

"Margaret may get to go home today, but I don't think so," said Dr. George M. Fleming.

"She was in the water a long time and we have to watch for pneumonia. But she's getting along just fine and won't be here much longer."

No one told Margaret the fate of her parents and Guy Wesley Smith, 18 months; Betty Gail Smith, 7, and Charles Milton Smith Jr., 4.

Sheriff J. B. Kline talked with her Sunday night.

"We never did actually tell her her parents are dead," Kline said. "She told us. She said she saw her mother drown and later saw her father go under."

Relatives from Amarillo, Dallas and Hurst, Tex., visited Margaret Tuesday.

"We haven't decided who she will stay with yet," said Edna Young of Amarillo, Mrs. Smith's mother. "We all want her."

Almost Perfect Test

NEW YORK (AP)—A two-year test of a type of Enders measles vaccine has proved almost 100 per cent effectve, according to officials of the city's Health Research Council and the New York University Medical Center.

The one-shot test involved 4,000 infants and youngsters in the New York metropolitan area.

Dr. Saul Krugman of the NYU Medical Center said Tuesday the test indicates the live vaccine provides immunity as certain as that provided by naturally acquired measles.

The vaccine was described as a refined, weakened strain of that developed by Dr. John F. Enders of the Harvard Medical Center.

Gorbach on Way

Gorbach was accompanied by Foreign Minister Bruno Kreisky and State Secretary Ludwig Steiner.

Austria has announced it will seek an associate status in the European trade group.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market's climactic rally continued today but ran into profit-taking which left the list only irregularly higher early this afternoon. Trading was heavy.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .90 at 247.90 with industrials up .80, rails up .90 and utilities up .80.

Some industrials weakened under profit-taking while rails and utilities maintained a fairly solid front of plus signs. Most of the major steels, motors and chemicals were down.

Tobaccos, airlines, drugs, and electrical equipments also remained generally higher. So were a number of volatile issues, including IBM.

IBM, Tuesday's most active stock when it first plummeted 24 points and then rebounded 32 to close with a net gain of 8 points, was up another 18 early today before paring 5 points from the rise.

Union Carbide was ahead about 2 while gains of a point or so were scored by Litton Industries, Polaroid, Phillip Morris, Lorillard and Merck.

Du Pont was off about 2. Ford and Jones & Laughlin fell about a point each. U.S. Gypsum was off about 3.

Fractional losses were shown by Chrysler, U.S. Steel, Zenith, Goodyear, International Nickel and Southern Pacific.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off .21 at 671.03.

Prices were mostly higher in more active trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Rapids to Meet Thursday

The regular monthly meeting of Rapid Hose Company will be held Thursday at 8 p. m. in the firehouse on Hone Street. All members are urged to attend. Matters will be discussed pertaining to the coming bazaar.

Merchants Angry

committee) while the other two favored No. 2-A and No. 6. Bourke and Yallum, it noted, favor study of lands in the John-Fair Street area and would "detail specific plots in meeting with the council."

Would Build Structure

Bourke and Yallum "would also urge the immediate further study of the adequacy and practicality of the erection of a multiple-story parking structure in a highly desirable area that would approximate the cost of multiple-site development, and provide at least an equal number of spaces. This would obviate the necessity to remove numerous tax-producing properties from the rolls. Such a structure could be in use in a minimum span of time."

Alderman Frank C. Sass, (D) Seventh Ward, council majority leader, noted the differences of opinion as reported by the planning board chairman, and of the majority party, he said: "We are definitely for off-street parking" but he held that since there are differences of opinion and some half million dollars are to be spent, he felt it required the best possible study. He had been told, he said, that some five to seven weeks will be involved before a project is processed, "and we feel that by that time we can come up with the best available plan."

Joseph F. Carroll Jr. (R) 11th Ward, minority leader, who because of the recess called by the alderman-at-large, was unable to give his views during the meeting, in a released statement said that "Obviously the majority party feels it can treat parking as a political issue, and does so on the mistaken belief that the problems of the uptown merchants do not affect their constituents."

Carroll said he was discouraged because he had hoped that "the recent change in leadership in the majority party would bring some measure of responsibility to their actions on this chamber floor."

Urges Action

What happens to property values uptown, he said, will affect every taxpayer. He noted shopping centers outside the city taking away "more and more business" and he gave details on future plans in that direction.

"All the cards," he said, "were on the table tonight. The Citizens Executive Advisory Committee for Urban Renewal has recommend the acquisition and construction of two lots on North Front Street which will accommodate 231 cars at a cost of $483,117.50." The committee, he said, reached its decision after study and picked what they thought were the best sites for the money receiving the "strong backing of the Chamber of Commerce and the Uptown Businessmen's Association."

Cites Urban Connection

Last Thursday afternoon, he said, "copies of the Brinnier and Larios maps and cost breakdowns for the lots on both sides of North Front Street" were mailed to Majority Leader Sass and Hastings, chairman of the off-street parking committee. It should be understood, he said, that "Sass is also chairman of the Urban Renewal Committee, and a member of the Finance Committee" of the council.

Carroll noted that certain options involved are due to expire May 28 (north side of North Front Street) as proposed last year by the majority party, "and no option was ever secured for one of the properties involved." He reported that "all options have been secured for the properties involved in the lot for the south side of North Front Street, and are now available for inspection by members of the council in the mayor's office."

Drop Politics, He Urges

Carroll said he could see no reason for last night's postponement of action. He said the minority party favored recommendations of the Citizens Executive Advisory Committee for Urban Renewal, "which has the support of the Chamber of Commerce and Uptown Businessmen's Association. He asked the majority party to "put political motives aside" and join with the minority party in approving the sites."

Since the majority party failed to act on a "non-partisan program" he said, "our uptown business district will not have off-street parking lots in time for the Christmas season, and the people of Kingston will know that problems that result must lie on the shoulders of an obstructionist Democratic majority."

Alderman Sass said he had talked with uptown merchants after the meeting and after he had explained that the recessed council meeting will not delay procedure, they appeared to have a better understanding of the necessary steps involved; Sass said federal approval is essential. No action can be taken without it he said, and some five to seven weeks is required for processing.

Favors Lindsay Bill

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov. Rockefeller has urged President Kennedy to consider a pending congressional bill for health care for the aged that the governor says combines "social security financing with a voluntary choice as to benefits."

Rockefeller sent a telegram to Kennedy Tuesday saying the bill — introduced by Rep. John V. Lindsay, R-N.Y., — should be favored instead of the pending King-Anderson bill.

Advancing the Lindsay bill, Rockefeller told Kennedy:

"Under this plan each Social Security beneficiary would have the option to be covered by a government plan of the King-Anderson type, or to receive a monthly cash payment so long as he is covered by a private health plan at least equal in actuarial value to the statutory benefit.

Depressed Issue Not Lost, Patience May Be Reward

ROGER E. SPEAR

Q) "I bought 100 shares of NAFI some time ago and have accrued a rather heavy paper loss. Since I'm an older person, the possibilities of long-term growth interest me very little. Dividends are what I want, and NAFI doesn't pay any. Should I hold my shares or should I take a loss of over $1,400 and start over?" D.S.

A) Such a loss would be severe indeed, and I can understand your concern. However, if you can afford to wait awhile longer, I think you'll be wise to do so because NAFI, in my opinion, still has a good chance of working out reasonably well.

The shares had a spectacular flurrly two years ago as a result of the Chris Craft acquisition but cooled off rather quickly as their market following waned. Since that time the company's house has been put in better order and its earning power built up. This year, with consumer spending at record levels, a much larger demand is expected for the firm's pleasure boat line and the automotive products should also turn in worthwhile gains.

I personally look for share earnings to show marked improvement over last year's results. Furthermore, there is a good possibility that cash dividends will be resumed. Given receptive conditions, a series of favorable announcements could easily put the issue back in the limelight—which in turn would help the shares to work higher.

I suggest you try to hold your shares for at least a few more months. If nothing satisfactory develops during this period, a sale might then be seriously considered.

Q) "I own two stocks—W. R. Grace and Hiram Walker. Should I still hold them?" J.L.

A) Yes, I think you should. W. R. Grace has cut back on some of its marginal operations, and earnings have improved. Walker has built a pattern of steady growth gains, and I feel it will continue to do so. I like both stocks and think they will perform very well if retained for a reasonable period of time.

Mr. Spear cannot answer all mail personally but will answer all questions possible in his column.

Board to Open Town Garage Bids

The regular monthly meeting of the Rosendale Town Board will be held on Monday 8 p. m. at the town clerk's office, Main Street, Rosendale.

Sealed bids for the new proposed town garage Maple Hill will be opened at the meeting.

Mother-Daughter Communion Sunday

The regular monthly communion for the St. Peter's Rosary Altar Society will be held at the 9 a. m. Mass Sunday. This will be a mother-daughter communion Sunday. A meeting will follow in the school hall and refreshments will be served. Hostesses will be the Mmes. Karl Kozian, Mary Hansen, Arthur Neumann and Stephen Reposky.

Sportsmen to See Films on Friday

The Rosendale Sportsmen's Association Inc. will hold its May meeting Friday 8 p. m. at the clubhouse in Tillson. It is hoped that all members can attend as two colored sound films have been secured for this meeting. One is entitled Tomorrow's Trees sponsored by the Weyerhaeuser Lumber Company and the other Wing Shooters Magic by the Lyman Gunsight Corporation.

Lions Dinner Set For Saturday Night

The annual chicken dinner sponsored by the Rondout Valley Lions Club will be held Saturday at the Marbletown Central School, Stone Ridge. Serving will start 5 p. m. and continue through 7 p. m. Tickets are available from Lions Club members or at the door. Dinner will be served family style. Proceeds will be used for the many civic projects of the organization including help to needy in the area.

Housing for Aged

authorized planning by Brinnier & Larios.

The aldermen voted to continue leasing from Harford S. Shultis Jr., the Wiltwyck Avenue building used by the A. H. Wicks Engine and Truck Company for five years. The rental of $840 a year is $120 above the previous rent, it was noted. Alderman Frank Sass, himself a volunteer fireman, commended the work done by the Wicks Company.

The council voted settlement of five small claims which have been pending for some time after Corporation Counsel Gold recommended their payment.

The Kingston Veterans Association extended an invitation to the aldermen to participate in the Memorial Day Parade.

Alderman Sass, in commenting on the street program, said he had asked for information on Dix Seal which the mayor proposes to use in street repair, and had not received it. He asked that the information be supplied as soon as possible.

Alderman Donald M. Hastings (D) Third Ward, in dealing with the street program, said he was holding up the list of streets needing repair in his ward, until he learned more about the program. There were "two difficult streets" in the ward, he said, and he felt that Dix Seal would not do the job.

Alderman Joseph Tomaszewski, (D) Sixth Ward, complained of conditions at the Delaware Avenue and Murray Street railroad crossings where he felt there were conditions that could cause injury. He noted that trains have been jumping tracks, apparently due to raised crossing areas, and he asked that the railroad be notified. Alderman Arthur Smith (D) Eighth Ward, chairman of the railroad and bus committee, advised action through the corporation counsel.

Alderman Frank A. Adams, (D) Fifth Ward, asked if there had been replies from the fire and water boards on his complaint of lack of fire hydrant pressure in the Fifth Ward. He was told that a water department report was received.

NATO Appraises Nuclear Policy, Other Key Points

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — Foreign and defense ministers of the Atlantic Alliance gathered here today to appraise NATO nuclear policy, the Berlin situation and East-West relations.

Foremost among the problems facing the 15 nations of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization was the delicate question of control of nuclear weapons, now essentially in the hands of the United States.

U.S. officials expect no agreement to emerge on the various proposals for a NATO strike force armed with American nuclear weapons. They hope some progress will be made.

The chief point at issue is the question of conditions under which the nuclear weapons would be ordered into action and what veto the allies would have over the firing orders.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk reportedly will offer the NATO allies detailed information on the numbers, types, general capability and potential use of weapons in the U.S. nuclear arsenal. The Kennedy administration reportedly hopes the information will reassure the allies and ease the pressure from some of them—particularly West Germany—for speedy creation of NATO's own nuclear force.

The nuclear issue will be discussed first by the defense ministers at a meeting Thursday. The foreign ministers begin their meeting Friday. The session concludes Sunday.

On the Berlin question the alliance is expected to close ranks once again—despite an undercurrent of uneasiness—behind U.S. efforts to find some basis for a Berlin settlement.

Program Arranged by Bar Assn.

Law Day Is Observed In County Court Here

"Law Day, U.S.A." born as a refutation of the Red "May Day," was observed by members of the Ulster County Bar Association Tuesday afternoon with a ceremony held in conjunction with the April term of County Court.

The ceremony, held in the court room in the presence of members of the Ulster County Bar Association and the public, was instituted when President Hugh R. Elwyn of the Bar Association named a committee to arrange the observance in accordance with proclamation by President Kennedy, Governor Rockefeller and Mayor John J. Schwenk.

Scouts Take Part

Heading the committee was Bernard A. Feeney Jr., who presided at the opening when the Colors were advanced by members of Troop 12, Old Dutch Church, and the Pledge of Allegiance was recited. Thomas McCullough, led in the pledge and members of the color guard were Richard Clausi and Donald Temple.

Hugh R. Elwyn spoke, noting that this was the fifth anniversary of the ceremony and the fourth at which he had presided, twice as chairman of the Bar committee, and twice as president of the Bar. He spoke of the responsibility of the legal profession in bringing to the attention of all the great American heritage "liberty under law" and outlined briefly the liberty which is ours and noted that "where there is law there is liberty."

Have Richest Heritage

County Judge Mino in addressing the group said "we have cause for celebration because we are the beneficiaries of the richest heritage of liberty under the law in the history of civilized people."

Law Day is set apart by proclamation to "recognize the place of law in American life," Judge Mino stated and he said that "law is the intangible force that makes freedom and progress possible, it is law that brings order into the affairs of men, that enables them to lift their sights above mere survival, to accumulate possessions, to develop the arts, to pursue knowledge, and to enjoy life among their fellows."

Gives Each Security

Judge Mino said that "law gives the individual citizen security he could obtain in no other way; it protects the family and other groups organized for the advancement of common interests; it permits the growth of great cities and the development of enterprises, large and small. It is the cement that holds our free society together."

He said the court of law is "one of the cornerstones of our structure if government under law" and every American judge presides over a court "dedicated to the living American ideal of equality under law."

Judges, attorneys and all citizens as litigants or jurors, share the "profound responsibility of preserving, strengthening and passing on to future generations our judicial system which unconditionally guarantees equal justice under law to even the most humble among us." This guarantee is a vital part of our heritage as American citizens, Judge Mino said.

Need Love of Liberty

To keep alive this ideal of equal justice in this day of dictators who have replaced law with force throughout much of the world, "we need the same passionate love of liberty, dedication to ideal, respect for law, and faith in Divine guidance which inspired our pioneer forefathers to found this free nation as an example to liberty loving people everywhere."

Judge Mino called on everyone to, in his own way, "rededicate ourselves to that solemn task, to preserve and pass on to the citizens of tomorrow the heritage of liberty under law which is theirs.

Supreme Court Justice Louis G. Bruhn said Judge Mino had "quite adequately capsulated the feeling of reverence that all of us hold for the law which is unquestionably the strongest coagulant of our democratic society."

Justice Bruhn said Law Day was born as a "refutation of the Red May Day, which in contrast to our observance, is identified by displays of force and might and military strength." Through fear engendered by such force "almost half the world is compelled to follow the communist line," he said.

Force Seeks to Bury Freedom

"Time was when civilized people used to build walls around their settlements and towns to keep barbarians out but now barbarians build walls to keep civilized people in," he said. He said this was an "insidious force" seeking to bury us and he said we must come forward with the answer of how our nation can cope with an "implacable enemy" who knows only the "law of the

"In a country where man is so recognized as a human being and not as a creature of the state, there should be no difficulty in convincing our citizens that we still are the greatest land on the face of the earth," Justice Bruhn said. He said we should stand up and be counted and in no uncertain tone proclaim that "I am an American."

Must Trust in God

In conclusion he said "So long as we entrust our future to our faith in God all of our fears, whether from outside or in, will dissipate like ground fog in the sun, and we shall continue to go forward as a nation where all men are created equal and endowed by their Creator with the inalienable rights of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness."

Members of the committee serving with Attorney Feeney were: Robert MacKinnon, Robert Ronder, John Larkin, Francis Vogt, Seymour Werbalowsky, Richard Griggs, Daniel Lamb, James Matthews, William Curran, James Murray, Richard Lent, Stewart Schantz, Kirtland Snyder and Louis Canino.

Gary Easy Victor

had no opposition Tuesday. Three others won their races.

The only incumbent congressman in Oklahoma with a primary fight, Rep. Victor Wickersham of Mangum, led three foes in his bid for a second term but not enough to avoid a runoff. His probable opponent is state Rep. Jim Bullard. Rep. Carl Albert, the House majority leader, has no primary or Republican opposition.

In the Oklahoma gubernatorial primary campaign Gary, an independent oil company operator from Madill, near the Texas border, had opposed proposals to reapportion the state legislature according to the state constitution. This would have given voters in urban areas a larger voice in the rurally dominated legislature.

In Alabama all seven candidates pledged to fight for racial segregation in that state.

Floor Fight Looms

WASHINGTON (AP)—A possible floor fight over President Kennedy's trade expansion program loomed today at the annual meeting of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce.

The specific bone of contention is the provision to help domestic firms and workers injured by import conditions.

A dissenting group of chamber members, it was reported, favors fewer instead of more federal adjustment benefits to cushion the impact of rising imports as tariffs are reduced gradually.

Police Board . . .

majority party "in pursuing the subject to a more ridiculous conclusion than has already been reached at Monticello (the decision of Supreme Court Justice MacAffer). The judge, he noted, ruled that the first committee "was not even a legally constituted committee."

Since the mayor is the only duly elected official on the police board, who is responsible to the people of the city, Carroll said, and since he is the appointing official, "I fail to see any valid reason why this legislative body should concern itself with whether or not the mayor has suggested or requested the resignation of any member of the board."

It was his opinion, Carroll said, that "when the mayor feels that when any official appointed by him is not serving to the best interest of the people, it is not only his right, but his duty to ask for his resignation."

He's Outnumbered

Carroll said he was amused at the weeping of crocodile tears over reported coercion or intimidation, and contended that their concern "is as phony as a three-dollar bill. How, I ask you, can one man with one vote, coerce or intimidate four men with four votes?"

"And what is this big deal about the mayor's executive assistant revealing information about the meeting to the public?" he asked. "The mayor has already stated that his executive assistant wrote a letter five days after the board meeting to Tom Lacue of WGHQ, correcting misinformation that Lacue broadcast four days before on the day following the board meeting."

Cites Board Approval

The mayor, said Carroll, had authorized and approved the letter, "which plainly stated that the information disclosed to Lacue was privileged and for his own correct information. Furthermore, the Board of Police Commissioners, itself unanimously approved the sending of the letter to Lacue."

The proposed investigation Carroll felt, was a move of "sore losers" and while this "energy and commotion" is under way, he held, "many important issues have been passed off, and the people of the city have been poorly represented by an obstructionist majority party whose only desire is to get even with the men who beat them in last November's election."

Edward J. Schrowang, (R) First Ward, said he failed to see the need of the investigation. He saw the move as a dangerous precedent which could lead to a probe of all city boards on slight provocation.

Could Be Vetoed

Hastings said he did not feel that the investigation would set a precedent, and it could result in the clearing of several questionable points. "We live in the United States, not in Russia," he said, and he felt that if a member of a board is advised to resign for lack of agreement the aldermen were entitled to know about it.

The resolution adopted last night, Hastings noted, must go to the mayor, and it will be up to him whether or not to veto it. He recalled that the mayor said at the time the other committee was named that he would be glad to cooperate.

Alderman Robert P. Slover, (R) Fourth Ward, felt that committees could be formed for a lot more important matters. He felt the investigation "would not accomplish anything of importance."

Hastings thanked Corporation Counsel Gold for appearing for the committee April 16 at Monticello.

Brings In Department

Alderman Frank A. Adams (D), Fifth Ward, felt that the investigation could be vital to police department moral. If there had been a threat to get someone to change an opinion, he said, something should be done about it. Adams felt that at present that where money and extent of manpower were concerned the police board is not "in the best of shape." He felt the moral would not be at its best of the department's members felt its controlling board was being the victim of dictation.

Alderman Hastings and Koenig, during discussion of the investigating committee, felt that the Common Council was not functioning at best advantage without stenographic records of its proceedings. A stenotypist had been hired by the previous administration, but was not continued this year.

WAVERLY, Iowa (AP) — Four dairies—two of them nationally known—and the top official of each were accused Tuesday of conspiring to fix milk prices in the Waverly area.

Named in informations filed by county attorney Mervin J. Flander were:

The Borden Co. of Marshalltown and Homer Buck, general manager for the western Iowa region.

Iowa Golden Dairies of Cedar Falls and Frank W. Peckacek, owner.

Walnut Dairy Farms of Waterloo and Robert Easley, president.

Nothing New on Dag

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —A U.N. commission of inquiry announced today its inability to penetrate the mystery of Dag Hammarskjold's death.

In a report to the General Assembly, the five-nation body did not rule out any of the rumored causes of the plane crash—sabotage, attack by hostile aircraft, mechanical difficulties or human failure. It did say there was no evidence to back up any of these theories.

Evangelicals Hear Reports at Meeting

The Hudson Valley Evangelical Ministerial Association held its regular monthly meeting Monday at the YMCA.

The meeting opened with a devotional period which was followed by a business session. Reports were given by the radio, Good Friday and Easter sunrise service committees. Plans were discussed for future activities including the summer community hymn sing to be held Sunday, Aug. 12, at Dietz Stadium at 3 p. m.

The next meeting of the association will be held at the Free Methodist Church, Tremper Avenue, Monday, May 28, at 10 a. m. This will be the annual meeting at which time officers will be elected, committees appointed and a program set up for the following year.

But Where?

Girl, 9, Only Survivor, May Go Home Today

LA MARQUE, Tex. (AP) — There was a small chance that Margaret Elizabeth Smith would get to go home today—wherever home may be.

Margaret, 9, is the only survivor of a family of six. Her parents, two brothers and a sister drowned Sunday in Galveston Bay.

There were eight people in the 14-foot boat when a wave from a passing ship tipped it over. Only Margaret and Raymond H. Henry, 30, survived.

Searchers have found the bodies of three children. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith and Danny Ray Henry, 12, are missing.

"Margaret may get to go home today, but I don't think so," said Dr. George M. Fleming.

"She was in the water a long time and we have to watch for pneumonia. But she's getting along just fine and won't be here much longer."

No one told Margaret the fate of her parents and Guy Wesley Smith, 18 months; Betty Gail Smith, 7, and Charles Milton Smith Jr., 4.

Sheriff J. B. Kline talked with her Sunday night.

"We never did actually tell her her parents are dead," Kline said. "She told us. She said she saw her mother drown and later saw her father go under."

Relatives from Amarillo, Dallas and Hurst, Tex., visited Margaret Tuesday.

"We haven't decided who she will stay with yet," said Edna Young of Amarillo, Mrs. Smith's mother. "We all want her."

Almost Perfect Test

NEW YORK (AP)—A two-year test of a type of Enders measles vaccine has proved almost 100 per cent effective, according to officials of the city's Health Research Council and the New York University Medical Center.

The one-shot test involved 4,000 infants and youngsters in the New York metropolitan area.

Dr. Saul Krugman of the NYU Medical Center said Tuesday the test indicates the live vaccine provides immunity as certain as that provided by naturally acquired measles.

The vaccine was described as a refined, weakened strain of that developed by Dr. John F. Enders of the Harvard Medical Center.

Gorbach on Way

Gorbach was accompanied by Foreign Minister Bruno Kreisky and State Secretary Ludwig Steiner.

Austria has announced it will seek an associate status in the European trade group.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market's climactic rally continued today but ran into profit-taking which left the list only irregularly higher early this afternoon. Trading was heavy.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .90 at 247.90 with industrials up .80, rails up .90 and utilities up .80.

Some industrials weakened under profit-taking while rails and utilities maintained a fairly solid front of plus signs. Most of the major steels, motors and chemicals were down.

Tobaccos, airlines, drugs, and electrical equipments also remained generally higher. So were a number of volatile issues, including IBM.

IBM, Tuesday's most active stock when it first plummeted 24 points and then rebounded 32 to close with a net gain of 8 points, was up another 18 early today before paring 5 points from the rise.

Union Carbide was ahead about 2 while gains of a point or so were scored by Litton Industries, Polaroid, Phillip Morris, Lorillard and Merck.

Du Pont was off about 2. Ford and Jones & Laughlin fell about a point each. U.S. Gypsum was off about 3.

Fractional losses were shown by Chrysler, U.S. Steel, Zenith, Goodyear, International Nickel and Southern Pacific.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off .21 at 671.03.

Prices were mostly higher in more active trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Rapids to Meet Thursday

The regular monthly meeting of Rapid Hose Company will be held Thursday at 8 p. m. in the firehouse on Hone Street. All members are urged to attend. Matters will be discussed pertaining to the coming bazaar.

Merchants Angry

committee) while the other two favored No. 2-A and No. 6. Bourke and Yallum, it noted, favor study of lands in the John-Fair Street area and would "detail specific plots in meeting with the council."

Would Build Structure

Bourke and Yallum "would also urge the immediate further study of the adequacy and practicality of the erection of a multiple-story parking structure in a highly desirable area that would approximate the cost of multiple-site development, and provide at least an equal number of spaces. This would obviate the necessity to remove numerous tax-producing properties from the rolls. Such a structure could be in use in a minimum span of time."

Alderman Frank C. Sass, (D) Seventh Ward, council majority leader, noted the differences of opinion as reported by the planning board chairman, and of the majority party, he said: "We are definitely for off-street parking" but he held that since there are differences of opinion and some half million dollars are to be spent, he felt it required the best possible study. He had been told, he said, that some five to seven weeks will be involved before a project is processed, "and we feel that by that time we can come up with the best available plan."

Joseph F. Carroll Jr. (R) 11th Ward, minority leader, who because of the recess called by the alderman-at-large, was unable to give his views during the meeting, in a released statement said that "Obviously the majority party feels it can treat parking as a political issue, and does so on the mistaken belief that the problems of the uptown merchants do not affect their constituents."

Carroll said he was discouraged because he had hoped that "the recent change in leadership in the majority party would bring some measure of responsibility to their actions on this chamber floor."

Urges Action

What happens to property values uptown, he said, will affect every taxpayer. He noted shopping centers outside the city taking away "more and more business" and he gave details on future plans in that direction.

"All the cards," he said, "were on the table tonight. The Citizens Executive Advisory Committee for Urban Renewal has recommend the acquisition and construction of two lots on North Front Street which will accommodate 231 cars at a cost of $483,117.50." The committee, he said, reached its decision after study and picked what they thought were the best sites for the money receiving the "strong backing of the Chamber of Commerce and the Uptown Businessmen's Association."

Cites Urban Connection

Last Thursday afternoon, he said, "copies of the Brinnier and Larios maps and cost breakdowns for the lots on both sides of North Front Street" were mailed to Majority Leader Sass and Hastings, chairman of the off-street parking committee. It should be understood, he said, that "Sass is also chairman of the Urban Renewal Committee, and a member of the Finance Committee" of the council.

Carroll noted that certain options involved are due to expire May 28 (north side of North Front Street) as proposed last year by the majority party, "and no option was ever secured for one of the properties involved." He reported that "all options have been secured for the properties involved in the lot for the south side of North Front Street, and are now available for inspection by members of the council in the mayor's office."

Drop Politics, He Urges

Carroll said he could see no reason for last night's postponement of action. He said the minority party favored recommendations of the Citizens Executive Advisory Committee for Urban Renewal, "which has the support of the Chamber of Commerce and Uptown Businessmen's Association. He asked the majority party to "put political motives aside" and join with the minority party in approving the sites."

Since the majority party failed to act on a "non-partisan program" he said, "our uptown business district will not have off-street parking lots in time for the Christmas season, and the people of Kingston will know that problems that result must lie on the shoulders of an obstructionist Democratic majority."

Alderman Sass said he had talked with uptown merchants after the meeting and after he had explained that the recessed council meeting will not delay procedure, they appeared to have a better understanding of the necessary steps involved; Sass said federal approval is essential. No action can be taken without it he said, and some five to seven weeks is required for processing.

Favors Lindsay Bill

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov. Rockefeller has urged President Kennedy to consider a pending congressional bill for health care for the aged that the governor says combines "social security financing with a voluntary choice as to benefits."

Rockefeller sent a telegram to Kennedy Tuesday saying the bill — introduced by Rep. John V. Lindsay, R-N.Y., — should be favored instead of the pending King-Anderson bill.

Advancing the Lindsay bill, Rockefeller told Kennedy:

"Under this plan each Social Security beneficiary would have the option to be covered by a government plan of the King-Anderson type, or to receive a monthly cash payment so long as he is covered by a private health plan at least equal in actuarial value to the statutory benefit.

Depressed Issue Not Lost, Patience May Be Reward

ROGER E. SPEAR

Q) "I bought 100 shares of NAFI some time ago and have accrued a rather heavy paper loss. Since I'm an older person, the possibilities of long-term growth interest me very little. Dividends are what I want, and NAFI doesn't pay any. Should I hold my shares or should I take a loss of over $1,400 and start over?" D.S.

A) Such a loss would be severe indeed, and I can understand your concern. However, if you can afford to wait awhile longer, I think you'll be wise to do so because NAFI, in my opinion, still has a good chance of working out reasonably well.

The shares had a spectacular flurry two years ago as a result of the Chris Craft acquisition but cooled off rather quickly as their market following waned. Since that time the company's house has been put in better order and its earning power built up. This year, with consumer spending at record levels, a much larger demand is expected for the firm's pleasure boat line and the automotive products should also turn in worthwhile gains.

I personally look for share earnings to show marked improvement over last year's results. Furthermore, there is a good possibility that cash dividends will be resumed. Given receptive conditions, a series of favorable announcements could easily put the issue back in the limelight—which in turn would help the shares to work higher.

I suggest you try to hold your shares for at least a few more months. If nothing satisfactory develops during this period, a sale might then be seriously considered.

Q) "I own two stocks—W. R. Grace and Hiram Walker. Should I still hold them?" J.L.

A) Yes, I think you should. W. R. Grace has cut back on some of its marginal operations, and earnings have improved. Walker has built a pattern of steady growth gains, and I feel it will continue to do so. I like both stocks and think they will perform very well if retained for a reasonable period of time.

Mr. Spear cannot answer all mail personally but will answer all questions possible in his column.

Board to Open Town Garage Bids

The regular monthly meeting of the Rosendale Town Board will be held on Monday 8 p. m. at the town clerk's office, Main Street, Rosendale.

Sealed bids for the new proposed town garage Maple Hill will be opened at the meeting.

Mother-Daughter Communion Sunday

The regular monthly communion for the St. Peter's Rosary Altar Society will be held at the 9 a. m. Mass Sunday. This will be a mother-daughter communion Sunday. A meeting will follow in the school hall and refreshments will be served. Hostesses will be the Mmes. Karl Kozian, Mary Hansen, Arthur Neumann and Stephen Reposky.

Sportsmen to See Films on Friday

The Rosendale Sportsmen's Association Inc. will hold its May meeting Friday 8 p. m. at the clubhouse in Tillson. It is hoped that all members can attend as two colored sound films have been secured for this meeting. One is entitled Tomorrow's Trees sponsored by the Weyerhaeuser Lumber Company and the other Wing Shooters Magic by the Lyman Gunsight Corporation.

Lions Dinner Set For Saturday Night

The annual chicken dinner sponsored by the Rondout Valley Lions Club will be held Saturday at the Marbletown Central School, Stone Ridge. Serving will start 5 p. m. and continue through 7 p. m. Tickets are available from Lions Club members or at the door. Dinner will be served family style. Proceeds will be used for the many civic projects of the organization including help to needy in the area.

Housing for Aged

authorized planning by Brinnier & Larios.

The aldermen voted to continue leasing from Harford S. Shultis Jr., the Wiltwyck Avenue building used by the A. H. Wicks Engine and Truck Company for five years. The rental of $840 a year is $120 above the previous rent, it was noted. Alderman Frank Sass, himself a volunteer fireman, commended the work done by the Wicks Company.

The council voted settlement of five small claims which have been pending for some time after Corporation Counsel Gold recommended their payment.

The Kingston Veterans Association extended an invitation to the aldermen to participate in the Memorial Day Parade.

Alderman Sass, in commenting on the street program, said he had asked for information on Dix Seal which the mayor proposes to use in street repair, and had not received it. He asked that the information be supplied as soon as possible.

Alderman Donald M. Hastings (D) Third Ward, in dealing with the street program, said he was holding up the list of streets needing repair in his ward, until he learned more about the program. There were "two difficult streets" in the ward, he said, and he felt that Dix Seal would not do the job.

Alderman Joseph Tomaszewski, (D) Sixth Ward, complained of conditions at the Delaware Avenue and Murray Street railroad crossings where he felt there were conditions that could cause injury. He noted that trains have been jumping tracks, apparently due to raised crossing areas, and he asked that the railroad be notified. Alderman Arthur Smith (D) Eighth Ward, chairman of the railroad and bus committee, advised action through the corporation counsel.

Alderman Frank A. Adams, (D) Fifth Ward, asked if there had been replies from the fire and water boards on his complaint of lack of fire hydrant pressure in the Fifth Ward. He was told that a water department report was received.

NATO Appraises Nuclear Policy, Other Key Points

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — Foreign and defense ministers of the Atlantic Alliance gathered here today to appraise NATO nuclear policy, the Berlin situation and East-West relations.

Foremost among the problems facing the 15 nations of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization was the delicate question of control of nuclear weapons, now essentially in the hands of the United States.

U.S. officials expect no agreement to emerge on the various proposals for a NATO strike force armed with American nuclear weapons. They hope some progress will be made.

The chief point at issue is the question of conditions under which the nuclear weapons would be ordered into action and what veto the allies would have over the firing orders.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk reportedly will offer the NATO allies detailed information on the numbers, types, general capability and potential use of weapons in the U.S. nuclear arsenal. The Kennedy administration reportedly hopes the information will reassure the allies and ease the pressure from some of them—particularly West Germany—for speedy creation of NATO's own nuclear force.

The nuclear issue will be discussed first by the defense ministers at a meeting Thursday. The foreign ministers begin their meeting Friday. The session concludes Sunday.

On the Berlin question the alliance is expected to close ranks once again—despite an undercurrent of uneasiness—behind U.S. efforts to find some basis for a Berlin settlement.

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

According to the 1871-1872 Gazetteer and Business Directory of Ulster County, N. Y., loaned to me by Attorney Martin F. Comeau of Woodstock and Kingston, New Salem was once called Freerville and Fly Mountain was its post office.

In the 1870 this place on the Rondout Creek had a church, a school, the James Cement Works, a cement pipe manufactory, a flour and feed mill and 154 inhabitants.

They have two paragraphs on Port Ewen which they say "is situated on the west bank of the Hudson, a short distance below the mouth of Rondout Creek, was laid out in 1851, by the Pennsylvania Coal Co., as a coal depot, and has been used as such until the present time; (1871-1872) but since 1865 the greater part of the business has been transferred to Newburgh, the company using the Erie Railway for transporting their coal, instead of the Delaware and Hudson Canal as previously.

The village is beautifully situated on land gradually rising from the river bank to the height of 180 feet. The view is very fine, with the river and Dutchess County on the east, the Catskill Mountains on the north, while the river valley stretches away to the south, bordered by Huzzey's Hill and Shawangunk Mountains on the west."

It further goes on: "The village contains two churches, viz., Methodist and Reformed; two public schools, a hotel, five stores, a bakery and about 1,200 inhabitants. Two daily lines of steamboats connect Port Ewen with New York, and a ferry connects it with the Hudson River Railroad."

"At the time the village site was purchased in 1851, the property consisted of three farms containing about 150 acres. The officers of the company were Irad Hawley, president; John Ewen, vice president; George A. Hoyt, treasurer; E. H. Hoyt, secretary; William Hathaway, agent.

The next year a change took place in officers, John Ewen taking the place of Mr. Hawley as president, and Jacob Kline becoming cashier at Port Ewen, since which there has been no change, all the officers having been reelected for 20 years. This company has been very successful in business, the stock being regarded among the most desirable in the New York market."

From another source, I see a Jacob Kline, was a brick manufacturer, was building a barn on his lot in Port Ewen with G. L. Neise being the architect and builder for the work. There were two brick yards in Port Ewen (Dec. 14th, 1887), one owned by Jacob Kline and the other by Mr. Gurnee, both prosperous.

The slip usually occupied by the Pennsylvania Coal Co., was used for old and worn out steamboats." The first electric lights were turned on in Port Ewen in 1905 and previous to that they had kerosene lamps. Oct. 1, 1938, Judge G. D. B. Hasbrouck presented the former Beaver residence, Broadway, Port Ewen, to the Port Ewen Free Library Association, as a memorial to his parents, the late Dr. and Mrs. Josiah Hasbrouck.

I see a Stephen M. Hyatt, in Port Ewen (1871) farmer leases of Charles Houghtaling 82 acres. Steven M. Hyatt has a Rondout listing. He was a lime manufacturer and farmer with 120 acres. George Kay had a cutlery factory in Esopus. Jacob Kline of Port Ewen is listed as cashier of the Pennsylvania Coal Co.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The Communist world has paraded its might—military, that is—to celebrate its way of life. It put very little stress on its nonmilitary economic status, perhaps thinking the less said the better.

The United States could parade as dazzling a display of military might, but doesn't. And its greater economic might is there for all to see, even if many seem to forget it while watching the missiles speed by.

Here All Along

And the Communist world also parades on May Day what it calls its people's dedication. To Western eyes this may look more like fanaticism. For Americans don't talk much about dedication to their way of life—it's very much there, though, when the chips are down. And this means it's been there all along.

In this day of space races and nuclear weapon competition, it's perhaps too easy to forget the importance of economic strength.

The United States has it—in spades.

The fast economic growth rate of the Soviet Union in the last few years looks impressive because the start was so close to zero. But compare the two economies outside the military segment, and the United States wins hands down.

The real growth, rather than the percentage of growth, finds the United States much stronger today than the Soviet Union. The actual gap is wider than when the U.S.S.R. started its plan to catch up some 10 years ago. We have grown more, put on more economic muscle, even if the rate isn't as spectacular.

Gap Widens

The gap between total industrial output of the United States and the Soviet Union has widened, in America's favor, according to a survey by the National Bureau of Economic Research. One reason appears to be a faster growth in production per man hour in the United States. It finds Soviet labor productivity only about 20 per cent of the American level.

Americans' appreciation of economic growth in our capitalistic society may be clouded just now by a number of debates. One is that the rate isn't fast enough to pare unemployment as desired. Another is that government and business and labor have seemed to be at sword points over how best to speed growth, and how to divide the benefits. And, of course, stock market weakness always chills the public's enthusiasm and fires up its fears and uncertainties.

But much of the American economy is at or near record highs.

And Americans themselves are doing very well. Total personal income is at a record high. Retail sales have set records—in spite of the fact that total savings have, too.

Federal Reserve figures show that personal assets earning interest now top $500 billion for the first time.

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

According to the 1871-1872 Gazetteer and Business Directory of Ulster County, N. Y., loaned to me by Attorney Martin F. Comeau of Woodstock and Kingston, New Salem was once called Freerville and Fly Mountain was its post office.

In the 1870 this place on the Rondout Creek had a church, a school, the James Cement Works, a cement pipe manufactory, a flour and feed mill and 154 inhabitants.

They have two paragraphs on Port Ewen which they say "is situated on the west bank of the Hudson, a short distance below the mouth of Rondout Creek, was laid out in 1851, by the Pennsylvania Coal Co., as a coal depot, and has been used as such until the present time; (1871-1872) but since 1865 the greater part of the business has been transferred to Newburgh, the company using the Erie Railway for transporting their coal, instead of the Delaware and Hudson Canal as previously.

The village is beautifully situated on land gradually rising from the river bank to the height of 180 feet. The view is very fine, with the river and Dutchess County on the east, the Catskill Mountains on the north, while the river valley stretches away to the south, bordered by Huzzey's Hill and Shawangunk Mountains on the west."

It further goes on: "The village contains two churches, viz., Methodist and Reformed; two public schools, a hotel, five stores, a bakery and about 1,200 inhabitants. Two daily lines of steamboats connect Port Ewen with New York, and a ferry connects it with the Hudson River Railroad."

"At the time the village site was purchased in 1851, the property consisted of three farms containing about 150 acres. The officers of the company were Irad Hawley, president; John Ewen, vice president; George A. Hoyt, treasurer; E. H. Hoyt, secretary; William Hathaway, agent.

The next year a change took place in officers, John Ewen taking the place of Mr. Hawley as president, and Jacob Kline becoming cashier at Port Ewen, since which there has been no change, all the officers having been reelected for 20 years. This company has been very successful in business, the stock being regarded among the most desirable in the New York market."

From another source, I see a Jacob Kline, was a brick manufacturer, was building a barn on his lot in Port Ewen with G. L. Neise being the architect and builder for the work. There were two brick yards in Port Ewen (Dec. 14th, 1887), one owned by Jacob Kline and the other by Mr. Gurnee, both prosperous.

The slip usually occupied by the Pennsylvania Coal Co., was used for old and worn out steamboats." The first electric lights were turned on in Port Ewen in 1905 and previous to that they had kerosene lamps. Oct. 1, 1938, Judge G. D. B. Hasbrouck presented the former Beaver residence, Broadway, Port Ewen, to the Port Ewen Free Library Association, as a memorial to his parents, the late Dr. and Mrs. Josiah Hasbrouck.

I see a Stephen M. Hyatt, in Port Ewen (1871) farmer leases of Charles Houghtaling 82 acres. Steven M. Hyatt has a Rondout listing. He was a lime manufacturer and farmer with 120 acres. George Kay had a cutlery factory in Esopus. Jacob Kline of Port Ewen is listed as cashier of the Pennsylvania Coal Co.

Campus Work Backed

WASHINGTON (AP) A permanent organization, the National Newman Foundation, has been set up here to strengthen Catholic influence and activities on U. S. college campuses. More than $161,000 has been pledged to the foundation so far to aid Newman Clubs, the Catholic student centers at colleges not under Catholic auspices.

SWEETIE PIE By Nadine Seltzer

Who'll Be Bilko?

NEW YORK (AP)—The popular television series "Sergeant Bilko" is scheduled for reincarnation as a Broadway musical.

Leland Hayward, currently involved as coproducer of "The Sound of Music" and "A Shot in the Dark," has added the undertaking to his schedule for next season. Financing is to be by the Columbia Broadcasting System.

Composer, lyricist and star have yet to be selected.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The Communist world has paraded its might—military, that is—to celebrate its way of life. It put very little stress on its nonmilitary economic status, perhaps thinking the less said the better.

The United States could parade as dazzling a display of military might, but doesn't. And its greater economic might is there for all to see, even if many seem to forget it while watching the missiles speed by.

Here All Along

And the Communist world also parades on May Day what it calls its people's dedication. To Western eyes this may look more like fanaticism. For Americans don't talk much about dedication to their way of life—it's very much there, though, when the chips are down. And this means it's been there all along.

In this day of space races and nuclear weapon competition, it's perhaps too easy to forget the importance of economic strength.

The United States has it—in spades.

The fast economic growth rate of the Soviet Union in the last few years looks impressive because the start was so close to zero. But compare the two economies outside the military segment, and the United States wins hands down.

The real growth, rather than the percentage of growth, finds the United States much stronger today than the Soviet Union. The actual gap is wider than when the U.S.S.R. started its plan to catch up some 10 years ago. We have grown more, put on more economic muscle, even if the rate isn't as spectacular.

Gap Widens

The gap between total industrial output of the United States and the Soviet Union has widened, in America's favor, according to a survey by the National Bureau of Economic Research. One reason appears to be a faster growth in production per man hour in the United States. It finds Soviet labor productivity only about 20 per cent of the American level.

Americans' appreciation of economic growth in our capitalistic society may be clouded just now by a number of debates. One is that the rate isn't fast enough to pare unemployment as desired. Another is that government and business and labor have seemed to be at sword points over how best to speed growth, and how to divide the benefits. And, of course, stock market weakness always chills the public's enthusiasm and fires up its fears and uncertainties.

But much of the American economy is at or near record highs.

And Americans themselves are doing very well. Total personal income is at a record high. Retail sales have set records—in spite of the fact that total savings have, too.

Federal Reserve figures show that personal assets earning interest now top $500 billion for the first time.

Novelist—Did I make any money? Well, I should say I did! I sold that description of the Palisades in Chapter 3 to the Quickline Railroad for five thousand dollars. My tribute to the Plaster de Paris Hotel in New York, in Chapter 10, brought me three thousand dollars from the hotel people, and the United Resorts Limited paid me another thousand for my rhapsody on the sunset in the Umpegog Mountains in Chapter 30 where the hero takes her in his arms. What's left of it I boiled down into a short story and got ten dollars for it. Did I make any money? Well, now?

FOOD FOR AMERICANS

Banana Splits Are Tops With Teens

TANTALIZING toasted banana splits served in real coconut halves are sampled by Irene Strom, 14, and Pat Maddox, 16.

GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Teen-age boys as well as girls like to play host to their friends. We asked Pat Maddox, 16, of Collegiate Prep School, and Irene Strom, 14, of Professional Children's School in New York, to list some of the foods they like to serve at their parties.

They like short-cut convenience foods. Such favorites as peanut butter, chocolate, coconut and bananas frequently appear at their party "feeds." Milk in quantity vies with soft drinks when the boys gather. The three "p's" of teen-age parties are pretzels, popcorn and pizzas. They favor frozen pizzas which require only baking. Often they top off the menu with no-cook dessert concoctions, such as Toasted Coconut Banana Split and a peanut butter-coconut candy.

TOASTED COCONUT BANANA SPLIT

(Makes 4 servings)

2 cups cold milk
1 package toasted coconut instant pudding
2 bananas, split and halved
½ cup whipped cream
4 maraschino cherries
Chopped nuts

Pour milk into mixing bowl. Add pudding and beat with egg beater until well blended (about 1 minute). Let set for 5 minutes. Meanwhile place 2 sections of banana in the bottom or on the sides of each individual serving dish. Spoon in pudding. Garnish with whipped cream, cherry and chopped nuts.

COCONUT TWIST CANDY

(Makes 80 candies)

1 package toasted coconut instant pudding
1 pound confectioners' sugar
½ cup soft margarine
1 egg white
2 to 3 tablespoons milk
½ cup chunky peanut butter

Combine pudding, confectioners' sugar, margarine, egg white and enough milk to bind the mixture. Beat until very well blended, about 5 minutes. Divide in half, pat each half to a 6x4-inch rectangle. Spread each half with peanut butter. Fold each section in thirds and roll on a board, lightly sprinkled with confectioners' sugar to 20 inches. Slice into 2-inch pieces.

Powell Stories Of Newspapermen Deal With Reality

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The Dick Powell Show on NBC Tuesday night — a hunt-and-chase story called "Savage Sunday"—was of special interest on two counts.

It was a pilot film, on the strength of which a network series for next season was sold, to be called "Saints and Sinners." It was also the first television return to the newspaper drama since the good old days of "The Big Story" and those stirring sagas about Steve Wilson, intrepid editor.

Speaking as an old newspaper hand, it gives me great pleasure to report that, judging from the preview, "Saints and Sinners" occasionally will show reporters reporting and writing.

In the other half-hour shows there just wasn't time for this realistic touch. The heroes were much too busy rescuing fair maidens and trapping vicious murderers to bother with typewriters, deadlines or even telephones.

The characters haven't changed much over the years. Nick Adams plays the usual brash young reporter, complete with a belted trenchcoat. There's the tough city editor with the heart of gold and, of course, the aging, ailing rewrite man. On top of all this, there was a rather familiar story about a naive girl assaulted and terrified by a pair of drunken ruffians.

CBS has apparently stalled on putting the projected "TV Tonight" variety hour into its next season's lineup, so it is not at all certain that Dennis Weaver will quit "Gunsmoke" after all.

Weaver, who plays Chester, earlier was reported to be leaving the horse opera even if he failed to land as head man in a variety hour. One thing sure, he'd be hard to replace.

Not all the perils of television are over-exposure—being seen too often. There is such a thing as being heard too much—a fate that may be rapidly overcoming Alexander Scourby, whose rich, mellow and highly identifiable voice seems to be heard more than any other on television.

Scourby is, by far, the most popular choice for narrator on those programs which require a fine, smooth dramatic voice—although they rarely show his face. He also does the voice part of a seemingly endless number of different commercials—from mouth washes to automobiles.

$300 for Moving

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Families who must leave their homes to make way for highways and other state projects will receive up to $300 from the state to pay for their moving expenses.

Gov. Rockefeller said Tuesday that he had signed a bill that would authorize the state to make the payments.

He acted after complaints that included many from persons being displaced to make way for the North-South Expressway in Central New York.

Painter Dies in Fall

Drowns in Motel Pool

Scout Troop 12 Court of Honor Marks Birthday

Boy Scout Troop 12, sponsored by Old Dutch Church Men's Club, marked its 32nd birthday party at Bethany Hall recently with a court of honor. The troop was founded in 1930 by the late Harry Edson.

Scoutmaster Ralph Shapiro presided at the court of honor which preceded the celebration. The opening flag ceremony was led by scouts Jerry White, Peter Wells and Michael Greenwald and Explorer William Parker.

Commissioner Thomas Orr presented the troop and post charters and distributed membership cards to Chairman Floyd Spencer and the other members of the troop and post committee. Spencer has served continuously with the troop for over 30 years, first as Scoutmaster and then as committee chairman.

Scoutmaster Shapiro invested Gregory Haver, Raymond Hull, Fred Jones and Richard Middaugh into the troop as Tenderfoot scouts. He also distributed service stars and cards to scouts and explorers.

Advancement Chairman Raymond Wells recognized all boys who had passed a rank advancement during the past year.

Committeeman Herbert White presented merit badges to the following scouts and explorers: Dennis Robinson, Home Repairs and Firemanship; Jan Bell, Reading; Mark Holden, Home Repairs; John Modjeska, Stamp Collecting; Donald Burnett, Scholarship; Matthew Marnell, Scholarship.

Frank McMahon, business manager of the Troop 12 Drum and Bugle Corps, presented membership cards to members of the corps, assisted by Drum Major Wayne Coddington.

Scoutmaster Shapiro installed Jerry White as senior patrol leader of the troop, and White installed the other junior leaders as follows: Assistant Senior Patrol Leader, Peter Wells; scribe, Thomas McCullough; quartermaster, Donald Temple, librarian, Joel Richardson; patrol leaders, Dennis Robinson, Michael Greenwald, Ray Mino, Russell Witkowski, and Daniel Fiore; assistant patrol leaders, Fred Van Deusen, Robert Wells, John Dickerson, Michael Higgins, and Donald Burnett.

Assistant Scoutmaster Carlton Temple led the group singing for the large group of boys, parents, and friends.

Members of the Troop and Post 12 Committee also includes Clifford Bell, Herbert Dickerson, Edwin Ford, Gilbert Sampson, Alfred Townsend, Maurice Duffy. Hugo Schlatter is institutional representative from the Old Dutch Men's Club.

Officers of the Troop 12 Mothers' Club are Mrs. Robert Marnell, president, Mrs. William Richardson, vice president, Mrs. Elwood Robinson, secretary, and Mrs. Witkowski, treasurer.

Fred Burnett serves as advisor of Explorer Post 12, assisted by William Shutts. Scoutmaster Shapiro of Troop 12 is assisted by Richard Scism Sr., Carlton Temple, Alfred Stingel, Harold Liberty Jr., and Gerald Sampson.

matter of FACT

The American voters elected members of the Electoral College on Nov. 8; the Electoral College officially elected our President on Dec. 19. A recent poll shows that only one person in three knows what the Electoral College is. Many believe it is outmoded. Congress has made over a hundred trys to ditch it.

Teen-age boys as well as girls like to play host to their friends. We asked Pat Maddox, 16, of Collegiate Prep School, and Irene Strom, 14, of Professional Children's School in New York, to list some of the foods they like to serve at their parties.

They like short-cut convenience foods. Such favorites as peanut butter, chocolate, coconut and bananas frequently appear at their party "feeds." Milk in quantity vies with soft drinks when the boys gather. The three "p's" of teen-age parties are pretzels, popcorn and pizzas. They favor frozen pizzas which require only baking. Often they top off the menu with no-cook dessert concoctions, such as Toasted Coconut Banana Split and a peanut butter-coconut candy.

TOASTED COCONUT BANANA SPLIT

(Makes 4 servings)

2 cups cold milk
1 package toasted coconut instant pudding
2 bananas, split and halved
½ cup whipped cream
4 maraschino cherries
Chopped nuts

Pour milk into mixing bowl. Add pudding and beat with egg beater until well blended (about 1 minute). Let set for 5 minutes. Meanwhile place 2 sections of banana in the bottom or on the sides of each individual serving dish. Spoon in pudding. Garnish with whipped cream, cherry and chopped nuts.

COCONUT TWIST CANDY

(Makes 80 candies)

1 package toasted coconut instant pudding
1 pound confectioners' sugar
½ cup soft margarine
1 egg white
2 to 3 tablespoons milk
½ cup chunky peanut butter

Combine pudding, confectioners' sugar, margarine, egg white and enough milk to bind the mixture. Beat until very well blended, about 5 minutes. Divide in half, pat each half to a 6x4-inch rectangle. Spread each half with peanut butter. Fold each section in thirds and roll on a board lightly sprinkled with confectioners' sugar to 20 inches. Slice into 2-inch pieces.

Powell Stories Of Newspapermen Deal With Reality

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The Dick Powell Show on NBC Tuesday night — a hunt-and-chase story called "Savage Sunday"—was of special interest on two counts.

It was a pilot film, on the strength of which a network series for next season was sold, to be called "Saints and Sinners." It was also the first television return to the newspaper drama since the good old days of "The Big Story" and those stirring sagas about Steve Wilson, intrepid editor.

Speaking as an old newspaper hand, it gives me great pleasure to report that, judging from the preview, "Saints and Sinners" occasionally will show reporters reporting and writing.

In the other half-hour shows there just wasn't time for this realistic touch. The heroes were much too busy rescuing fair maidens and trapping vicious murderers to bother with typewriters, deadlines or even telephones.

The characters haven't changed much over the years. Nick Adams plays the usual brash young reporter, complete with a belted trenchcoat. There's the tough city editor with the heart of gold and, of course, the aging, ailing rewrite man. On top of all this, there was a rather familiar story about a naive girl assaulted and terrified by a pair of drunken ruffians.

CBS has apparently stalled on putting the projected "TV Tonight" variety hour into its next season's lineup, so it is not at all certain that Dennis Weaver will quit "Gunsmoke" after all.

Weaver, who plays Chester, earlier was reported to be leaving the horse opera even if he failed to land as head man in a variety hour. One thing sure, he'd be hard to replace.

Not all the perils of television are over-exposure—being seen too often. There is such a thing as being heard too much—a fate that may be rapidly overcoming Alexander Scourby, whose rich, mellow and highly identifiable voice seems to be heard more than any other on television.

Scourby is, by far, the most popular choice for narrator on those programs which require a fine, smooth dramatic voice—although they rarely show his face. He also does the voice part of a seemingly endless number of different commercials—from mouth washes to automobiles.

$300 for Moving

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Families who must leave their homes to make way for highways and other state projects will receive up to $300 from the state to pay for their moving expenses.

Gov. Rockefeller said Tuesday that he had signed a bill that would authorize the state to make the payments.

He acted after complaints that included many from persons being displaced to make way for the North-South Expressway in Central New York.

Painter Dies in Fall

Drowns in Motel Pool

Scout Troop 12 Court of Honor Marks Birthday

Boy Scout Troop 12, sponsored by Old Dutch Church Men's Club, marked its 32nd birthday party at Bethany Hall recently with a court of honor. The troop was founded in 1930 by the late Harry Edson.

Scoutmaster Ralph Shapiro presided at the court of honor which preceded the celebration. The opening flag ceremony was led by scouts Jerry White, Peter Wells and Michael Greenwald and Explorer William Parker.

Commissioner Thomas Orr presented the troop and post charters and distributed membership cards to Chairman Floyd Spencer and the other members of the troop and post committee. Spencer has served continuously with the troop for over 30 years, first as Scoutmaster and then as committee chairman.

Scoutmaster Shapiro invested Gregory Haver, Raymond Hull, Fred Jones and Richard Middaugh into the troop as Tenderfoot scouts. He also distributed service stars and cards to scouts and explorers.

Advancement Chairman Raymond Wells recognized all boys who had passed a rank advancement during the past year.

Committeeman Herbert White presented merit badges to the following scouts and explorers: Dennis Robinson, Home Repairs and Firemanship; Jan Bell, Reading; Mark Holden, Home Repairs; John Modjeska, Stamp Collecting; Donald Burnett, Scholarship; Matthew Marnell, Scholarship.

Frank McMahon, business manager of the Troop 12 Drum and Bugle Corps, presented membership cards to members of the corps, assisted by Drum Major Wayne Coddington.

Scoutmaster Shapiro installed Jerry White as senior patrol leader of the troop, and White installed the other junior leaders as follows: Assistant Senior Patrol Leader, Peter Wells; scribe, Thomas McCullough; quartermaster, Donald Temple, librarian, Joel Richardson; patrol leaders, Dennis Robinson, Michael Greenwald, Ray Mino, Russell Witkowski, and Daniel Fiore; assistant patrol leaders, Fred Van Deusen, Robert Wells, John Dickerson, Michael Higgins, and Donald Burnett.

Assistant Scoutmaster Carlton Temple led the group singing for the large group of boys, parents, and friends.

Members of the Troop and Post 12 Committee also includes Clifford Bell, Herbert Dickerson, Edwin Ford, Gilbert Sampson, Alfred Townsend, Maurice Duffy, Hugo Schlatter is institutional representative from the Old Dutch Men's Club.

Officers of the Troop 12 Mothers' Club are Mrs. Robert Marnell, president, Mrs. William Richardson, vice president, Mrs. Elwood Robinson, secretary, and Mrs. Witkowski, treasurer.

Fred Burnett serves as advisor of Explorer Post 12, assisted by William Shutts. Scoutmaster Shapiro of Troop 12 is assisted by Richard Scism Sr., Carlton Temple, Alfred Stingel, Harold Liberty Jr., and Gerald Sampson.

matter of FACT

The American voters elected members of the Electoral College on Nov. 8; the Electoral College officially elected our President on Dec. 19. A recent poll shows that only one person in three knows what the Electoral College is. Many believe it is outmoded. Congress has made over a hundred trys to ditch it.

Plattekill

PLATTEKILL—The Parent's Club will meet Tuesday evening, May 8, at the Plattekill Elementary School. Father's night will be observed. Mrs. Beulah Link of New Paltz, entertained at a recent meeting of the club, with a talk, illustrated with slides of Schools in India.

Local members of the Public Health Nursing Committee of the Town of Plattekill will attend a meeting Monday, May 7, 8 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Alice Lofink, in Modena.

Diane Carpenter and Peter Kalisky, are local students attending the Wallkill Central School, whose names appeared on the honor roll, at the marking of the third quarter.

Miss Ruth Ann Decker, of this place, won first place in the Central Hudson Kitchen Planning Contest at the Wallkill Central School. Miss Decker's entry was forwarded to Kingston, to compete with plans of other school students. Plans of the model kitchens were judged on such factors as adequate working and storage space, arrangement of appliances and lighting.

A pound of loose tea should make 200 cups.

Ulster GOP Signs Marconi and Leta For May 12 Dance

Peter Marconi and Leta have been booked for the buffet dinner and dance scheduled Saturday, May 12, by the Town of Ulster Republican Club, it was announced today by Ted Musialkiewicz and Alfred Mazzuca, entertainment chairmen.

The event will be held at Aiello's Restaurant, East Chester Street Bypass, and promises to be one of the finest affairs ever staged by the Ulster GOP organization.

"We're very happy to have the services of Marconi and Leta," Sherwood E. Davis, club president, said and added "indications at the present suggest that upwards of at least 350 persons will be on hand for this social event."

Marconi has been in show business since 1925 and has been identified with some of the top-notch stars of the business — including Phil Silvers, Jackie Gleason and Edgar Bergen.

At the present time Marconi and Leta are playing at a New York night club first three nights of the week. Also booked for the May 12 dance is Jimmy Pal, vocalist.

Anthony Cicoria, who is chairman of the buffet and dinner, reports that the program will start at 8:30 o'clock.

The Appalachian Trail, stretching from Maine to Georgia, is within a half-day's drive for more than half the population of the United States.

Mechanical Engineers Plan Field Trip May 16

A REPRINT FROM Reader's Digest

How your Homelife would change with ELECTRIC HEAT

COMPARE

DO YOU LIVE THIS WAY NOW ... with flame heat?		WOULD YOU LIKE TO LIVE THIS WAY ... with automatic electric heat?
Fuel soils and smudges: Every Spring, fuel grime and dust must be cleaned from walls, curtains, furniture?	1	Clean heat: No soot in the house, nothing burns, no residue—everything stays clean all year.
Uneven heat: Hot near radiators or registers, drafty elsewhere? Warm near thermostat, chilly in other rooms?	2	Even heat: Even temperature throughout every room. And you decide how warm, or cool, you want each individual room.
Wasted heat: Portion of heat you pay for goes up the chimney?	3	Efficient heat: No chimney—all the heat you pay for stays in the house.
Slow heat: Always a delay after setting thermostat?	4	Fast heat: Electricity travels at the speed of light—full heat in seconds.
Annual repair and service bills: Never a winter without a service call, replacing parts, or cleaning the furnace?	5	Few—if any—repair problems: Little or nothing to repair or clean.

What does electric heat cost?

As you know, heating any home costs money—no matter how you do it. What you don't want, of course, is something that's extravagant. Electric heating certainly is not that. Factors that influence costs are covered elsewhere in this report. Everywhere, electric heating is an excellent buy for your money. Why not see your local electric utility company for cost information in your area?

People who heat electrically say it's worth far more than it costs.

Wherever you see this Gold Medallion, it means that the home is equipped with electric heating, electric appliances, full Housepower wiring and light for living. It's today's home built for tomorrow . . . the home that cannot be outmoded in your own or your children's lifetime.

Over one million families now heat with automatic electricity

How do they like it? Did they install it in new homes or old ones? Here's a summary of their experience . . .

Did you realize that so many families all over the United States—more than a million—now live in electrically heated homes? Probably not, because it has all happened in just the past few years. Almost overnight, it seems.

About 72% of these families bought new houses in which builders had installed electric home heating or specified it in custom built houses. But the amazing thing is that 28% of the families converted their existing homes from old-fashioned heat to electric! "It's Clean." Clean. That's the first thing they all say—especially the women. They say electric heat cuts down their housework, and makes spring cleaning a breeze.

It should, because with electric heat there's nothing to soil the house.—Nothing burns, no smoke, no soot, no fumes, no residue. Not even any fuel. No fuel delivery or storage problems. Electricity comes through a wire, and that's all you need to run electric heating equipment.

"Comfortable, Convenient." Another thing they mention is the "evenness" of electric heat. Sit anywhere in a room, they report, and it's the same temperature. No overheated spots, no chilly spots.

With electric heat, you can have a thermostat in each room. Then, you keep the living room 70°, bedroom 68°, baby's room and bath 78°. They say this turns out to be healthier, especially for children and elderly people.

"Efficient, Reassuring." What men go for is the simplicity and efficiency of an electric heating system. It has few, if any, moving parts. It's quiet. Needs little or no attention. No burner to adjust. Since there's no chimney, no heat is wasted up the flue.

One final advantage: Remember that ever since people first started to heat houses, they have tried to contain and control a flame—in the fireplace, stove, furnace.

But now, all of a sudden, house heating has been brought into the space age with electricity. Now you can have a perfectly heated home, without a flame burning anywhere in it. Over a million families already do.

What brought so much progress . . . so fast?

You'll always get better products faster when American business can compete freely to win you as a customer. That's what spurred the electrical and homebuilding industries to pour millions into research and development. And why, in just a few years, they have:

1. Produced new and better heating and air conditioning equipment.
2. Found more economical ways to install and operate it.
3. Developed improved materials and techniques for home construction.
4. Made low cost electricity available through improved generation and transmission techniques.

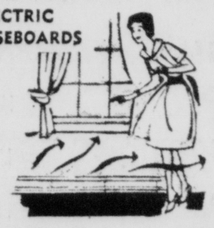
HANDY REFERENCE SECTION

5 basic systems of Electric Home Heating

How they're installed in new homes . . . old homes . . . added rooms. How they work. Advantages.

Four out of the five systems work on the same principle as an electric blanket. Electricity passes through the resistance wire or element. The resistance makes the wire warm. There's your heat. The fifth system—the heat pump—works with a compressor very similar to the one in your electric refrigerator.

ELECTRIC BASEBOARDS



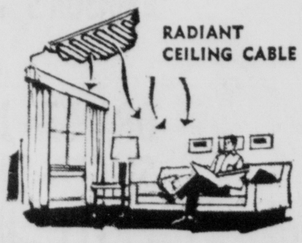
Installation: Like any baseboard heating system, installed simply and rapidly along outside walls of each room.

Operation: Concealed electric heating elements gently circulate warm air. Individual thermostats control each room.

New home or old? Both.

Special advantages: Ease of installation. Blends into decor, takes up little space. Flexible. Electric baseboard heating is easy and inexpensive to install in new wings or rooms.

RADIANT CEILING CABLE



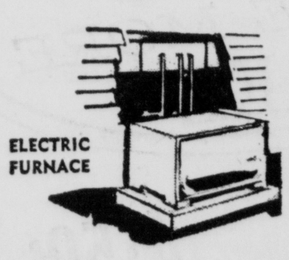
Installation: Small resistance heating wire is stapled to ceiling board, then concealed with plaster or plaster board.

Operation: Warmth radiates evenly downward as it does from the sun. Insulation above ceiling reflects heat downward.

New home or old? Both.

Special advantages: Large heating area gives extraordinarily even heat. Takes no floor space. Only thermostat is seen. Inexpensive, simple to install or expand to added rooms.

ELECTRIC FURNACE



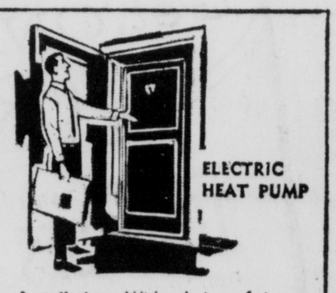
Installation: Wide choice of type and location.

Operation: Heats your home in winter and reverses itself to cool your home in summer. You simply set your thermostat for year 'round comfort—then forget it.

New home or old? Both.

Special advantages: Both heats and cools. Also regulates summer humidity, and filters air. Initial cost about the same as an ordinary heating and central air conditioning system.

ELECTRIC HEAT PUMP



Installation: Wide choice of type and location.

Operation: Draws air over heated resistance coils, ducts it throughout the house. Also available as hydronic system, to heat and circulate water to radiators or baseboards.

New home or old? Both.

Special advantages: Filters air. Central air conditioning can be installed at the same time or added later. Initial cost is comparable to traditional forced-air systems.

ELECTRIC WALL PANELS

Installation: In or on walls. Some units have elements behind decorative grille. Others are flat panels with heat producing surfaces.

Operation: Can operate with or without blowers. Individual room thermostats can be used.

New home or old? Both.

Special advantages: Especially useful in bath or dressing rooms, where ceiling and baseboard space is limited. Flexible. Mounts out of the way. Can be added to rooms as desired.

Basic facts about insulation

In the interests of comfort, economy and common sense, the many benefits of electric heating and air conditioning are contained within your home, around your family, by adequate insulation. Better insulation can save you a lot of money in the long run. In fact, in just a few years, good insulation pays for itself through savings on heating and cooling equipment and annual operating costs. After that, savings are annual bonuses.

WALLS AND CEILINGS

In winter, walls and ceilings well insulated keep the heat inside the house where it belongs. In summer, the insulation works with air conditioning to keep the heat outside. Insulated floors above unheated areas and crawl spaces stay warm in winter and cool in summer. Your local electric utility company can give you helpful advice on insulation needs according to your climate and your kind of home.

WINDOWS AND DOORS

To reduce heat loss and drafts even further, doors and windows are carefully weatherstripped. Double insulating glass or storm windows and doors let you enjoy your view in comfort.

And the well insulated walls and protected glass of the electrically heated house make the whole room usable. A seat near the wall or window in winter is comfortable. The chills and drafts of yesteryear are gone.

How much insulation should you have?

After long and intensive study the insulation industry has developed exacting standards for all-weather performance in electrically heated and air conditioned homes. These standards are designed to assure the correct insulation, save you money.

That's why it's important to consult with Central Hudson or your insulating contractor before you build or remodel.

Plattekill

PLATTEKILL—The Parent's Club will meet Tuesday evening, May 8, at the Plattekill Elementary School. Father's night will be observed. Mrs. Beulah Link of New Paltz, entertained at a recent meeting of the club, with a talk, illustrated with slides of Schools in India.

Local members of the Public Health Nursing Committee of the Town of Plattekill will attend a meeting Monday, May 7, 8 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Alice Lofink, in Modena.

Diane Carpenter and Peter Kalisky, are local students attending the Wallkill Central School, whose names appeared on the honor roll, at the marking of the third quarter.

Miss Ruth Ann Decker, of this place, won first place in the Central Hudson Kitchen Planning Contest at the Wallkill Central School. Miss Decker's entry was forwarded to Kingston, to compete with plans of other school students. Plans of the model kitchens were judged on such factors as adequate working and storage space, arrangement of appliances and lighting.

A pound of loose tea should make 200 cups.

Ulster GOP Signs Marconi and Leta For May 12 Dance

Peter Marconi and Leta have been booked for the buffet dinner and dance scheduled Saturday, May 12, by the Town of Ulster Republican Club, it was announced today by Ted Musialkiewicz and Alfred Mazzuca, entertainment chairmen.

The event will be held at Aiello's Restaurant, East Chester Street Bypass, and promises to be one of the finest affairs ever staged by the Ulster GOP organization.

"We're very happy to have the services of Marconi and Leta," Sherwood E. Davis, club president, said and added "indications at the present suggest that upwards of at least 350 persons will be on hand for this social event."

Marconi has been in show business since 1925 and has been identified with some of the top-notch stars of the business — including Phil Silvers, Jackie Gleason and Edgar Bergen.

At the present time Marconi and Leta are playing at a New York night club first three nights of the week. Also booked for the May 12 dance is Jimmy Pal, vocalist.

Anthony Cicoria, who is chairman of the buffet and dinner, reports that the program will start at 8:30 o'clock.

The Appalachian Trail, stretching from Maine to Georgia, is within a half-day's drive for more than half the population of the United States.

Mechanical Engineers Plan Field Trip May 16

A REPRINT FROM Reader's Digest

COMPARE

DO YOU LIVE THIS WAY NOW . . . with flame heat?		WOULD YOU LIKE TO LIVE THIS WAY . . . with automatic electric heat?
Fuel soils and smudges: Every Spring, fuel grime and dust must be cleaned from walls, curtains, furniture?	1	Clean heat: No soot in the house, nothing burns, no residue—everything stays clean all year.
Uneven heat: Hot near radiators or registers, drafty elsewhere? Warm near thermostat, chilly in other rooms?	2	Even heat: Even temperature throughout every room. And you decide how warm, or cool, you want each individual room.
Wasted heat: Portion of heat you pay for goes up the chimney?	3	Efficient heat: No chimney—all the heat you pay for stays in the house.
Slow heat: Always a delay after setting thermostat?	4	Fast heat: Electricity travels at the speed of light—full heat in seconds.
Annual repair and service bills: Never a winter without a service call, replacing parts, or cleaning the furnace?	5	Few—if any—repair problems: Little or nothing to repair or clean.

What does electric heat cost?

As you know, heating any home costs money—no matter how you do it. What you don't want, of course, is something that's extravagant. Electric heating certainly is not that. Factors that influence costs are covered elsewhere in this report. Everywhere, electric heating is an excellent buy for your money. Why not see your local electric utility company for cost information in your area?

People who heat electrically say it's worth far more than it costs.

Wherever you see this Gold Medallion, it means that the home is equipped with electric heating, electric appliances, full Housepower wiring and light for living. It's today's home built for tomorrow . . . the home that cannot be outmoded in your own or your children's lifetime.

Over one million families now heat with automatic electricity

How do they like it? Did they install it in new homes or old ones? Here's a summary of their experience . . .

Did you realize that so many families all over the United States—more than a million—now live in electrically heated homes? Probably not, because it has all happened in just the past few years. Almost overnight, it seems.

About 72% of these families bought new houses in which builders had installed electric home heating or specified it in custom built houses. But the amazing thing is that 28% of the families converted their existing homes from old-fashioned heat to electric! "It's Clean." Clean. That's the first thing they all say—especially the women. They say electric heat cuts down their housework, and makes spring cleaning a breeze.

It should, because with electric heat there's nothing to soil the house.—Nothing burns, no smoke, no soot, no fumes, no residue. Not even any fuel. No fuel delivery or storage problems. Electricity comes through a wire, and that's all you need to run electric heating equipment.

"Comfortable, Convenient." Another thing they mention is the "evenness" of electric heat. Sit anywhere in a room, they report, and it's the same temperature. No overheated spots, no chilly spots.

With electric heat, you can have a thermostat in each room. Then, you keep the living room 70°, bedroom 68°, baby's room and bath 78°. They say this turns out to be healthier, especially for children and elderly people.

"Efficient, Reassuring." What men go for is the simplicity and efficiency of an electric heating system. It has few, if any, moving parts. It's quiet. Needs little or no attention. No burner to adjust. Since there's no chimney, no heat is wasted up the flue.

One final advantage: Remember that ever since people first started to heat houses, they have tried to contain and control a flame—in the fireplace, stove, furnace.

But now, all of a sudden, house heating has been brought into the space age with electricity. Now you can have a perfectly heated home, without a flame burning anywhere in it. Over a million families already do.

What brought so much progress . . . so fast?

You'll always get better products faster when American business can compete freely to win you as a customer. That's what spurred the electrical and homebuilding industries to pour millions into research and development. And why, in just a few years, they have:

1. Produced new and better heating and air conditioning equipment.
2. Found more economical ways to install and operate it.
3. Developed improved materials and techniques for home construction.
4. Made low cost electricity available through improved generation and transmission techniques.

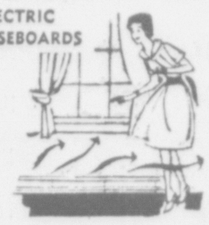
HANDY REFERENCE SECTION

5 basic systems of Electric Home Heating

How they're installed in new homes . . . old homes . . . added rooms. How they work. Advantages.

Four out of the five systems work on the same principle as an electric blanket. Electricity passes through the resistance wire or element. The resistance makes the wire warm. There's your heat. The fifth system—the heat pump—works with a compressor very similar to the one in your electric refrigerator.

ELECTRIC BASEBOARDS



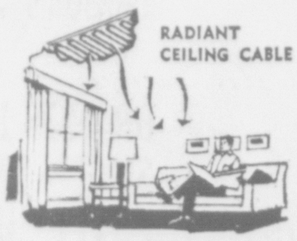
Installation: Like any baseboard heating system, installed simply and rapidly along outside walls of each room.

Operation: Concealed electric heating elements gently circulate warm air. Individual thermostats control each room.

New home or old? Both.

Special advantages: Ease of installation. Blends into decor, takes up little space. Flexible. Electric baseboard heating is easy and inexpensive to install in new wings or rooms.

RADIANT CEILING CABLE



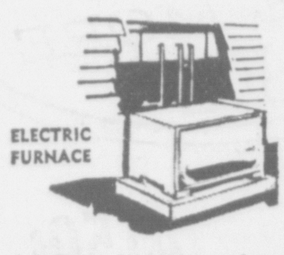
Installation: Small resistance heating wire is stapled to ceiling board, then concealed with plaster or plaster board.

Operation: Warmth radiates evenly downward as it does from the sun. Insulation above ceiling reflects heat downward.

New home or old? Both.

Special advantages: Large heating area gives extraordinarily even heat. Takes no floor space. Only thermostat is seen. Inexpensive, simple to install or expand to added rooms.

ELECTRIC FURNACE



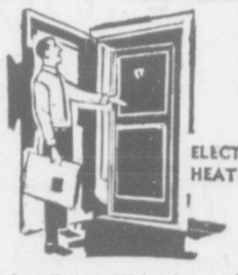
Installation: Wide choice of type and location.

Operation: Heats your home in winter and reverses itself to cool your home in summer. You simply set your thermostat for year 'round comfort—then forget it.

New home or old? Both.

Special advantages: Both heats and cools. Also regulates summer humidity, and filters air. Initial cost about the same as an ordinary heating and central air conditioning system.

ELECTRIC HEAT PUMP



Installation: Wide choice of type and location.

Operation: Draws air over heated resistance coils, ducts it throughout the house. Also available as hydronic system, to heat and circulate water to radiators or baseboards.

New home or old? Both.

Special advantages: Filters air. Central air conditioning can be installed at the same time or added later. Initial cost is comparable to traditional forced-air systems.

ELECTRIC WALL PANELS

Installation: In or on walls. Some units have elements behind decorative grille. Others are flat panels with heat producing surfaces.

Operation: Can operate with or without blowers. Individual room thermostats can be used.

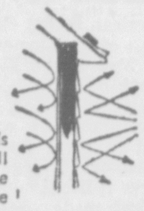
New home or old? Both.

Special advantages: Especially useful in bath or dressing rooms, where ceiling and baseboard space is limited. Flexible. Mounts out of the way. Can be added to rooms as desired.

Basic facts about insulation

In the interests of comfort, economy and common sense, the many benefits of electric heating and air conditioning are contained within your home, around your family, by adequate insulation. Better insulation can save you a lot of money in the long run. In fact, in just a few years, good insulation pays for itself through savings on heating and cooling equipment and annual operating costs. After that, savings are annual bonuses.

WALLS AND CEILINGS



WINDOWS AND DOORS

In winter, walls and ceilings well insulated keep the heat inside the house where it belongs. In summer, the insulation works with air conditioning to keep the heat outside. Insulated floors above unheated areas and crawl spaces stay warm in winter and cool in summer. Your local electric utility company can give you helpful advice on insulation needs according to your climate and your kind of home.

To reduce heat loss and drafts even further, doors and windows are carefully weatherstripped. Double insulating glass or storm windows and doors let you enjoy your view in comfort.

And the well insulated walls and protected glass of the electrically heated house make the whole room usable. A seat near the wall or window in winter is comfortable. The chills and drafts of yesteryear are gone.

How much insulation should you have?

After long and intensive study the insulation industry has developed exacting standards for all-weather performance in electrically heated and air conditioned homes. These standards are designed to assure the correct insulation, save you money.

That's why it's important to consult with Central Hudson or your insulating contractor before you build or remodel.

Favors T-H Changes To Strengthen Hand In U.S. Emergency

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's policy with big unions and big industry—suggesting the kind of contract they should sign—has been a form of government interference. Now it has borne new fruit.

In the recent steel negotiations his policy could be considered indirect interference. He simply suggested a noninflationary contract which would not trigger a spiral of wage-price increases.

Resented by Some

That he would stick the government's nose into labor-management negotiations even that much was resented by some people. His excuse for doing so was this: Since big unions and big industries affect the public welfare, when they raise prices and wages they have a responsibility to consider the public.

Tuesday night at the White House the President's Advisory Committee on Labor and Management — composed of representatives of labor, industry, the public, and government—made recommendations going farther than Kennedy.

It proposed changing the present Taft-Hartley Act so that when a labor-management dispute threatens to cause a national emergency—by ultimate strike or lockout—the President can do this: Set up a board which, after studying the situation, will recommend the terms of settlement. The T-H law doesn't go that far. The board provided for under T-H can only report facts, it can't recommend.

How did this committee, particularly since it has labor and management members, come to suggest that the government be given even more power than it has now to settle union-industry disputes?

Never Absolutely Free

It bought what Kennedy has been preaching and, in so doing, backed him up. It said that collective bargaining must be free but it must also be responsive to the public interest.

Collective bargaining has never been absolutely free in this country since the passage of the Wagner Labor Act in 1935. For instance, that law said employers must bargain with a union representing its employes.

So a company was not free not to bargain. Then in 1947 the Taft-Hartley Act took away some more freedom. For example, by laying down various rules and regulations as stumbling blocks to big strikes.

All this was done in the public interest and to protect both labor and management from each other's atrocities. Democrats and Republicans voted for it. Republican Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio was its father.

Since then, as with so many conditions involving American freedom, public and congressional vigilance has been directed against diminishing labor-management freedom except where considered necessary for the general welfare.

From the foundation of the republic, when any question of government interference with any kind of freedom is involved, the big dispute always spins around the basic question: Is it necessary?

Ford Disagrees

In this case the President's committee—which proposed other T-H changes also—thinks it is for the sake of the general welfare. Henry Ford II, a member of the committee, disagreed.

He opposed almost all the suggested changes and particularly said that "fact-finding boards with power to recommend terms of settlement would be both unjustified and unwise."

He added: "I believe that collective bargaining must be free and responsible, not free if responsible."

The rest of the committee made it plain it disagrees with those last four words by its recommendations which are intended to keep labor and management responsible by making them a little less free.

The Wagner Act and the T-H Act are evidence that the public, acting through Congress, is determined to keep labor and management responsible to some extent by putting controls on the actions and procedures of both.

Lawyers Muscle Ex-Convict Back

TROY, N.Y. (AP) — John J. Yazum, 34, an ex-convict awaiting trial on a first-degree robbery charge, was back behind bars today—thanks to the muscle displayed by two young lawyers.

Yazum, who also used the alias Larry Jackson, broke away from deputies Tuesday at the Rensselaer County Courthouse, where he had been taken for a court appearance. Deputy Vincent McCarthy fired twice as Yazum fled through the crowded courthouse lobby, but Yazum escaped out the main entrance.

He was tackled and held in the street in front of the building by two lawyers, Paul Coughlin of Latham and Joseph Rafter, deputy clerk of Children's Court here.

Yazum is charged with a robbery at a Troy dairy bar last summer.

Lutheran Church Educational Wing Dedicated Sunday

Sunday the new educational annex of the Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Redeemer was dedicated by the pastor, the Rev. Dr. David C. Gaise.

The building, adjoining the rear of the congregation's property at 28 Rogers Street, was completely renovated and equipped to house a department of Redeemer's church school. It was inspected by members and friends of the congregation at an open house Sunday afternoon.

At the dedication service, the Rev. Dr. Gaise paid special tribute to the 35 men from the congregation who completed the renovation of the entire interior of the annex without a cent of labor cost to the church. He also acknowledged the fact that various rooms were furnished and equipped as gifts from the United Lutheran Church Women, and a friend and as memorials to Minnie Pester Bruce, Warren Torgersen and Rudolf Nitsche.

The dedication marked a phase of the congregation's 65th anniversary observance. The next phase, now in progress, will include the demolition of the building at the northeast corner of Wurts and Rogers Streets for the development of a parking area.

OFF TO SCHOOL — Prince Charles, 13-year-old heir to the British throne, stands with his father, Prince Philip, before departing for his first term of boarding school at Gordonstown, Scotland. The school is known for its bleak dormitories, cold showers and commando-like training. The young prince and his father flew from London to an airbase in Scotland near the school. Governor Signs 4 Bills For Every One Rejected

By ROBERT T. GRAY

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller signed four bills for every one he rejected this year. His veto rate of 20 per cent was the lowest for any governor of New York State in more than 25 years.

Veto figures in recent years have ranged to 33.6 per cent, which was recorded in 1951 by former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey.

Rockefeller signed 1,013 and vetoed 265 of the bills sent to him by the 1962 Legislature. No explanation was offered as to whether there were any unusual reasons for the relatively low number of vetoes.

Details of the final results of the annual bill-signing period became known as the governor's office dug out from under the crush of work left by the governor in a final spurt of activity to meet a deadline of midnight Monday.

The announcement of Rockefeller's decisions on the final bills was delayed as his staff processed, indexed and recorded the final bills Tuesday.

To Help Balance Budget

In finishing his role in the legislative process this year, the governor approved a bill to advance payment dates of $90 million in business taxes to bring them within the current fiscal year, which will end next March 31.

The extra money will help Rockefeller balance his budget, which could not have been done under the previous tax structure without borrowing, and will maintain the pay-as-you-go policy he cites as a keystone of his administration.

Other Measures Opproved

He also approved measures that:

1. Outlaw use of illegally obtained wiretap evidence in criminal trials.

2. Allow New York City policemen to live in Suffolk County and fireman to live in Rockland, Westchester, Nassau and Suffolk counties.

3. Provide payments ranging to $300 to help families displaced by state building projects pay their moving expenses.

4. Provide for a reduction in the firemen's work week from the present 56 hours to 48 hours by 1967.

5. Require milk dealers in the Buffalo-Niagara Frontier and Rochester milk-marketing areas to make compensatory payments into market price pools if they import milk into the market areas from outside producers.

Bills Vetoed

The governor vetoed bills that would have:

1. Allowed farmers to sell a daily average of 100 quarts of unpasteurized milk to customers who came to their farms. The bill was designed to exempt such sales from a law, to take effect July 1, 1963, barring all sales of unpasteurized milk.

2. Permitted the state to lend to local sponsors their share of the cost of building a community college. At present, the state and locality share building costs.

Under the bill, the state would have paid the full cost, collecting 50 per cent later from the locality. The State University opposed the measure on the ground it could have led to depletion of funds earmarked for community colleges.

Really Needed Soap

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—Missouri's blue laws met armed defiance Sunday.

A man took a bottle of bleach and a box of detergent off the shelves of a store, put the money on the checkout counter and strode out.

Two clerks overtook the shopper on the sidewalk and explained that he couldn't buy soap on Sunday.

The shopper whipped out a pistol.

"I need the soap and you got the money," he said, and walked away.

Motorists' Woes

Battery and electrical troubles have succeeded the flat tire as the main cause of automotive breakdowns. An estimated 25.4 per cent of motorists' woes were caused by battery or electrical failure during 1961, as compared with 19.5 per cent of such troubles from flat tires.

Alco Earnings Gain

NEW YORK (AP)—Alco Products Inc. reported today net earnings of $66,000, or four cents a share, for the first quarter of 1962, on shipments totaling $22,564,000.

In the corresponding 1961 period, earnings from operations totaled $32,000, or two cents a share.

By ROBERT T. GRAY

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller signed four bills for every one he rejected this year. His veto rate of 20 per cent was the lowest for any governor of New York State in more than 25 years.

Veto figures in recent years have ranged to 33.6 per cent, which was recorded in 1951 by former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey.

Rockefeller signed 1,013 and vetoed 265 of the bills sent to him by the 1962 Legislature. No explanation was offered as to whether there were any unusual reasons for the relatively low number of vetoes.

Details of the final results of the annual bill-signing period became known as the governor's office dug out from under the crush of work left by the governor in a final spurt of activity to meet a deadline of midnight Monday.

The announcement of Rockefeller's decisions on the final bills was delayed as his staff processed, indexed and recorded the final bills Tuesday.

To Help Balance Budget

In finishing his role in the legislative process this year, the governor approved a bill to advance payment dates of $90 million in business taxes to bring them within the current fiscal year, which will end next March 31.

The extra money will help Rockefeller balance his budget, which could not have been done under the previous tax structure without borrowing, and will maintain the pay-as-you-go policy he cites as a keystone of his administration.

Other Measures Opproved

He also approved measures that:

1. Outlaw use of illegally obtained wiretap evidence in criminal trials.

2. Allow New York City policemen to live in Suffolk County and fireman to live in Rockland, Westchester, Nassau and Suffolk counties.

3. Provide payments ranging to $300 to help families displaced by state building projects pay their moving expenses.

4. Provide for a reduction in the firemen's work week from the present 56 hours to 48 hours by 1967.

5. Require milk dealers in the Buffalo-Niagara Frontier and Rochester milk-marketing areas to make compensatory payments into market price pools if they import milk into the market areas from outside producers.

Bills Vetoed

The governor vetoed bills that would have:

1. Allowed farmers to sell a daily average of 100 quarts of unpasteurized milk to customers who came to their farms. The bill was designed to exempt such sales from a law, to take effect July 1, 1963, barring all sales of unpasteurized milk.

2. Permitted the state to lend to local sponsors their share of the cost of building a community college. At present, the state and locality share building costs.

Under the bill, the state would have paid the full cost, collecting 50 per cent later from the locality. The State University opposed the measure on the ground it could have led to depletion of funds earmarked for community colleges.

Really Needed Soap

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—Missouri's blue laws met armed defiance Sunday.

A man took a bottle of bleach and a box of detergent off the shelves of a store, put the money on the checkout counter and strode out.

Two clerks overtook the shopper on the sidewalk and explained that he couldn't buy soap on Sunday.

The shopper whipped out a pistol.

"I need the soap and you got the money," he said, and walked away.

Motorists' Woes

Battery and electrical troubles have succeeded the flat tire as the main cause of automotive breakdowns. An estimated 25.4 per cent of motorists' woes were caused by battery or electrical failure during 1961, as compared with 19.5 per cent of such troubles from flat tires.

NOW, THEREFORE, notice is hereby given that, in pursuance of the powers vested in me by law, I shall, on Friday, the 15th of June, 1962, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, at the Court House in the City of Kingston, commence selling at public auction, so much of each of the said several and respective lots, tracts, pieces or parcels of land, as shall be sufficient to pay all State, County, Highway, School or other taxes assessed thereon in the year 1960 for 1961 and Kingston Consolidated School District taxes for the year 1961-62 on properties outside the City limits, that may then remain due on each thereof, respectively, together with the interest, costs and charges which have arisen or accrued or that may arise or accrue thereon, and shall sell, until the said sale shall be completed. The purchasers at such sale shall pay the amount of their respective bids to the County Treasurer within forty-eight hours after the last day of the sale, and receive certificates describing the lands purchased, the sums paid, and the time when the purchasers will be entitled to deeds; and after the expiration of one year from the last day of such sale, they shall be entitled to receive conveyances of the lands so purchased by them, respectively, (or at their option may foreclose the lien as provided by law), unless said lands shall have been previously redeemed, pursuant to law. All liens on property involved in this sale are sold subject to the rights of persons in the military service as defined and established by section 500 of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Civil Relief Act as amended October 7, 1942, and all subsequent amendments, thereto.

FURTHER NOTICE IS GIVEN, THAT PURSUANT TO THE PROVISIONS OF SECTION 1008 OF THE REAL PROPERTY TAX LAW, THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS OF ULSTER COUNTY HAS, BY RESOLUTION, DULY ADOPTED ON JUNE 9th, 1953, AUTHORIZED, EMPOWERED AND DIRECTED THE COUNTY TREASURER TO BID IN FOR ULSTER COUNTY, ANY AND ALL LANDS OFFERED FOR TAX SALE, FOR THE GROSS AMOUNT OF TAXES PLUS INTEREST, PENALTIES AND OTHER CHARGES ALLOWED BY LAW WITH RESPECT THERETO.

FRED H. DUBOIS
COUNTY TREASURER

Local Musicians Union Offers Scholarship To Students of String Instruments Here

Local 215, American Federation of Musicians today announced that candidates are being sought in this area for a full scholarship at Michigan State University to participate in the Fourth Congress of Strings, starting June 17 to August 11.

This was made known by John A. Cole, president of the Local, who appointed a committee composed of Michael Marchuk, secretary-business agent of 215, chairman; Marlin Morrette, band instructor at Kingston High School, and Joseph Kelly, city editor of the Kingston Daily Freeman, who is an honorary member of the Local.

The committee desires applicants to write for entry blanks to the Musicians Union, 508 Albany Avenue, Kingston.

Chairman Marchuk, who will also accept telephone calls, said those eligible to apply are string players of either sex between the age of 15 and 21. Instruments listed are violins, viola, cellos, and double bass.

This is the second year for the scholarship sponsorship.

This is the second year for the scholarship fund which sent Diane E. Meleski, 239 Clifton Avenue, to the 1961 Congress of Strings. About it she says, "I can't thank the musicians union enough for the opportunity they gave me."

The scholarship provides eight weeks of intensive instructions under some of the foremost teachers in America. Some of them are Mischel Piastro, conductor, Longines Symphonette; Rafael Druian, concertmaster, Cleveland Symphony; Frank Hauser, concertmaster, San Francisco Symphony; William Lincer, principal violinist, New York Philharmonic; Lorne Munroe, principal cellist, Philadelphia Orchestra; Warren Benfield, Chicago Symphony.

No fee or charge will be made for the application or final audition.

The scholarship provides free transportation to and from their homes, free lodgings and board at the university and all recreational facilities at no cost to the winner.

Audition date is Monday, May 14, at the Musicians' Building, starting at 7 p. m. Deadline for filing applications is Saturday, May 12.

Filing an application binds the applicant to accept the scholarship if selected as the winner. Judges will be announced at a later date.

Only 100 selected contestants will attend the Congress of Strings, one of whom will represent Local 215. Others are to be chosen from cities throughout the United States, Canada, Puerto Rico, Hawaii and Alaska.

Reception, Benefit Sales Are Planned By B'nai B'rith

The Executive Board of Zephaniah Chapter of B'nai B'rith Women met Thursday evening, April 26 at the home of Mrs. Morton Levine. Mrs. Robert Ronder, newly elected president of the organization, conducted the meeting.

It was announced that earlier the same evening B'nai B'rith Women had sponsored a party for the Wassaic Colony in Kingston. Mrs. Stanley Caple and Mrs. Carl Lipton were the hostesses and were assisted by Florrie Dinnerstein, Sharyn Farber, and Jean Katz, members of B'nai B'rith Girls.

Mrs. Harry Flamm, philanthropics chairman, displayed the articles she had made for donation to the B'nai B'rith Bellefaire Children's Home.

Congratulations were offered to Mrs. Merrill Stone for her recent election to the position of recording secretary of the Hudson Valley Council of B'nai B'rith.

Plans were formulated for many future projects. A scholarship committee was formed to review applications for the grant B'nai B'rith Women annually award to a deserving senior girl from Kingston High School. Mrs. Mel Mones is chairing the committee. Serving with her are Miss Blanche Kirschenblum, Mrs. Jack Kahn, and Mrs. George Starkman.

Monday, May 14 the annual paid-up membership reception will be held. Mrs. Irving Alcon, chairman of the function, has announced that an entertaining and unusual program will be presented. Mrs. Ross Ellis is in charge of hospitality and refreshments for the evening.

Mrs. Morris Tucker has been chosen as the chairman for the spring rummage sale which will take place May 21, 22, 23.

The location of the sale will be announced. All members who have items to donate and wish them to be picked up should contact Mrs. Tucker, Mrs. Charles Ronder, or Mrs. Robert Ronder.

The District One Convention will be held at the Concord Hotel June 3, 4, 5. Mrs. Robert Ronder will represent the Chapter. Another delegate will be selected at a later date.

Those in attendance at the executive session were the Mmes: Ross Ellis, Harry Flamm, William Helmrich, Edwin Kalish, Stanley Kohnberg, Leonard Kronick, Morton Levine, Stanley Plasker, Charles Ronder, Robert Ronder, Seymour Semilof.

Local Musicians Union Offers Scholarship To Students of String Instruments Here

Local 215, American Federation of Musicians today announced that candidates are being sought in this area for a full scholarship at Michigan State University to participate in the Fourth Congress of Strings, starting June 17 to August 11.

This was made known by John A. Cole, president of the Local, who appointed a committee composed of Michael Marchuk, secretary-business agent of 215, chairman; Marlin Morrette, band instructor at Kingston High School, and Joseph Kelly, city editor of the Kingston Daily Freeman, who is an honorary member of the Local.

The committee desires applicants to write for entry blanks to the Musicians Union, 508 Albany Avenue, Kingston.

Chairman Marchuk, who will also accept telephone calls, said those eligible to apply are string players of either sex between the age of 15 and 21. Instruments listed are violins, viola, cellos, and double bass.

This is the second year for the scholarship sponsorship.

This is the second year for the scholarship fund which sent Diane E. Meleski, 239 Clifton Avenue, to the 1961 Congress of Strings. About it she says, "I can't thank the musicians union enough for the opportunity they gave me."

The scholarship provides eight weeks of intensive instructions under some of the foremost teachers in America. Some of them are Mischel Piastro, conductor, Longines Symphonette; Rafael Drulan, concertmaster, Cleveland Symphony; Frank Hauser, concertmaster, San Francisco Symphony; William Lincer, principal violinist, New York Philharmonic; Lorne Munroe, principal cellist, Philadelphia Orchestra; Warren Benfield, Chicago Symphony.

No fee or charge will be made for the application or final audition.

The scholarship provides free transportation to and from their homes, free lodgings and board at the university and all recreational facilities at no cost to the winner.

Audition date is Monday, May 14, at the Musicians' Building, starting at 7 p. m. Deadline for filing applications is Saturday, May 12.

Filing an application binds the applicant to accept the scholarship if selected as the winner. Judges will be announced at a later date.

Only 100 selected contestants will attend the Congress of Strings, one of whom will represent Local 215. Others are to be chosen from cities throughout the United States, Canada, Puerto Rico, Hawaii and Alaska.

The Mature Parent

BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Desire for Others' Respect Leads to Personal Impasse

Dear Mrs. Lawrence:

My brother's wedding to a girl he has been engaged to for three years is set for June. He has practically told my husband and me that he doesn't want to go through with it. Then he starts talking about how much he likes the girl, how faithful she has been, how she counts on him and how he couldn't hurt her by telling her how he feels. We like the girl but can't understand why she doesn't see how upset he is. He looks actually sick when she gets to talking about the wedding plans. . . .

ANSWER: You certainly can't tell him whether he wants to marry or not. Let him go on talking to you. If he feels free to keep on expressing his opposing wishes, he may himself recognize which is really his.

As you listen, you might consider the idea that all this overanxious concern for his fiancee includes much concern for himself.

We human beings are very fond of telling ourselves that we are afraid of hurting the other fellow when we are really afraid of hurting his fine opinions of us. Your brother's insistence on this girl's dependence on him may be actually his dependence on her—on her flattering view of him as a wonderful, loyal decisive young man who is never confused about anything and always knows exactly what he wants. His recoil from the idea of discussing his problem with her may be recoil, not so much from hurting her, as recoil from revealing himself to her as a disappointing person.

Is he a young man who makes a god of Loyalty?

Loyalty, you know is not always a virtue. As we grow, our loyalties should change with us. As we learn more about the people and ideas which have commanded our loyalty, truth with ourselves may require us to withdraw it from them. If the American colonists had stayed loyal to King George III we would have no United States. If everyone had remained faithful to the idea that vaccination was sinful, smallpox would still plague us. Loyalty that refuses us to honor the growth that is made in us by new experience can be a shackling and destructive thing, forcing us to pretend to be a person that we have ceased to be.

If what I have said seems true to you, you might ask your brother, "What about loyalty to yourself?"

I repeat, you cannot tell him whether to marry or not to marry his fiancee. As he says, he "likes" her. And affection is not a bad basis for marriage. But his affection is not the problem. The problem is, I think, his need to present himself to her as Super man—a hero above confusion, above struggle and indecision. By not confiding his conflict to her, he is permitting the girl for whom he feels such concern to marry a man she doesn't know.

In some foreign countries young people don't ask to know the people they marry. Your brother and his fiancee don't live in such a country. In America we are entitled to know the people we marry.

SHOWING APPROVAL OF THEIR DAUGHTERS MARRIAGE

Q: A relative of mine, aged 17, eloped three months ago. Her parents have just found out that she is married and expecting a baby. They are making plans to give a reception in a public hall, inviting about 200 people. A friend is also planning to give a shower for her. I think under the circumstances, the reception and shower are out of order and will leave the family open to criticism. Will you please give your opinion concerning this matter?

A: A large reception would be in questionable taste, but there is no reason why the bride's parents may not give a small reception at home in honor of their daughter's marriage and invite relatives and closest friends. It will be best to dispense with a bridal shower; later on, her friend could give a stork shower instead.

Ignoring The Unhappy Years

Q: My husband and I were married 20 years when I divorced him. After living apart for two years, we realized our mistake and were remarried. Next month we will have been married 25 years — that is, counting the two years we were separated. I would like to know if, under the circumstances, it would be proper to have a party of some kind to celebrate the occasion, even though we did not actually live together for 25 years.

A: It will be quite proper to ignore the two unhappy years you were separated and celebrate the 25th anniversary of your original wedding day.

Remarks At Wedding Reception

Q: What are the proper greetings to the bride and groom at their wedding reception? Also, what is one supposed to say to the parents?

A: Congratulate the bridegroom and wish the bride happiness. Make some polite remark to the parents, such as: "How lovely the bride is," or "What a charming couple they make,"

The Mature Parent

BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Dear Mrs. Lawrence:

My brother's wedding to a girl he has been engaged to for three years is set for June. He has practically told my husband and me that he doesn't want to go through with it. Then he starts talking about how much he likes the girl, how faithful she has been, how she counts on him and how he couldn't hurt her by telling her how he feels. We like the girl but can't understand why she doesn't see how upset he is. He looks actually sick when she gets to talking about the wedding plans. . . .

ANSWER: You certainly can't tell him whether he wants to marry or not. Let him go on talking to you. If he feels free to keep on expressing his opposing wishes, he may himself recognize which is really his.

As you listen, you might consider the idea that all this overanxious concern for his fiancee includes much concern for himself.

We human beings are very fond of telling ourselves that we are afraid of hurting the other fellow when we are really afraid of hurting his fine opinions of us. Your brother's insistence on this girl's dependence on him may be actually his dependence on her—on her flattering view of him as a wonderful, loyal decisive young man who is never confused about anything and always knows exactly what he wants. His recoil from the idea of discussing his problem with her may be recoil, not so much from hurting her, as recoil from revealing himself to her as a disappointing person.

Is he a young man who makes a god of Loyalty?

Loyalty, you know is not always a virtue. As we grow, our loyalties should change with us. As we learn more about the people and ideas which have commanded our loyalty, truth with ourselves may require us to withdraw it from them. If the American colonists had stayed loyal to King George III we would have no United States. If everyone had remained faithful to the idea that vaccination was sinful, smallpox would still plague us. Loyalty that refuses us to honor the growth that is made in us by new experience can be a shackling and destructive thing, forcing us to pretend to be a person that we have ceased to be.

If what I have said seems true to you, you might ask your brother, "What about loyalty to yourself?"

I repeat, you cannot tell him whether to marry or not to marry his fiancee. As he says, he "likes" her. And affection is not a bad basis for marriage. But his affection is not the problem. The problem is, I think, his need to present himself to her as Super man—a hero above confusion, above struggle and indecision. By not confiding his conflict to her, he is permitting the girl for whom he feels such concern to marry a man she doesn't know.

Local DAR Group Making Plans for Bazaar, Card Party

Wiltwyck Chapter, DAR, will hold its annual spring bazaar and card party at the Chapter House on Tuesday, May 8. The bazaar and food sale will be continuous from 1-9 p. m. The afternoon dessert-card party is from 1-5, and in the evening from 7-9. This event is open to the public, and reservations for the card party may be made with Mrs. Maynard Mizel.

The food booth will offer an assortment of homemade breads, cakes, and pies. There will also be a candy booth. The fancy booth will feature a wide variety of originally designed aprons for adults and children, and other articles.

Mrs. R. R. Empringham is general chairman and has selected the following committees: Mrs. Harry Rigby Jr., Mrs. Hollis M. Burhans, and the entertainment committee will have charge of the refreshments for the card parties. Mrs. Floyd N. Ellsworth as chairman of the food booth has assisting her Miss Hazel Bloom, Mrs. Charles F. Campbell and Mrs. Charles A. Reis. The apron booth will have Miss Grace Terwilliger as chairman, assisted by Mrs. Adam H. Porter and Mrs. Walter T. Tremper. Mrs. George S. Dart, chairman of the booth of material, will be assisted by Mrs. John H. Haulenbeck. The candy booth will have Mrs. Ralph E. Post as chairman, assisted by Mrs. Harold F. Smith and Miss Jacqueline Post.

Mrs. Conrad J. Gross is chairman of the afternoon card party, and Mrs. Adam H. Porter of the evening party.

Mrs. Hollis M. Burhans and Miss Geraldine Howard have charge of decorating the Chapter House for this event.

JUDITH SUSAN FEINBERG

Judith S. Feinberg Bas Mitzvah Told

The Bas Mitzvah of Judith Susan Feinberg daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Feinberg of High Falls, N. Y., will take place on Saturday, May 5, at 9 a. m. at Ahavath Israel Synagogue. Miss Feinberg has completed her prescribed course in Hebrew studies.

All friends and members of the congregation are cordially invited to attend.

This will be the first Bas Mitzvah ceremony performed in this synagogue.

Remodeling Done At Beauty Salon

Efficient planning to emphasize the ultimate in sanitary conditions and comfort for customers is the keynote in the recent remodeling program completed at the Artistic Beauty Salon, 44 North Front Street.

Michael Mattia, owner of the salon, said the new arrangement gives added space to his modern facilities and the pastel decorations, with improved lighting, gives a "new look of beauty."

Mattia is celebrating his 33rd year in business at the North Front Street address.

Temple Emanuel Sisterhood Plans Antique Show Here

Sisterhood of Temple Emanuel will hold its regular monthly meeting on Wednesday, May 9 at 8 p. m. in the social hall of the Temple, 243 Albany Avenue. A special program, "It Depends on Mother" will be presented in honor of Mother's Day.

Mrs. Herbert Kletske has requested a large attendance at this meeting when planning for the antique show, which will be held May 15 through May 17, will be an important part of the meeting.

Hostesses will be Mrs. Joseph Mautner, Mrs. Paul Mezer, Mrs. Leon Miller, Mrs. Haskell Naigles and Mrs. Ben Oberlander.

Ulster Garden Club Holds Meeting Here

A regular meeting of the Ulster Garden Club was held recently at the home of Mrs. Appleton Gregory. After a short business meeting, Mrs. Herbert Shultz introduced Fred Johnston who gave a talk on the Senate House.

Delving back into the 17th Century, he told of important meetings held here, describing the original woodwork, gardens and furnishings of the building.

Mr. Johnston stressed the importance of keeping Kingston beautiful by preserving the old trees and buildings, replanting where it had been necessary to take down trees and in general preserving the heritage of the community.

It was announced that two Florentine urns had been presented by a member to Ulster Academy Park. These are to be planted by the Garden Club members at a later date.

Refreshments were served with Mrs. Robert Rodie presiding at the tea table.

Lake Katrine

The Lake Katrine Parent-Teachers Association will hold its monthly meeting Thursday 8 p. m. in the school auditorium.

The main feature of the evening will be a Gymnastic Exhibition by some of the children in the fourth, fifth and sixth grades under the direction of Joseph Defino who is the athletic director of the Lake Katrine School.

The nominating committee appointed at the last meeting will make its report at this meeting and present a slate of officers.

A report will also be given on the plans for the pancake supper which will be held at the school May 19, 3:30 to 7 p. m. Tickets will go on sale May 2. There will be movies, games and awards for the children.

Fordham Dean Will Speak Here Sunday; Court Santa Maria

Court Santa Maria No. 164, Catholic Daughters of America will hold its annual communion breakfast Sunday, May 6. Members are invited to attend Mass at 8 o'clock at St. Mary's Church. Breakfast will be served at 9 o'clock at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

Mrs. Walter Fallon, chairman, has requested that reservations be made before Thursday, May 3. Since the telephone squad will not notify members as in previous years, all members planning to attend the breakfast should contact Mrs. Fallon or one of the committee members. Tickets may be obtained from the Mmes. Thomas Provenzano, Daniel Halloran, Frank Fabbie, Louis Spada and Miss Joan L. Woinoski.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Austin V. Carey, chaplain of the Court, has arranged for the guest speaker, who will be the Rev. Charles A. O'Neill, S. J.

Father O'Neill, a native of New York City, entered the Jesuits in 1918 at St. Andrew-on-Hudson, Poughkeepsie, receiving his B. A. degree from Fordham College and his M. A. from Woodstock College, Maryland. Following his training at Woodstock, he returned to Fordham where he obtained a PH.D. in Social Economics. Post doctoral studies were pursued at St. Buenos College, Wales. He was ordained a priest on June 21, 1932.

From 1936 to 1940, Father O'Neill served as professor of Economics of Georgetown University, Washington, D. C. He entered the Navy as a Chaplain in February, 1941 and remained in the Naval Service until June, 1953, when he resigned with the rank of full commander. He was promoted to the rank of Captain in July, 1954.

During this period, he served as chaplain of the Naval Hospital at Portsmouth, Va., of the marine combat transport, USS President Hayes, which took part in the first major operation against Guadalcanal. After a 23 month tour of duty aboard that ship, Father O'Neill was transferred to Naval Distribution Center, Shoemaker, Calif., where he remained as Senior Chaplain of the largest distribution center on the west coast where 30,000 sailors were stationed awaiting overseas transportation. At the conclusion of this tour of duty he was assigned to the USS Champlain airplane carrier. In April 1946 he was transferred to the USS Franklin D. Roosevelt, the largest carrier in the world, then plowing the high seas. The F.D.R. accompanied the Fleet on a good will mission to the Mediterranean stopping at Greece, Naples, Casablanca, Algiers, Tangier, Malta.

At the time of his resignation from the Navy in June, 1953 Father O'Neil was senior chaplain of the U. S. Marine Air Force Base, El Toro, Santa Ana, Calif. He was then to establish the Adult Education Center at Canisius College in June, 1953.

Father O'Neill is now the Dean of Fordham's School of General Studies.

Father's topic at the Communion breakfast will be "Federal Aid to Education."

All members, prospective members and friends of the Court are invited to attend.

Court Santa Maria No. 164, Catholic Daughters of America will hold its annual communion breakfast Sunday, May 6. Members are invited to attend Mass at 8 o'clock at St. Mary's Church. Breakfast will be served at 9 o'clock at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

Mrs. Walter Fallon, chairman, has requested that reservations be made before Thursday, May 3. Since the telephone squad will not notify members as in previous years, all members planning to attend the breakfast should contact Mrs. Fallon or one of the committee members. Tickets may be obtained from the Mmes. Thomas Provenzano, Daniel Halloran, Frank Fabbie, Louis Spada and Miss Joan L. Woinoski.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Austin V. Carey, chaplain of the Court, has arranged for the guest speaker, who will be the Rev. Charles A. O'Neill, S. J.

Father O'Neill, a native of New York City, entered the Jesuits in 1918 at St. Andrew-on-Hudson, Poughkeepsie, receiving his B. A. degree from Fordham College and his M. A. from Woodstock College, Maryland. Following his training at Woodstock, he returned to Fordham where he obtained a PH.D. in Social Economics. Post doctoral studies were pursued at St. Buenos College, Wales. He was ordained a priest on June 21, 1932.

From 1936 to 1940, Father O'Neill served as professor of Economics of Georgetown University, Washington, D. C. He entered the Navy as a Chaplain in February, 1941 and remained in the Naval Service until June, 1953, when he resigned with the rank of full commander. He was promoted to the rank of Captain in July, 1954.

During this period, he served as chaplain of the Naval Hospital at Portsmouth, Va., of the marine combat transport, USS President Hayes, which took part in the first major operation against Guadalcanal. After a 23 month tour of duty aboard that ship, Father O'Neill was transferred to Naval Distribution Center, Shoemaker, Calif., where he remained as Senior Chaplain of the largest distribution center on the west coast where 30,000 sailors were stationed awaiting overseas transportation. At the conclusion of this tour of duty he was assigned to the USS Champlain airplane carrier. In April 1946 he was transferred to the USS Franklin D. Roosevelt, the largest carrier in the world, then plowing the high seas. The F.D.R. accompanied the Fleet on a good will mission to the Mediterranean stopping at Greece, Naples, Casablanca, Algiers, Tangier, Malta.

At the time of his resignation from the Navy in June, 1953 Father O'Neil was senior chaplain of the U. S. Marine Air Force Base, El Toro, Santa Ana, Calif. He was then to establish the Adult Education Center at Canisius College in June, 1953.

Father O'Neill is now the Dean of Fordham's School of General Studies.

Father's topic at the Communion breakfast will be "Federal Aid to Education."

All members, prospective members and friends of the Court are invited to attend.

Local DAR Group Making Plans for Bazaar, Card Party

Wiltwyck Chapter, DAR, will hold its annual spring bazaar and card party at the Chapter House on Tuesday, May 8. The bazaar and food sale will be continuous from 1-9 p. m. The afternoon dessert-card party is from 1-5, and in the evening from 7-9. This event is open to the public, and reservations for the card party may be made with Mrs. Maynard Mizel.

The food booth will offer an assortment of homemade breads, cakes, and pies. There will also be a candy booth. The fancy booth will feature a wide variety of originally designed aprons for adults and children, and other articles.

Mrs. R. R. Empringham is general chairman and has selected the following committees: Mrs. Harry Rigby Jr., Mrs. Hollis M. Burhans, and the entertainment committee will have charge of the refreshments for the card parties. Mrs. Floyd N. Ellsworth as chairman of the food booth has assisting her Miss Hazel Bloom, Mrs. Charles F. Campbell and Mrs. Charles A. Reis. The apron booth will have Miss Grace Terwilliger as chairman, assisted by Mrs. Adam H. Porter and Mrs. Walter T. Tremper. Mrs. George S. Dart, chairman of the booth of material, will be assisted by Mrs. John H. Haulenbeck. The candy booth will have Mrs. Ralph E. Post as chairman, assisted by Mrs. Harold F. Smith and Miss Jacqueline Post.

Mrs. Conrad J. Gross is chairman of the afternoon card party, and Mrs. Adam H. Porter of the evening party.

Mrs. Hollis M. Burhans and Miss Geraldine Howard have charge of decorating the Chapter House for this event.

Rummage Sale

The Fellowship Guild of First Presbyterian Church will hold a rummage sale at 596 Broadway May 7-8-9, starting at 9:30 a. m. Donations will be received Saturday.

Many residents of Yemen chew the mildly narcotic leaves of the kat tree. Kat cuds in cheeks are so common that visitors sometimes think all the inhabitants of Yemen have mumps.

JUDITH SUSAN FEINBERG

Judith S. Feinberg Bas Mitzvah Told

The Bas Mitzvah of Judith Susan Feinberg daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Feinberg of High Falls, N. Y., will take place on Saturday, May 5, at 9 a. m. at Ahavath Israel Synagogue. Miss Feinberg has completed her prescribed course in Hebrew studies.

All friends and members of the congregation are cordially invited to attend.

This will be the first Bas Mitzvah ceremony performed in this synagogue.

Remodeling Done At Beauty Salon

Efficient planning to emphasize the ultimate in sanitary conditions and comfort for customers is the keynote in the recent remodeling program completed at the Artistic Beauty Salon, 44 North Front Street.

Michael Mattia, owner of the salon, said the new arrangement gives added space to his modern facilities and the pastel decorations, with improved lighting, gives a "new look of beauty."

Mattia is celebrating his 33rd year in business at the North Front Street address.

Temple Emanuel Sisterhood Plans Antique Show Here

Sisterhood of Temple Emanuel will hold its regular monthly meeting on Wednesday, May 9 at 8 p. m. in the social hall of the Temple, 243 Albany Avenue. A special program, "It Depends on Mother" will be presented in honor of Mother's Day.

Mrs. Herbert Kletske has requested a large attendance at this meeting when planning for the antique show, which will be held May 15 through May 17, will be an important part of the meeting.

Hostesses will be Mrs. Joseph Mautner, Mrs. Paul Mezer, Mrs. Leon Miller, Mrs. Haskell Naigles and Mrs. Ben Oberlander.

Ulster Garden Club Holds Meeting Here

A regular meeting of the Ulster Garden Club was held recently at the home of Mrs. Appleton Gregory. After a short business meeting, Mrs. Herbert Shultz introduced Fred Johnston who gave a talk on the Senate House.

Delving back into the 17th Century, he told of important meetings held here, describing the original woodwork, gardens and furnishings of the building.

Mr. Johnston stressed the importance of keeping Kingston beautiful by preserving the old trees and buildings, replanting where it had been necessary to take down trees and in general preserving the heritage of the community.

It was announced that two Florentine urns had been presented by a member to Ulster Academy Park. These are to be planted by the Garden Club members at a later date.

Refreshments were served with Mrs. Robert Rodie presiding at the tea table.

Citizens' Group Answers Taxpayers on Bond Issue

The Citizens' Advisory Committee on Saugerties Schools today answered a statement made by Saugerties Taxpayers Association in which the taxpayer's group outlined its reasons for opposing the proposed bond issuue to provide a new elementary school in the Katsbaan area. Voting on the bond issue will be on Wednesday, May 9.

The statement follows:

"There recently appeared in local papers an article by the 'Committee on Eduucation of the Saugerties Taxpayers Association.' Likewise, "paid announcements" have been made anonymously over the air regarding the proposed bond issue of the Saugerties Central School District.

"When articles regarding action by the Board of Education or by the Citizens Advisory Committee appear, or announcements are made over the air by either of these groups, the reader or hearer knows immediately from previous publication of names who is concerned. The Citizens Advisory Committee believes it is only ethical, and fair to the public, that the chief supporters and officers of the so-called Committee on Education, and of the Saugerties Taxpayers Association, make themselves known rather than hide hehind anonymity.

"Nevertheless, since time is of the essence, the Citizens Advisory Committee, of which Miss Grace Anderson and Norman Nitschke are co-chairman, hastens to supply answers to the questions recently raised in the press by the anonymous Committee on Education.

"Question: Katsbaan site questioned.

"Answer: The northwestern area was chosen by the Citizens Advisory Committee and by the Board as the site of the next elementary building because it is the only major population area of the district that does not now have a school building larger than a one room building. Also, as the map shows, Katsbaan site is almost exactly in the center of the northern half of the Central District. Also, the site is at the center of roads leading in from North, East, South and West. Also, there are enough children all ready living in the nearby areas from which roads lead into the Katsbaan site to fill the building there.

"Question: Why a back lot site with no frontage?

"Answer: The Board and the Advisory Committee purposely chose a site not too close to the highway so as to avoid undue noise as well as traffic hazards.

"Furthermore, this site would make it possible for the placement of the building within a distance of approximately 200 feet of the highway if that were desirable. Furthermore, this site is not a back lot. It fronts on Route 32 and the Board has taken an option with the right to buy from Mrs. Elliot the very narrow strip of land owned by her which lies between Route 32 and the Preston lot on which the building is to be located. The only part of the Preston lot which is low is the extreme western portion along the Beaverkill Creek. That was included in the parcel so that there might be drainage available to the creek—an essential requisite for a school site. There is acreage in the Preston parcel of land wholly adequate for building, playground and parking purposes, also for expansion, well removed from the stream and sloping naturally to the west in such a manner as to afford rapid run-off of surface water.

"Question: Cost thought to be too high.

"Answer: The estimated per square foot cost of the Katsbaan building is $16.90; of the Junior high school nucleus-addition $16.65. Figures published by the Division of School Buildings and Grounds of the State Education Department on April 4, 1962 show that there are 59 school building projects currently in progress in New York State and that their median square foot cost is $18.84. Several local people believe the planned cost of the two proposed buildings here is too low. But those who have done the planning have been very economical.

"Question: The need for a junior high school nucleus-addition is questioned.

"Answer: The present high school building which was planned to accomodate 950 pupils currently houses 1,060. By the school year 1963-64 the best estimates the Board of Education can secure show that there will be an excess above present high school capacity of 266 pupils. A new building cannot be expected before that time. By the school year 1966-67, it is estimated the excess in high school enrollment above pupil capacity will be 565 pupils.

"In 1971-72 it will be 990 pupils. People who question the need for additional high school facilities reveal that they simply do not know the facts and that they have not studied the census figures. When parochial high schools are built in this vicinity, the drain-off of pupils attending them will still not be so great as to make the building of a high school addition unessential at this time.

"Question: Choice of architects is questioned.

"Answer: The selection of an architect was made by the Board of Eduucation consisting of nine men and women who made the choice after having worked closely with the firm of Sargent, Webster, Crenshaw and Folley for approximately five years during which time two new buildings were built under the guidance of these architects, and a bond issue of three and one-half million dollars spent. Who should know better than the Board of Education whether this firm of architects is satisfactory? Certainly, this firm is one of the largest in the United States. They have built hundreds of school buildings and as a result are experts. They have a large staff of experts available to help solve any problems. A different Board of Education might have chosen another architect. That architect might or might not prove to be better.

"Question: The cost of a public school building locally is greater than the cost of St. Mary's new building.

"Answer: The Mt. Marion building cost $16.80 per square foot. That cost is very much in line with the cost of public school buildings erected in New York State the same year — all of which meet minimum state department requirements including auditorium-gym; administrative area; special subject teacher rooms, and the like.

"Question: Proposal number two was put on the ballot to influence votes.

"Answer: Anyone who is suspicious can always point a finger. The true reason for including this question on the ballot is that in the opinion of the Committee and the Board, the Barclay Heights site should be the location for the next elementary building after the Katsbaan building is completed.

"Barclay Heights is the next logical place for an elementary building after the Katsbaan building. If putting this question on the ballot influences some favorable votes, that's fine. It may lose some votes, too. The Board and the Committee in placing this question on the ballot have tried to think in terms of the welfare of the district and of the children. The Board of Education regard themselves as fortunate in having been able to secure the option on the Barclay Heights site. Available land in that area is becoming very scarce.

"Quesettion: An itemized statement of the spending of the three and one-half million dollar bond issue should be made.

"Answer: Regulations do not require such a published report. Furthermore, there remain small unexpended balances in three of the building accounts to pay yet unfinished minor items. Nevertheless, if any taxpayer or interested citizen wishes an interim report, mimeographed copies are available at the Administration building on Hill Street. But, the Committee does know that no single expenditure of bond issue money has been made without autthorization by the Board of Education in an official open meeting. At most of these meetings visitors have been present. Not only is this true, but the Board of Education is required to make a periodic report to the State Department of Education of its bond issue expenditures. Also, the financial records of the Board of Education are public property and may be inspected by the taxpayers. Furthermore, not only is there an annual audit of the financial books of the Board of Education by the firm of Ronder and Ronder of Kingston, but there is also a periodic audit by the Bureau of Audit and Control of New York State. The last such audit took place less than two months ago."

Events Scheduled

Senior Girl Scouts Cindy Coons and Susan Brown will entertain the five to seven year old children at this Saturday's Story Hour session at the Saugerties Public Library, 10:30 a. m. A Mothers Day theme will prevail and the children will be shown how to make cards while they listen to stories.

The Saugerties Evening Unit of the Home Extension Service will hold its meeting at the home of Mrs. Robert Baker, 2 Garden Court Tuesday, May 8 at 8 p. m. Next year's program will be outlined and discussed and Mrs. Russell Lavezzo will present a program, Beauty by the Yard. Hostesses will be Mrs. S. Brinker Beck and Mrs. Lloyd Conard.

Lions Club Hears Views on School Building Issue

Members of the Saugerties Lions Club heard Attorney Louis P. Francello present his reasons why the Saugerties Central School District's forthcoming bond issue should be vetoed when they met at the Flamingo Monday night.

Francello, who also presided over the meeting in the absence of King Lion Henry Breitenbach, assailed the bond issue on three counts—Price, Place and Plan. This was a summation of the account released by the Taxpayers Association to the press Thursday, April 26. The members have now been informed on both sides of this issue, having heard the affirmative view from Miss May Evans, director of elementary education for the Saugerties Schools, who was the guest speaker April 16.

Frank Greco reported for the committee which is investigating the possibility of a state park near Saugerties.

Donald Snell, a member of the Kingston Lions Club was a guest, as was Ignazio Bosco, brother of Lion member Joseph Bosco.

There will be no meeting Monday night but members of the Saugerties club are invited to a dinner at the SRS Home, Cottekill, with the Rondout Valley Lions Club May 10.

Final Meeting Of P-TA Slated

The final meeting of the Saugerties Central Schools Parent-Teacher Association will be held Wednesday, May 16, in the high school at 8 p. m.

The first portion of the meeting will take place in the auditorium. The officers elected at the April meeting will be installed and a special program involving several humorous skits will be presented. The theme is being kept a secret by the committee, but those in charge assure the membership of some unusual entertainment.

The second portion of the meeting will be held in the cafeteria. A social hour is planned with community singing. Refreshments will be served.

Voting Qualifications

The Saugerties Board of Education has issued the following information on qualifications for voting on school issues in the Saugerties Centralized District which includes the forthcoming bond issue vote May 9.

"A person shall be entitled to vote at any school meeting for the election of school district officers, and upon all other matters which may be brought before such meeting, who is a citizen of the United States; twenty-one years of age; a resident within the district for a period of thirty days next preceding the meeting at which he offers to vote; and who in addition thereto possesses one of the following three qualifications: (a) Owns or is the spouse of an owner, leases, hires, or is in the possession under contract of purchase of, real property in such district liable to taxation for school purposes, but the occupation of real property by a person as a lodger or boarder shall not entitle such person to vote, or (b) is the parent of a child of school age, provided such a child shall have attended the district school in the district in which the meeting is held for a period of at least eight weeks during the year preceding such school meeting, or (c) not being the parent, has permanently residing with him a child of school age who shall have attended the district school for a period of at least eight weeks during the year preceding such meeting..

No person shall be deemed to be ineligible to vote at any such meeting, by reason of sex, who has the other qualifications required by this section."

High School Concert

The instrumental music department of the Saugerties High School will present a band and orchestra concert Friday in the high school auditorium.

There will be selections presented by the junior orchestra, senior orchestra, junior band and the senior band. The program will be concluded with several selections by the dance band.

Several of the highlights on the program will be Theme From The Apartment, a piano duet by Gerald Crosby and Michaeel Suenram; Trumpets Wild, a trumpet trio played by Jack Pakanen, Richard Curtis and Richard Kudlacik; Holiday for Trombones, a trombone trio played by Phyllis McLaughlin, Michael Suenram and Jeffrey Adels.

Village Clean-Up

Saturday, May 5, is Village Clean Up Day. This is part of project Operation Pride, which is being sponsored by the Jaycees to improve the appearance of Saugerties.

Beginning 11 a. m. three village trucks, manned by Jaycees, will pick up any refuse left at the roadside. Since the purpose of the clean up day is to improve the appearance of the village, only types of refuse found outdoors will be collected. No garbage will be collected.

It is hoped that everyone will cooperate with the Jaycees in making this phase of the propect a success.

McKay Promoted

Lance Cpl. Lawrence J. McKay, USMC, son of Mr. and Mrs. James L. McKay of High Falls, was promoted to the present rank April 9 while serving with the First Battalion of the Eighth Marine Regiment, an infantry unit of the Second Marine Division at Camp Lejeune, N. C.

POPPY GIRL—Dorothy Patricia Wade, five year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wade of Bennett Avenue, Saugerties, is this year's VFW Buddy Poppy Girl. The annual sale of the flowers made by hospitalized veterans will begin Saturday, sponsored by the Saugerties Memorial Post 5034, VFW, and its auxiliary. (Freeman photo)

Emmy Nominees Avoid Big Names

Judy, Queen Victoria Top Contenders for 1962 Show

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—It's Queen Victoria against Judy Garland—and Dr. Ben Casey shouldering his way through the crowded competition close behind them—as Emmy time comes again to television.

The nominations are in, and secret ballots to be cast by 6,000 members of the National Academy of Telveision Arts and Sciences will decide who will win the coveted awards at a May 22 telecast.

Ben Casey Wins

The 137 nominations—for 26 categories — were announced Tuesday.

Leading contenders for the 1961-62 Program of the Year honors are Judy Garland and the "Victoria Regina" biography of Queen Victoria, which starred Julie Harris. Miss Garland won a bid for her Feb. 25 special.

Ben Casey, ABC's young surgeon, won eight nominations, including a nod for the young star, Vincent Edwards.

Many of the famous old names of television—Jack Benny, Robert Young, Bob Hope and Dinah Shore—didn't get a tumble. A lot of eager youngsters skyrocketed into the top competition.

There was an emphasis on the documentary, news and public affairs program. Of the five Program of the Year nominees, three were in this area: "Biography of a Bookie Joint," "Vincent Van Gogh," and "Walk In My Shoes," a study of racial integration.

ABC Rates High

The ABC-TV network emerged as a top contender. Last year the network gathered in four nominations. This year it won 35. NBC-TV got 54 and CBS-TV 45.

In the dramatic field, "Victoria Regina" promised to make a sweep similar to that of last season's "Macbeth." The Harris vehicle scored in seven categories.

In addition to the program honor, Miss Garland also was in the running for the best musical performance—along with Perry Como, Yves Montand, Carol Burnett and Edie Adams. The Garland show was also up for best variety program, with the shows of Perry Como, Walt Disney, Edie Adams and Garry Moore.

Other Nominees

James Donald as Victoria's consort is in the race for best single performance against Milton Berle "Doyle Against the House" (Dick Powell Show); Peter Falk, "The Price of Tomatoes" (Dick Powell Show); Lee Marvin, "People Need People" (Alcoa Premiere); Mickey Rooney, "Somebody's Waiting" (Dick Powell Show).

"Victoria Regina" also was nominated for best dramatic program along with "People Need People" and the series "Ben Casey," "The Defenders," the Dick Powell Show and "Naked City."

Two Organization Candidates Avoid Names of Others

HARRISBURG (AP) — Pennsylvania's two organization-backed candidates for governor are following a time-tested political practice in their primary campaigns—ignore the opposition.

With only two weeks left before the May 15 Democratic and Republican primaries neither of the organization choices — Democrat Richardson Dilworth and Republican William W. Scranton—has acknowledged the existence of any other candidates for their parties' respective nominations.

In fact, they are concentrating their fire on each other, a la fall campaign.

Scranton is opposed by J. Collins McSparran, master of the Pennsylvania State Grange. Dilworth is opposed by Harvey F. Johnston, McKees Rocks real estate and insurance broker, and Charles J. Schmitt, Girard, who describes himself in his campaign literature as "financially poor and would appreciate your vote."

What Dilworth and Scranton are saying about each other could be a dress rehearsal for lines they will recite in the fall.

Scranton told a Norristown audience April 26 that Dilworth, former mayor of Philadelphia, is "a reformer who turned protector of corruptors."

Said Scranton:

"This man Dilworth rode into office as mayor behind the white banner of reform. But in the last period of his reign he was the greatest protector of the corruptors and the bribers."

Dilworth counter-attacked at Gettysburg on the alleged bribery accusation:

"It was discovered by my administration, the people responsible were rooted out and we recovered every penny of the million dollars that was lost on some contracts. Nobody accuses the board chairman or the directors when a bank teller embezzles money . . ."

Chapel for Skiers

ST. SAUVEUR, Que. (AP)—The Rev. Horace Baugh preaches at the Protestant Church of St. Francis of the Birds in the Laurentian resort area. Worshippers come to the little log church, known as the Skiers Chapel, in ski garb, parking their skis outside for a jaunt to the hills after the Sunday service. This starts at 9:30 a. m. so that everyone has time to reach the slopes when the ski tows start operating. Mr. Baugh also administers to two other churches in the vicinity. Each November he goes to Florida to preach at the All Saints Church in Miami Beach. "It's always interesting to see what they're doing at the other resorts," he says.

The world's tallest mountain, partly submerged in the Pacific Ocean, is Mauna Kea in the Hawaiin Islands. It is 33,476 feet tall.

Hollywood News, Views

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The luncheon crowd in the MGM commisary stared as the tall, slender figure strode into the room.

None had to ask his name. It was Robert Walker.

The young man is 22, about the same age his father was at the start of his Hollywood career.

The first Robert Walker was a shy, bespectacled boy from Salt Lake City who found fame in a small but important role as a GI in the wartime film "Bataan." He followed with "See Here, Private Hargrove," "Till the Clouds Roll By," "The Clock," "Song of Love," "Strangers on a Train" and "My Son John."

Walker died in 1951 at 32. His son Bobby then 9, living with his mother, Jennifer Jones, who had become the wife of David O. Selznick.

Now William Perlberg and George Seaton, who starred Miss Jones in her Academy Award-winninr "Song of Bernadette," have given young Walker his first screen role—as a GI in "The Hook."

I talked with Bob before he left for Catalina location with Kirk Douglas, Nick Adams and others of the cast. I told him I had known his father and he seemed appreciative. But when I asked what he remembered of his father he said, "I'd rather not talk about that."

Otherwise he was frank and open. He admitted his school career was less than a success.

"I got up to high school," he said. "I went to 14 or 15 different schools and didn't like any of them. I just didn't care about the subjects. I got along pretty well in English, but things like mathematics held no charm for me.

"I didn't do any acting in school. I wasn't the least bit interested in it."

That came only in the last year or two, he said.

"I was taking a course in playwriting in New York and I decided I should know something about the problems of acting."

He apprenticed in summer stock, played "Twelfth Night" in New York, "Bells Are Ringing" in Florida and a childrens' show on Broadway.

"Once I started acting, I knew it was for me," Walker said.

Mistrial Declared In Trudeau's Case

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Judge Leo W. Breed has declared a mistrial in the first-degree murder trial of ex-convict Charles Trudeau because of what he termed "highly improper and highly prejudicial" questions asked by the prosecutor.

Trudeau, 50, had been on trial since April 2 in the strangling of Mrs. Louise Temple, a 51-year-old real-estate saleswoman and divorcee, last August.

A dispute between Judge Breed and Dist. Atty. Joseph A. Ryan broke out Tuesday in Onondaga County Court during Ryan's cross-examination of two defense witnesses, both parole officers.

Ryan asked a series of questions on Trudeau's being on parole. Each was objected to by Trudeau's defense attorney, and each time the objection was sustained by the judge.

However, Ryan continued to pursue the same line questioning, and told the court:

"The people's cross-examination is being unduly restricted."

At one point, the judge said: "I'm going to caution you, Mr. Ryan, that any further questioning along this line may result in a mistrial."

However, Ryan continued the same line of questioning, and when the defense objected and moved for a mistrial, Breed granted the motion.

"You did it deliberately," Breed told the district attorney. "In my opinion, this is just what you wanted."

Ryan could not be reached after the court session to determine what his future course would be. Trudeau was returned to the city jail without bail.

Trudeau, an unemployed plasterer, was accused of killing Mrs. Temple after she showed him an expensive suburban home that was for sale.

Next 70 Years, He Walks

PERTH, Australia (AP) — An 18-year-old Perth boy has been forbidden to drive an automobile until he is 87.

The youth appeared in Perth Children's Court, and pleaded guilty to three charges of having unlawfully used motor vehicles. He turned 18 after committing the offences.

Police told the court that because of his previous driving suspensions the youth could NOT obtain a driving license until the year 2031.

As with all children's court cases, the youth name was not disclosed.

Citizens' Group Answers Taxpayers on Bond Issue

The Citizens' Advisory Committee on Saugerties Schools today answered a statement made by Saugerties Taxpayers Association in which the taxpayer's group outlined its reasons for opposing the proposed bond issuue to provide a new elementary school in the Katsbaan area. Voting on the bond issue will be on Wednesday, May 9.

The statement follows:

"There recently appeared in local papers an article by the 'Committee on Eduucation of the Saugerties Taxpayers Association.' Likewise, "paid announcements" have been made anonymously over the air regarding the proposed bond issue of the Saugerties Central School District.

"When articles regarding action by the Board of Education or by the Citizens Advisory Committee appear, or announcements are made over the air by either of these groups, the reader or hearer knows immediately from previous publication of names who is concerned. The Citizens Advisory Committee believes it is only ethical, and fair to the public, that the chief supporters and officers of the so-called Committee on Education, and of the Saugerties Taxpayers Association, make themselves known rather than hide behind anonymity.

"Nevertheless, since time is of the essence, the Citizens Advisory Committee, of which Miss Grace Anderson and Norman Nitschke are co-chairman, hastens to supply answers to the questions recently raised in the press by the anonymous Committee on Education.

"Question: Katsbaan site questioned.

"Answer: The northwestern area was chosen by the Citizens Advisory Committee and by the Board as the site of the next elementary building because it is the only major population area of the district that does not now have a school building larger than a one room building. Also, as the map shows, Katsbaan site is almost exactly in the center of the northern half of the Central District. Also, the site is at the center of roads leading in from North, East, South and West. Also, there are enough children all ready living in the nearby areas from which roads lead into the Katsbaan site to fill the building there.

"Question: Why a back lot site with no frontage?

"Answer: The Board and the Advisory Committee purposely chose a site not too close to the highway so as to avoid undue noise as well as traffic hazards.

"Furthermore, this site would make it possible for the placement of the building within a distance of approximately 200 feet of the highway if that were desirable. Furthermore, this site is not a back lot. It fronts on Route 32 and the Board has taken an option with the right to buy from Mrs. Elliot the very narrow strip of land owned by her which lies between Route 32 and the Preston lot on which the building is to be located. The only part of the Preston lot which is low is the extreme western portion along the Beaverkill Creek. That was included in the parcel so that there might be drainage available to the creek—an essential requisite for a school site. There is acreage in the Preston parcel of land wholly adequate for building, playground and parking purposes, also for expansion, well removed from the stream and sloping naturally to the west in such a manner as to afford rapid run-off of surface water.

"Question: Cost thought to be too high.

"Answer: The estimated per square foot cost of the Katsbaan building is $16.90; of the Junior high school nucleus-addition $16.65. Figures published by the Division of School Buildings and Grounds of the State Education Department on April 4, 1962 show that there are 59 school building projects currently in progress in New York State and that their median square foot cost is $18.84. Several local people believe the planned cost of the two proposed buildings here is too low. But those who have done the planning have been very economical.

"Question: The need for a junior high school nucleus-addition is questioned.

"Answer: The present high school building which was planned to accomodate 950 pupils currently houses 1,060. By the school year 1963-64 the best estimates the Board of Education can secure show that there will be an excess above present high school capacity of 266 pupils. A new building cannot be expected before that time. By the school year 1966-67, it is estimated the excess in high school enrollment above pupil capacity will be 565 pupils.

"In 1971-72 it will be 990 pupils. People who question the need for additional high school facilities reveal that they simply do not know the facts and that they have not studied the census figures. When parochial high schools are built in this vicinity, the drain-off of pupils attending them will still not be so great as to make the building of a high school addition unessential at this time.

"Question: Choice of architects is questioned.

"Answer: The selection of an architect was made by the Board of Eduucation consisting of nine men and women who made the choice after having worked closely with the firm of Sargent, Webster, Crenshaw and Folley for approximately five years during which time two new buildings were built under the guidance of these architects, and a bond issue of three and one-half million dollars spent. Who should know better than the Board of Education whether this firm of architects is satisfactory? Certainly, this firm is one of the largest in the United States. They have built hundreds of school buildings and as a result are experts. They have a large staff of experts available to help solve any problems. A different Board of Education might have chosen another architect. That architect might or might not prove to be better.

"Question: The cost of a public school building locally is greater than the cost of St. Mary's new building.

"Answer: The Mt. Marion building cost $16.80 per square foot. That cost is very much in line with the cost of public school buildings erected in New York State the same year — all of which meet minimum state department requirements including auditorium-gym; administrative area; special subject teacher rooms, and the like.

"Question: Proposal number two was put on the ballot to influence votes.

"Answer: Anyone who is suspicious can always point a finger. The true reason for including this question on the ballot is that in the opinion of the Committee and the Board, the Barclay Heights site should be the location for the next elementary building after the Katsbaan building is completed.

"Barclay Heights is the next logical place for an elementary building after the Katsbaan building. If putting this question on the ballot influences some favorable votes, that's fine. It may lose some votes, too. The Board and the Committee in placing this question on the ballot have tried to think in terms of the welfare of the district and of the children. The Board of Education regard themselves as fortunate in having been able to secure the option on the Barclay Heights site. Available land in that area is becoming very scarce.

"Questtion: An itemized statement of the spending of the three and one-half million dollar bond issue should be made.

"Answer: Regulations do not require such a published report. Furthermore, there remain small unexpended balances in three of the building accounts to pay yet unfinished minor items. Nevertheless, if any taxpayer or interested citizen wishes an interim report, mimeographed copies are available at the Administration building on Hill Street. But, the Committee does know that no single expenditure of bond issue money has been made without autthorization by the Board of Education in an official open meeting. At most of these meetings visitors have been present. Not only is this true, but the Board of Education is required to make a periodic report to the State Department of Education of its bond issue expenditures. Also, the financial records of the Board of Education are public property and may be inspected by the taxpayers. Furthermore, not only is there an annual audit of the financial books of the Board of Education by the firm of Ronder and Ronder of Kingston, but there is also a periodic audit by the Bureau of Audit and Control of New York State. The last such audit took place less than two months ago."

Events Scheduled

Senior Girl Scouts Cindy Coons and Susan Brown will entertain the five to seven year old children at this Saturday's Story Hour session at the Saugerties Public Library, 10:30 a. m. A Mothers Day theme will prevail and the children will be shown how to make cards while they listen to stories.

The Saugerties Evening Unit of the Home Extension Service will hold its meeting at the home of Mrs. Robert Baker, 2 Garden Court Tuesday, May 8 at 8 p. m. Next year's program will be outlined and discussed and Mrs. Russell Lavezzo will present a program, Beauty by the Yard. Hostesses will be Mrs. S. Brinker Beck and Mrs. Lloyd Conard.

Lions Club Hears Views on School Building Issue

Members of the Saugerties Lions Club heard Attorney Louis P. Francello present his reasons why the Saugerties Central School District's forthcoming bond issue should be vetoed when they met at the Flamingo Monday night.

Francello, who also presided over the meeting in the absence of King Lion Henry Breitenbach, assailed the bond issue on three counts—Price, Place and Plan. This was a summation of the account released by the Taxpayers Association to the press Thursday, April 26. The members have now been informed on both sides of this issue, having heard the affirmative view from Miss May Evans, director of elementary education for the Saugerties Schools, who was the guest speaker April 16.

Frank Greco reported for the committee which is investigating the possibility of a state park near Saugerties.

Donald Snell, a member of the Kingston Lions Club was a guest, as was Ignazio Bosco, brother of Lion member Joseph Bosco.

There will be no meeting Monday night but members of the Saugerties club are invited to a dinner at the SRS Home, Cottekill, with the Rondout Valley Lions Club May 10.

Final Meeting Of P-TA Slated

The final meeting of the Saugerties Central Schools Parent-Teacher Association will be held Wednesday, May 16, in the high school at 8 p. m.

The first portion of the meeting will take place in the auditorium. The officers elected at the April meeting will be installed and a special program involving several humorous skits will be presented. The theme is being kept a secret by the committee, but those in charge assure the membership of some unusual entertainment.

The second portion of the meeting will be held in the cafeteria. A social hour is planned with community singing. Refreshments will be served.

Voting Qualifications

The Saugerties Board of Education has issued the following information on qualifications for voting on school issues in the Saugerties Centralized District which includes the forthcoming bond issue vote May 9.

"A person shall be entitled to vote at any school meeting for the election of school district officers, and upon all other matters which may be brought before such meeting, who is a citizen of the United States; twenty-one years of age; a resident within the district for a period of thirty days next preceding the meeting at which he offers to vote; and who in addition thereto possesses one of the following three qualifications: (a) Owns or is the spouse of an owner, leases, hires, or is in the possession under contract of purchase of, real property in such district liable to taxation for school purposes, but the occupation of real property by a person as a lodger or boarder shall not entitle such person to vote, or (b) is the parent of a child of school age, provided such a child shall have attended the district school in the district in which the meeting is held for a period of at least eight weeks during the year preceding such school meeting, or (c) not being the parent, has permanently residing with him a child of school age who shall have attended the district school for a period of at least eight weeks during the year preceding such meeting..

No person shall be deemed to be ineligible to vote at any such meeting, by reason of sex, who has the other qualifications required by this section."

High School Concert

The instrumental music department of the Saugerties High School will present a band and orchestra concert Friday in the high school auditorium.

There will be selections presented by the junior orchestra, senior orchestra, junior band and the senior band. The program will be concluded with several selections by the dance band.

Several of the highlights on the program will be Theme From The Apartment, a piano duet by Gerald Crosby and Michaeel Suenram; Trumpets Wild, a trumpet trio played by Jack Pakanen, Richard Curtis and Richard Kudlacik; Holiday for Trombones, a trombone trio played by Phyllis McLaughlin, Michael Suenram and Jeffrey Adels.

Village Clean-Up

Saturday, May 5, is Village Clean Up Day. This is part of project Operation Pride, which is being sponsored by the Jaycees to improve the appearance of Saugerties.

Beginning 11 a. m. three village trucks, manned by Jaycees, will pick up any refuse left at the roadside. Since the purpose of the clean up day is to improve the appearance of the village, only types of refuse found outdoors will be collected. No garbage will be collected.

It is hoped that everyone will cooperate with the Jaycees in making this phase of the propect a success.

McKay Promoted

Lance Cpl. Lawrence J. McKay, USMC, son of Mr. and Mrs. James L. McKay of High Falls, was promoted to the present rank April 9 while serving with the First Battalion of the Eighth Marine Regiment, an infantry unit of the Second Marine Division at Camp Lejeune, N. C.

POPPY GIRL—Dorothy Patricia Wade, five year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wade of Bennett Avenue, Saugerties, is this year's VFW Buddy Poppy Girl. Emmy Nominees Avoid Big Names

Judy, Queen Victoria Top Contenders for 1962 Show

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—It's Queen Victoria against Judy Garland—and Dr. Ben Casey shouldering his way through the crowded competition close behind them—as Emmy time comes again to television.

The nominations are in, and secret ballots to be cast by 6,000 members of the National Academy of Telveision Arts and Sciences will decide who will win the coveted awards at a May 22 telecast.

Ben Casey Wins

The 137 nominations—for 26 categories — were announced Tuesday.

Leading contenders for the 1961-62 Program of the Year honors are Judy Garland and the "Victoria Regina" biography of Queen Victoria, which starred Julie Harris. Miss Garland won a bid for her Feb. 25 special.

Ben Casey, ABC's young surgeon, won eight nominations, including a nod for the young star, Vincent Edwards.

Many of the famous old names of television—Jack Benny, Robert Young, Bob Hope and Dinah Shore—didn't get a tumble. A lot of eager youngsters skyrocketed into the top competition.

There was an emphasis on the documentary, news and public affairs program. Of the five Program of the Year nominees, three were in this area: "Biography of a Bookie Joint," "Vincent Van Gogh," and "Walk In My Shoes," a study of racial integration.

ABC Rates High

The ABC-TV network emerged as a top contender. Last year the network gathered in four nominations. This year it won 35. NBC-TV got 54 and CBS-TV 45.

In the dramatic field, "Victoria Regina" promised to make a sweep similar to that of last season's "Macbeth." The Harris vehicle scored in seven categories.

In addition to the program honor, Miss Garland also was in the running for the best musical performance—along with Perry Como, Yves Montand, Carol Burnett and Edie Adams. The Garland show was also up for best variety program, with the shows of Perry Como, Walt Disney, Edie Adams and Garry Moore.

Other Nominees

James Donald as Victoria's consort is in the race for best single performance against Milton Berle "Doyle Against the House" (Dick Powell Show); Peter Falk, "The Price of Tomatoes" (Dick Powell Show); Lee Marvin, "People Need People" (Alcoa Premiere); Mickey Rooney, "Somebody's Waiting" (Dick Powell Show).

"Victoria Regina" also was nominated for best dramatic program along with "People Need People" and the series "Ben Casey," "The Defenders," the Dick Powell Show and "Naked City."

Two Organization Candidates Avoid Names of Others

HARRISBURG (AP) — Pennsylvania's two organization-backed candidates for governor are following a time-tested political practice in their primary campaigns—ignore the opposition.

With only two weeks left before the May 15 Democratic and Republican primaries neither of the organization choices — Democrat Richardson Dilworth and Republican William W. Scranton—has acknowledged the existence of any other candidates for their parties' respective nominations.

In fact, they are concentrating their fire on each other, a la fall campaign.

Scranton is opposed by J. Collins McSparran, master of the Pennsylvania State Grange. Dilworth is opposed by Harvey F. Johnston, McKees Rocks real estate and insurance broker, and Charles J. Schmitt, Girard, who describes himself in his campaign literature as "financially poor and would appreciate your vote."

What Dilworth and Scranton are saying about each other could be a dress rehearsal for lines they will recite in the fall.

Scranton told a Norristown audience April 26 that Dilworth, former mayor of Philadelphia, is "a reformer who turned protector of corruptors."

Said Scranton:

"This man Dilworth rode into office as mayor behind the white banner of reform. But in the last period of his reign he was the greatest protector of the corruptors and the bribers."

Dilworth counter-attacked at Gettysburg on the alleged bribery accusation:

"It was discovered by my administration, the people responsible were rooted out and we recovered every penny of the million dollars that was lost on some contracts. Nobody accuses the board chairman or the directors when a bank teller embezzles money . . ."

Chapel for Skiers

ST. SAUVEUR, Que. (AP)—The Rev. Horace Baugh preaches at the Protestant Church of St. Francis of the Birds in the Laurentian resort area. Worshippers come to the little log church, known as the Skiers Chapel, in ski garb, parking their skis outside for a jaunt to the hills after the Sunday service. This starts at 9:30 a. m. so that everyone has time to reach the slopes when the ski tows start operating. Mr. Baugh also administers to two other churches in the vicinity. Each November he goes to Florida to preach at the All Saints Church in Miami Beach. "It's always interesting to see what they're doing at the other resorts," he says.

Hollywood News, Views

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The luncheon crowd in the MGM commisary stared as the tall, slender figure strode into the room.

None had to ask his name. It was Robert Walker.

The young man is 22, about the same age his father was at the start of his Hollywood career.

The first Robert Walker was a shy, bespectacled boy from Salt Lake City who found fame in a small but important role as a GI in the wartime film "Bataan." He followed with "See Here, Private Hargrove," "Till the Clouds Roll By," "The Clock," "Song of Love," "Strangers on a Train" and "My Son John."

Walker died in 1951 at 32. His son Bobby then 9, living with his mother, Jennifer Jones, who had become the wife of David O. Selznick.

Now William Perlberg and George Seaton, who starred Miss Jones in her Academy Award-winninr "Song of Bernadette," have given young Walker his first screen role—as a GI in "The Hook."

I talked with Bob before he left for Catalina location with Kirk Douglas, Nick Adams and others of the cast. I told him I had known his father and he seemed appreciative. But when I asked what he remembered of his father he said, "I'd rather not talk about that."

Otherwise he was frank and open. He admitted his school career was less than a success.

"I got up to high school," he said. "I went to 14 or 15 different schools and didn't like any of them. I just didn't care about the subjects. I got along pretty well in English, but things like mathematics held no charm for me.

"I didn't do any acting in school. I wasn't the least bit interested in it."

That came only in the last year or two, he said.

"I was taking a course in playwriting in New York and I decided I should know something about the problems of acting."

He apprenticed in summer stock, played "Twelfth Night" in New York, "Bells Are Ringing" in Florida and a childrens' show on Broadway.

"Once I started acting, I knew it was for me," Walker said.

White Sox Fail To Hit Until 9th In 6-1 Setback

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

There was a touch of crowd-pleasing excitement for spice—a rare bid for a two-man no-hitter. New York's front-running Yankees didn't quite pull it off, but they did overwhelm their closest pursuers, as is their style, and gained another length in the American League race.

Bill Stafford and Roland Sheldon staged the drama Tuesday night, holding the Chicago White Sox without a hit for eight innings.

The spell was broken when Sheldon was nicked for a run in the ninth but Marshall (The Sheriff) Bridges put on the workmanlike flourish by quelling the mild Chicago threat.

Sixth Straight

The three-man two-hitter resulted in a 6-1 Yankee victory, their sixth in a row, and stretched their AL lead to 1¼ games. Chicago fell into third, 21 percentage points behind the Detroit Tigers.

Vic Wertz delivered for the fourth straight time as a pinch hitter and gave Detroit a 3-2 decision over the Kansas City Athletics. Washington ended its 13-game losing string, nipping Boston 2-1 on Pete Burnside's four-hit pitching. Leon Wagner took over as the majors' hottest home run hitter as Los Angeles topped Cleveland 8-6. Camilo Pascual's pitching and hitting led Minnesota over Baltimore 8-3.

Stafford (2-2) turned away the White Sox without a semblance of a hit through five innings, then retired with a sore hip. Sheldon kept the string going until Nellie Fox opened up the last of the ninth with a sharp single up the middle. Joe Cunningham drew a walk and Floyd Robinson rapped a double to right, chasing in the lone Chicago run and bringing in the hard-throwing Bridges from the bullpen.

With the help of two errors, the Yanks built up a 4-0 lead on loss-in lefty Juan Pizarro (2-2) before Elston Howard slugged a two-run homer in the ninth against Herb Score. Bobby Richardson, who has hit in all 16 games this year, collected two singles in the Yankees' 10-hit offense. Roger Maris had a single for the 13th hit in his last 24 at bats.

Wertz settled the issue between unbeaten right-handers Jim Bunning and Jerry Walker with his bases-filled, two-out pinch single in the top of the 10th at Kansas City. Bunning (3-3) was touched for seven hits, including Jerry Lumpe's homer in the last of the 10th. The Tigers got 10 off Walker (3-1) one of them Al Kaline's sixth homer.

Has Two Victories

Burnside, who now has two of Washington's three victories, shut out the Red Sox after they got their run in the first on Pete Runnels' double, a sacrifice and Frank Malzone's single. Bob Johnson's double and Dale Long's produced the tying run for Washington in the fourth and the Senators got the winner in the eighth on Jimmy Piersall's double, a passed ball and Jim King's sacrifice fly. King got a second life when Jim Pagliaroni dropped his foul pop behind the plate.

Wagner, on a home run-or-nothing kick, connected his first two times up against Cleveland, with two on in the first against loser Sam McDowell (1-1), and with the bases empty in the second against Frank Funk. The rangy Angels' outfielder muscled into the big league homer leadership with a total of eight, getting six of them in his last seven games.

The Angels' unbeaten rookie, Bo Belinsky, won his third in a row as the first of four Los Angeles pitchers. Cleveland used six.

Pascual (4-1) turned in his fourth complete game with a nine-hitter, whacked a tie-breaking, two-run homer and also chipped in with a single in the Twins' victory over the Orioles. Pascual's homer, his second in the majors, climaxed Minnesota's three-run second inning against Chuck Estrada (1-3).

Su Mac Lad Tops

MONTICELLO — World trotting champion Su Mac Lad trotted a 2:01.4 mile on August 12, 1961 to break the track record for his gait at Monticello Raceway. Air Record was the previous champion having been clocked at 2:03 on August 6, 1960.

O'Dell Stops Pirates, 4-2; LA Wins in 16th

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Sensational? Phenomenal? Spectacular?

Take your pick—or use your own word—but make it on the super side for the pitching job being turned in by the San Francisco Giants' stingy staff.

Billy O'Dell added to the amazing record compiled by the San Francisco mound crew when he beat Pittsburgh 4-2 Tuesday night and ran the National League leaders' winning streak to seven games by becoming the fifth hurler in succession to go the distance.

In those five games against Juan Marichal, Jack Sanford, Billy Pierce, Gaylord Perry and O'Dell, opposing Chicago and Pittsburgh batters have been able to score only five runs. For that span the Giants earned run average is an astonishing 1.13.

10 Complete Games

At Los Angeles, Doug Camilli's timely, run-producing single in the last of the 16th gave the Dodgers a 6-5 decision over the Chicago Cubs. St. Louis bopped Houston 6-4 and Cincinnati walloped the New York Mets 8-2. Milwaukee and Philadelphia were idled by cold and wet grounds.

O'Dell ran his record to 3-0, scattering nine hits while going the distance for the second time. Singles by Don Clendenon, Johnny Logan and Bill Mazeroski nicked O'Dell for a run in the second and Clendenon's ninth inning homer ended the Pirates' production for the night.

The Giants put it away in the second with three runs on singles by Felipe Alou, Jose Pagan and Jim Davenport, a wild pitch, a passed ball and an error. Orlando Cepeda wound up the Giants scoring the next inning with his seventh homer, off Bob Veale (1-2).

Camilli's single in the last inning that could have been played—the league curfew rule would have halted play after the stanza—followed a walk by pinch hitter Daryl Spencer, a single by Willie Davis and an attempted sacrifice by Andy Carey that failed. Ed Roebuck (1-0) got the victory and Glen Hobbie (0-4) took the loss.

The Cubs tied it in the eighth on a two-base error by Davis and George Altman's single, and went ahead in the 15th with two runs on singles by Andre Rodgers, Moe Thacker and Ken Hubbs. The Dodgers came back to tie on Wally Moon's two-run single before Jim Gilliam was cut down trying to steal home for the winning run.

Stone Is Chased

The Cardinals won their fifth in the last six games by chasing Colts' starter Dean Stone (2-1) with a five-run outburst in the first inning. Stone, who had won his two previous games by shutouts, caused his own downfall by walking three. Ken Boyer, Gene Oliver, Charley James and Julio Gotay each drove in one run with Minnie Minoso scoring on Boyer's hit as Jim Pendleton threw wild. Ray Washburn (2-0) won it with Ed Bauta's relief.

Joey Jay (3-3) scattered eight Mets hits—including Frank Thomas' seventh homer—and supported his own pitching with a three-run homer. The Reds put it away against former teammate Jay Hook (1-1) with consecutive singles by Vada Pinson, Frank Robinson, Gordy Coleman and Wally Post plus John Edwards' double accounting for four runs in the fourth inning.

Ted Bream Hurls Five-Hit Win; Ferraro Homers

Mike Ferraro poled a first inning home run and lanky Ted Bream pitched a masterful five-hitter as Kingston High stopped Port Jervis, 8-2, yesterday in the DUSO opener at Dietz Stadium.

The locals pounced on Gibby Romaine, the Port Jervis ace, for all eight of their runs in the first three frames. Bream, meanwhile, had a shutout until the seventh when the visitors scored twice.

Don Berardi tripled for the locals, who made only five safeties but took advantage of four walks from Romaine during the scoring innings.

Coach Al Gruner's nine has a 3-0 mark to date and will host Middletown Thursday in a DUSO tilt at Dietz Stadium. The Middies game with Poughkeepsie yesterday was postponed because of wet grounds.

Ortiz Gets Named 'Fighter of Month'

NEW YORK (AP)—Lightweight champion Carlos Ortiz of New York was named "fighter of the month" by Ring Magazine today for his one-sided triumph over defender Joe Brown in their 15-round title fight at Las Vegas April 21.

Brown was made the No. 1 contender followed by Dave Charnley of England. In another lightweight change, Carlos Hernandez of Venezuela whipped Doug Vaillant of Cuba and moved up from sixth to third among the contenders.

In the heavyweight ranks Sweden's Ingemar Johansson was advanced from fifth to fourth in an exchange of places with Bob Cleroux of Montreal, Canada. The switch resulted from Cleroux' loss to third-ranking Zora Folley of Chandler, Ariz. Cassius Clay of Louisville, who stopped George Logan of Boise, Idaho, moved up from tenth to ninth. Argentina's Alejandro Lavorante fell from ninth to tenth.

June Dillman to Return To Monticello This Year

June Dillman, the nation's foremost woman driver, is due back at Monticello Raceway for the fourth straight season when racing gets under way on May 31 for 99 nights and two matinees through September 22.

Miss Dillman is asking stall space for five horses, all owned by Jay Weller of Republic, Ohio. Stall requests have been received for Miss Dillman's formidable duo of Red Dominion and Red Argot, plus promising Hot Dog. Miss Rose Mite, which Weller drives regularly and a green pacer, round out the stable.

Red Dominion, now 13 years old, will be starting his next-to-last season of racing (horses are ruled ineligible to race after 14). The chestnut gelding has lifetime winnings of $114,580. Miss Dillman is hoping to reach the $150,000 mark in earnings before Red Dominion is forced to retire.

Red Dominion was as spry as ever in 1961, finishing in the money in 14 of 20 races and earning $16,642. Four of his six triumphs were posted at Monticello. He was credited with seven seconds. Red Dominion has a lifetime mark of 1:59 2/5 as a seven-year-old over a mile track.

Miss Dillman is hoping six-year-old Red Argot will soon be able to take the No. 1 spot in her stable. A Gene Abbe horse out of the same mare as Red Dominion (Miss Rose Argot), Red Argot got to the races 17 times last summer and registered a 4-4-3 mark.

Hot Dog caught the fancy of the Monticello crowd last year really because of the horse's catchy name. On the track, Hot Dog proved to be "hot stuff" on a couple of occasions in his maiden season. The Gene Abbe gelding posted three firsts and three seconds in eight trips.

Appeared in 1959

Miss Dillman first made the headlines in 1959 when she came to Monticello from the midwest. The Raceway was instrumental in getting June her New York State's driving license. Opposition arose against giving Miss Diillman a license, but she won out. However, the commission no longer issues licenses to distaff drivers.

Miss Dillman's accomplishments at Monticello have become almost lengendary to fans of the Sullivan County track. She's become a special favorite with the women fans who refute the "weaker sex" thinking. And to the men June "drives like a man."

June spent the winter in Victor, N. Y., as she usually does, with her mother and grandfather. After the snow started to disappear, she returned to Ohio and began training on schedule. Monticello is becoming traditionally her first stop on the raceway circuit.

It was the first hole-in-one of Stewart's career and he did it with a five iron. He was playing in a foursome with Robert Schnitzer, Norman Rafalowsky and Richard Kalish.

Springfield Club Wins Third Game

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

No doubt about it, the Eastern League defending champion Springfield Giants have been disappointing so far.

But figure how worse off they'd be if it weren't for Dick Slomkowski.

The Giants, now in fifth place, have won only three games. Slomkowski has won two of them, including a five-hit, 3-0 whitewash of York Tuesday night.

The big right-hander struck out 10 batters and gave up only one walk. Springfield got only six hits off loser Wilbur Wood (0-2), the Boston bonus pitcher, and Jim Hansen, but one of them was a homer by Jerry Kushner in the third after Springfield had scored a run in the second on Arlo Engel's single and Bob Barton's double.

In the only other game Charleston beat Williamsport 11-1. Bad weather forced postponement of the Elmira at Binghamton game.

Katsbaan, Legion Pitted in Dart League Play-off

Katsbaan Apaches and American Legion, winners of the Saugerties Dartball quarter-finals Monday night will clash next Monday 8 p. m. at Katsbaan Reformed Church Hall for the league play-off championship.

The winner of the semi-finals meets the 1962 pennant winners, Service Center Bees in the finals Monday, May 14 at Centerville Fire Hall, following the annual league banquet.

Winner of the best two of three games will be awarded the league championship trophy.

Katsbaan exchanged home run barrages with Cementon and defeated them in two games, 16 to 14 and 20 to 17.

The Legionnaires beat Centerville in two games, 10 to 4 and 12 to 11.

Forrest Dederick, Foster Finger and George Nieffer produced one home run each for the Katsbaan cause, and Cementon homers included two by J. Krajevich, and one each by J. Gordiano and V. Ferreti. Krajevich totaled 8 RBI's and Fritz C. Gage hit 8 for 9 at bats. Katsbaan's high man was John Mower with 10 for 12 and Foster Finger brought in 9 runs.

The Legionnaires slammed five homers, two by Robert Finger and one each by John Teetsel, John Wood and Sam Smith. Centerville home runs were by Bruuce Leard and Charles Shader. The latter two also were high men with 7 for 9. Chic Buono totaled 8 for 9 on the Legionnaires score sheet.

R. C. Owens Seeking To Play With New Team

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—R. C. Owens, the San Francisco 49ers star who used his basketball rebounding skill to catch footballs, is shopping for a new team.

The 27-year-old end and halfback officially severed his 49ers connections Tuesday when his option ran out.

He's believed to be seeking more than $25,000 for his gridiron services—a sum 49ers President Vic Morabito said is excessive.

Owens ranked seventh in the National League last year with 55 catches good for 1,032 yards and five touchdowns.

Yanks in Near No-Hit Effort; Giants' Pitching Phenominal

White Sox Fail To Hit Until 9th In 6-1 Setback

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

There was a touch of crowd-pleasing excitement for spice—a rare bid for a two-man no-hitter. New York's front-running Yankees didn't quite pull it off, but they did overwhelm their closest pursuers, as is their style, and gained another length in the American League race.

Bill Stafford and Roland Sheldon staged the drama Tuesday night, holding the Chicago White Sox without a hit for eight innings.

The spell was broken when Sheldon was nicked for a run in the ninth but Marshall (The Sheriff) Bridges put on the workmanlike flourish by quelling the mild Chicago threat.

Sixth Straight

The three-man two-hitter resulted in a 6-1 Yankee victory, their sixth in a row, and stretched their AL lead to 1¼ games. Chicago fell into third, 21 percentage points behind the Detroit Tigers.

Vic Wertz delivered for the fourth straight time as a pinch hitter and gave Detroit a 3-2 decision over the Kansas City Athletics. Washington ended its 13-game losing string, nipping Boston 2-1 on Pete Burnside's four-hit pitching. Leon Wagner took over as the majors' hottest home run hitter as Los Angeles topped Cleveland 8-6. Camilo Pascual's pitching and hitting led Minnesota over Baltimore 8-3.

Stafford (2-2) turned away the White Sox without a semblance of a hit through five innings, then retired with a sore hip. Sheldon kept the string going until Nellie Fox opened up the last of the ninth with a sharp single up the middle. Joe Cunningham drew a walk and Floyd Robinson rapped a double to right, chasing in the lone Chicago run and bringing in the hard-throwing Bridges from the bullpen.

With the help of two errors, the Yanks built up a 4-0 lead on losin lefty Juan Pizarro (2-2) before Elston Howard slugged a two-run homer in the ninth against Herb Score. Bobby Richardson, who has hit in all 16 games this year, collected two singles in the Yankees' 10-hit offense. Roger Maris had a single for the 13th hit in his last 24 at bats.

Wertz settled the issue between unbeaten right-handers Jim Bunning and Jerry Walker with his bases-filled, two-out pinch single in the top of the 10th at Kansas City. Bunning (3-3) was touched for seven hits, including Jerry Lumpe's homer in the last of the 10th. The Tigers got 10 off Walker (3-1) one of them Al Kaline's sixth homer.

Has Two Victories

Burnside, who now has two of Washington's three victories, shut out the Red Sox after they got their run in the first on Pete Runnels' double, a sacrifice and Frank Malzone's single. Bob Johnson's double and Dale Long's produced the tying run for Washington in the fourth and the Senators got the winner in the eighth on Jimmy Piersall's double, a passed ball and Jim King's sacrifice fly. King got a second life when Jim Pagliaroni dropped his foul pop behind the plate.

Wagner, on a home run-or-nothing kick, connected his first two times up against Cleveland, with two on in the first against loser Sam McDowell (1-1), and with the bases empty in the second against Frank Funk. The rangy Angels' outfielder muscled into the big league homer leadership with a total of eight, getting six of them in his last seven games.

The Angels' unbeaten rookie, Bo Belinsky, won his third in a row as the first of four Los Angeles pitchers. Cleveland used six.

Pascual (4-1) turned in his fourth complete game with a nine-hitter, whacked a tie-breaking, two-run homer and also chipped in with a single in the Twins' victory over the Orioles. Pascual's homer, his second in the majors, climaxed Minnesota's three-run second inning against Chuck Estrada (1-3).

Su Mac Lad Tops

MONTICELLO — World trotting champion Su Mac Lad trotted a 2:01.4 mile on August 12, 1961 to break the track record for his gait at Monticello Raceway. Air Record was the previous champion having been clocked at 2:03 on August 6, 1960.

O'Dell Stops Pirates, 4-2; LA Wins in 16th

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Sensational? Phenomenal? Spectacular?

Take your pick—or use your own word—but make it on the super side for the pitching job being turned in by the San Francisco Giants' stingy staff.

Billy O'Dell added to the amazing record compiled by the San Francisco mound crew when he beat Pittsburgh 4-2 Tuesday night and ran the National League leaders' winning streak to seven games by becoming the fifth hurler in succession to go the distance.

In those five games against Juan Marichal, Jack Sanford, Billy Pierce, Gaylord Perry and O'Dell, opposing Chicago and Pittsburgh batters have been able to score only five runs. For that span the Giants earned run average is an astonishing 1.13.

10 Complete Games

Al Dark's workmen have completed 10 of their 21 starts. Not one opposing pitcher has managed to last the full nine innings.

At Los Angeles, Doug Camilli's timely, run-producing single in the last of the 16th gave the Dodgers a 6-5 decision over the Chicago Cubs. St. Louis bopped Houston 6-4 and Cincinnati walloped the New York Mets 8-2. Milwaukee and Philadelphia were idled by cold and wet grounds.

O'Dell ran his record to 3-0, scattering nine hits while going the distance for the second time. Singles by Don Clendenon, Johnny Logan and Bill Mazeroski nicked O'Dell for a run in the second and Clendenon's ninth inning homer ended the Pirates' production for the night.

The Giants put it away in the second with three runs on singles by Felipe Alou, Jose Pagan and Jim Davenport, a wild pitch, a passed ball and an error. Orlando Cepeda wound up the Giants scoring the next inning with his seventh homer, off Bob Veale (1-2).

Camilli's single in the last inning that could have been played—the league curfew rule would have halted play after the stanza—followed a walk by pinch hitter Daryl Spencer, a single by Willie Davis and an attempted sacrifice by Andy Carey that failed. Ed Roebuck (1-0) got the victory and Glen Hobbie (0-4) took the loss.

The Cubs tied it in the eighth on a two-base error by Davis and George Altman's single, and went ahead in the 15th with two runs on singles by Andre Rodgers, Moe Thacker and Ken Hubbs. The Dodgers came back to tie on Wally Moon's two-run single before Jim Gilliam was cut down trying to steal home for the winning run.

Stone Is Chased

The Cardinals won their fifth in the last six games by chasing Colts' starter Dean Stone (2-1) with a five-run outburst in the first inning. Stone, who had won his two previous games by shutouts, caused his own downfall by walking three. Ken Boyer, Gene Oliver, Charley James and Julio Gotay each drove in one run with Minnie Minoso scoring on Boyer's hit as Jim Pendleton threw wild. Ray Washburn (2-0) won it with Ed Bauta's relief.

Joey Jay (3-3) scattered eight Mets hits—including Frank Thomas' seventh homer—and supported his own pitching with a three-run homer. The Reds put it away against former teammate Jay Hook (1-1) with consecutive singles by Vada Pinson, Frank Robinson, Gordy Coleman and Wally Post plus John Edwards' double accounting for four runs in the fourth inning.

Ted Bream Hurls Five-Hit Win; Ferraro Homers

Mike Ferraro poled a first inning home run and lanky Ted Bream pitched a masterful five-hitter as Kingston High stopped Port Jervis, 8-2, yesterday in the DUSO opener at Dietz Stadium.

The locals pounced on Gibby Romaine, the Port Jervis ace, for all eight of their runs in the first three frames. Bream, meanwhile, had a shutout until the seventh when the visitors scored twice.

Paul Natale walked in the first inning and with two outs, Ferraro slugged his roundtripper. Mike also added a single and scored twice for a perfect day at the dish.

Bream wasn't overpowering, but his fielding support was excellent. He walked only one batter and fanned six.

Don Berardi tripled for the locals, who made only five safeties but took advantage of four walks from Romaine during the scoring innings.

Coach Al Gruner's nine has a 3-0 mark to date and will host Middletown Thursday in a DUSO tilt at Dietz Stadium. The Middies game with Poughkeepsie yesterday was postponed because of wet grounds.

Ortiz Gets Named 'Fighter of Month'

NEW YORK (AP)—Lightweight champion Carlos Ortiz of New York was named "fighter of the month" by Ring Magazine today for his one-sided triumph over defender Joe Brown in their 15-round title fight at Las Vegas April 21.

Brown was made the No. 1 contender followed by Dave Charnley of England. In another lightweight change, Carlos Hernandez of Venezuela whipped Doug Vaillant of Cuba and moved up from sixth to third among the contenders.

In the heavyweight ranks Sweden's Ingemar Johansson was advanced from fifth to fourth in an exchange of places with Bob Cleroux of Montreal, Canada. The switch resulted from Cleroux' loss to third-ranking Zora Folley of Chandler, Ariz. Cassius Clay of Louisville, who stopped George Logan of Boise, Idaho, moved up from tenth to ninth. Argentina's Alejandro Lavorante fell from ninth to tenth.

June Dillman to Return To Monticello This Year

June Dillman, the nation's foremost woman driver, is due back at Monticello Raceway for the fourth straight season when racing gets under way on May 31 for 99 nights and two matinees through September 22.

Miss Dillman is asking stall space for five horses, all owned by Jay Weller of Republic, Ohio. Stall requests have been received for Miss Dillman's formidable duo of Red Dominion and Red Argot, plus promising Hot Dog. Miss Rose Mite, which Weller drives regularly and a green pacer, round out the stable.

Red Dominion, now 13 years old, will be starting his next-to-last season of racing (horses are ruled ineligible to race after 14). The chestnut gelding has lifetime winnings of $114,580. Miss Dillman is hoping to reach the $150,000 mark in earnings before Red Dominion is forced to retire.

Red Dominion was as spry as ever in 1961, finishing in the money in 14 of 20 races and earning $16,642. Four of his six triumphs were posted at Monticello. He was credited with seven seconds. Red Dominion has a lifetime mark of 1:59 2/5 as a seven-year-old over a mile track.

Miss Dillman is hoping six-year-old Red Argot will soon be able to take the No. 1 spot in her stable. A Gene Abbe horse out of the same mare as Red Dominion (Miss Rose Argot), Red Argot got to the races 17 times last summer and registered a 4-4-3 mark.

Hot Dog caught the fancy of the Monticello crowd last year really because of the horse's catchy name. On the track, Hot Dog proved to be "hot stuff" on a couple of occasions in his maiden season. The Gene Abbe gelding posted three firsts and three seconds in eight trips.

Appeared in 1959

Miss Dillman first made the headlines in 1959 when she came to Monticello from the midwest. The Raceway was instrumental in getting June her New York State's driving license. Opposition arose against giving Miss Dillman a license, but she won out. However, the commission no longer issues licenses to distaff drivers.

Miss Dillman's accomplishments at Monticello have become almost lengendary to fans of the Sullivan County track. She's become a special favorite with the women fans who refute the "weaker sex" thinking. And to the men June "drives like a man."

June spent the winter in Victor, N. Y., as she usually does, with her mother and grandfather. After the snow started to disappear, she returned to Ohio and began training on schedule. Monticello is becoming traditionally her first stop on the raceway circuit.

It was the first hole-in-one of Stewart's career and he did it with a five iron. He was playing in a foursome with Robert Schnitzer, Norman Rafalowsky and Richard Kalish.

Springfield Club Wins Third Game

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

No doubt about it, the Eastern League defending champion Springfield Giants have been disappointing so far.

But figure how worse off they'd be if it weren't for Dick Slomkowski.

The Giants, now in fifth place, have won only three games. Slomkowski has won two of them, including a five-hit, 3-0 whitewash of York Tuesday night.

The big right-hander struck out 10 batters and gave up only one walk. Springfield got only six hits off loser Wilbur Wood (0-2), the Boston bonus pitcher, and Jim Hansen, but one of them was a homer by Jerry Kushner in the third after Springfield had scored a run in the second on Arlo Engel's single and Bob Barton's double.

In the only other game Charleston beat Williamsport 11-1. Bad weather forced postponement of the Elmira at Binghamton game.

Katsbaan, Legion Pitted in Dart League Play-off

Katsbaan Apaches and American Legion, winners of the Saugerties Dartball quarter-finals Monday night will clash next Monday 8 p. m. at Katsbaan Reformed Church Hall for the league play-off championship.

The winner of the semi-finals meets the 1962 pennant winners, Service Center Bees in the finals Monday, May 14 at Centerville Fire Hall, following the annual league banquet.

Winner of the best two of three games will be awarded the league championship trophy.

Katsbaan exchanged home run barrages with Cementon and defeated them in two games, 16 to 14 and 20 to 17.

The Legionnaires beat Centerville in two games, 10 to 4 and 12 to 11.

Forrest Dederick, Foster Finger and George Nieffer produced one home run each for the Katsbaan cause, and Cementon homers included two by J. Krajevich, and one each by J. Gordiano and V. Ferreti. Krajevich totaled 8 RBI's and Fritz C. Gage hit 8 for 9 at bats. Katsbaan's high man was John Mower with 10 for 12 and Foster Finger brought in 9 runs.

The Legionnaires slammed five homers, two by Robert Finger and one each by John Teetsel, John Wood and Sam Smith. Centerville home runs were by Bruuce Leard and Charles Shader. The latter two also were high men with 7 for 9. Chic Buono totaled 8 for 9 on the Legionnaires score sheet.

R. C. Owens Seeking To Play With New Team

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—R. C. Owens, the San Francisco 49ers star who used his basketball rebounding skill to catch footballs, is shopping for a new team.

The 27-year-old end and halfback officially severed his 49ers connections Tuesday when his option ran out.

He's believed to be seeking more than $25,000 for his gridiron services—a sum 49ers President Vic Morabito said is excessive.

Owens ranked seventh in the National League last year with 55 catches good for 1,032 yards and five touchdowns.

New Paltz Nips Marlboro, 3-1; Wallkill Beats Onteora

Huguenots Stay Unbeaten Behind Biff Longfield

Biff Longfield of New Paltz and Marlboro's crack lefty Vin Caserto hooked up in a splendid pitching duel at New Paltz yesterday and the Huguenots kept their unbeaten record with a 3-1 UCAL triumph.

Coach Larry Johnson's club scored single runs in the first, second and fifth frames while the vistors managed a tally in the fifth when they broke up a potential no-hitter.

In the first frame, Caserto walked leadoff hitter Woody Osterhoudt. He then stole second and third and came home on a two out single by Jim Lynch, the freshman catcher.

A single by Glenn Moore, a passed ball and Osterhoudt's hit scored another marker in the second inning.

Longfield had a no-hitter until the fifth. He walked Vince Ferlita and then Steve Aurigemma cracked a long double to deep left, scoring the only Marlboro run.

Caserto was touched for a final marker in the last of the fifth on Longfield's triple and another hit by Lynch.

The visitors put two runners on base in the final frame but Longfield struck out the side. He finished with a three-hitter, walked four and sent 16 batters down on strikes. Caserto was touched for five hits, issued three passes and fanned 14.

Mooney Pitches 12-2 UCAL Win Over Indians

Scoring at least once in every inning but the third and seventh, Wallkill Central defeated an undermanned Onteora squad, 12-2, in a UCAL baseball game yesterday at the winners' diamond.

Eddie Mooney, the all-around star athlete, went the distance for Wallkill. He allowed four hits, walked eight batters and fanned 10. Larry Joyce was the loser for the Indians.

Mooney aided with his bat, clubbing a home run and driving home four runners. Ronnie Mullen, Pete Sowa and Larry Martinez tripled for the winners while Doug Edebohls swatted a double:

Leoce's 300 Game Is 9th in Local Leagues

Devon Goose Wins Roosevelt Feature

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Devon Goose scored a half-length victory over Merry Go Boy to win the Loyalty Day Pace at Roosevelt Raceway Tuesday night in 2:03 2-5.

The victor, owned by Kenneth Beckerman of Hornell, N.Y., and driven by Billy Haughton, returned $7.40, $3.30 and $2.70. Merry Go Boy paid $3.30 and $2.60. Lieut. Byrd paid $3.80 to show.

At Buffalo Raceway Justabrook scored a photo-finish victory in the $3,500 Maple Leaf Mile Pace in 2:07 4-5 and paid $5.60. Nevele Meadow was second and Yankee Jet third.

The 300 game that Steve Leoce socked Monday night at the Bowlero is the 9th sanctioned perfect game in the Kingston City Association.

According to records compiled by Clifton Quick, the others have been hit by John Ferraro, Lanes 7-8 at the Central Rec; Larry Weishaupt, Lanes 5-6 at the Central Rec; Buster Ferraro, Lanes 19-20 at the Bowlerama; Tom Carlino, Lanes 5-6

STEVE LEOCE

at the Bowlero; Harold Broskie, 3-4 at the Bowlero; John Schatzel, Lanes 19-20 at the Bowlerama; Chris Gallo, Lanes 25-26 at the Bowlerama; Carl Ambrosino, Lanes 3-4 at New Paltz and Leoce, Lanes 15-16 at the Bowlero.

An oddity is the fact that none of the perfect games have been hit on 21-22 at the Bowlerama, which some keglers call "pie" alleys. Only two have been hit on the same pair of lanes, on 19-29 at the Bowlerama by Buster Ferraro and Schatzel.

Other records compiled by Quick give John Ferraro credit for the most 700 triples, a total of about 75. Broskie has around 50 while Dick Howard and Chris Gallo also have several. A total of 75 keglers in Kingston have slammed at least one 700 series.

Ferraro has the high city record, a rousing 818, registered several years ago in the Hudson Valley League.

Registration For BRL Slated Saturday at Dietz

Kingston Fraternal Babe Ruth League will hold its final registration Saturday at Dietz Stadium, 12:45 p. m. Boys who fail to register on Saturday will not be allowed to play in the league, which is open for those 13, 14 and 15 years of age.

Candidates are reminded to bring certified birth certificates.

Tryouts will take place for those who have already registered. They will be conducted by Bill Thomas.

F and AM Lodge No. 10 will sponsor a team in the league this season. This brings the total of clubs to eleven.

President Larry Hyatt reminds those who have been sent booster tickets to please return their donations as soon as possible.

Atlanta Leads Triple A Loop

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The fledgling Atlanta Crackers—in their first year in the loop—looked down on the rest of the International League from their perch at the top today.

The Crackers, with Jim Beauchamp hitting two home runs, downed the Buffalo Bisons, 9-4 Tuesday night. In the only other game of the night, the Toronto Maple Leafs polished off the Jacksonville Suns, 5-1.

Buffalo and Jacksonville had been tied for the lead. Their defeats dropped them back into a tie for second, a half-game behind the Crackers.

The Crackers had to overcome an early Buffalo lead. The Bisons were leading, 3-0, in the fourth Crackers back in the ball game when Fred Whitfield got the Crackers back in the ball game by doubling home two runs.

Then, after Tim McCarver had singled in the fifth, Beauchamp hit his first homer to send the Crackers ahead, 4-3. McCarver added a homer in the seventh and Beauchamp hit his second a few minutes later after winning pitcher Bob Sadowski had walked.

Lee Elia hit a homer for the Bisons in the first.

Toronto scored five unearned runs in the eighth with two out to down the Suns.

Flood's New Style Aids in High Mark

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Curt Flood took the advice of his batting coach, who told him to quit trying for home runs, and now finds himself the top batsman in the National League.

The 24-year-old St. Louis Cardinal center fielder leads the league with a .418 average. He's had 28 hits in 67 at bats, including four doubles, two triples and two home runs.

"It's taken me a year to get the full benefit of the change in my swinging pattern," the right-hander said.

"George Crowe (former Card batting coach) told me late last season to use a shorter swing. I'm not a power hitter, all I'm trying to do is get some good wood on the ball."

Card Manager Johnny Keane says the shorter swing allows Flood to hit line drives and grounders through the infield rather than long flies to the outfield.

"He's got the speed to beat out some of those ground balls and he can stretch a single through the infield into a double," Keane said.

New Paltz Nips Marlboro, 3-1; Wallkill Beats Onteora

Huguenots Stay Unbeaten Behind Biff Longfield

Biff Longfield of New Paltz and Marlboro's crack lefty Vin Caserto hooked up in a splendid pitching duel at New Paltz yesterday and the Huguenots kept their unbeaten record with a 3-1 UCAL triumph.

Coach Larry Johnson's club scored single runs in the first, second and fifth frames while the vistors managed a tally in the fifth when they broke up a potential no-hitter.

In the first frame, Caserto walked leadoff hitter Woody Osterhoudt. He then stole second and third and came home on a two out single by Jim Lynch, the freshman catcher.

A single by Glenn Moore; a passed ball and Osterhoudt's hit scored another marker in the second inning.

Longfield had a no-hitter until the fifth. He walked Vince Ferlita and then Steve Aurigemma cracked a long double to deep left, scoring the only Marlboro run.

Caserto was touched for a final marker in the last of the fifth on Longfield's triple and another hit by Lynch.

The visitors put two runners on base in the final frame but Longfield struck out the side. He finished with a three-hitter, walked four and sent 16 batters down on strikes. Caserto was touched for five hits, issued three passes and fanned 14.

Leoce's 300 Game Is 9th in Local Leagues

The 300 game that Steve Leoce socked Monday night at the Bowlero is the 9th sanctioned perfect game in the Kingston City Association.

According to records compiled by Clifton Quick, the others have been hit by John Ferraro, Lanes 7-8 at the Central Rec; Larry Weishaupt, Lanes 5-6 at the Central Rec; Buster Ferraro, Lanes 19-20 at the Bowlerama; Tom Carlino, Lanes 5-6

STEVE LEOCE

An oddity is the fact that none of the perfect games have been hit on 21-22 at the Bowlerama, which some keglers call "pie" alleys. Only two have been hit on the same pair of lanes, on 19-29 at the Bowlerama by Buster Ferraro and Schatzel.

Other records compiled by Quick give John Ferraro credit for the most 700 triples, a total of about 75. Broskie has around 50 while Dick Howard and Chris Gallo also have several. A total of 75 keglers in Kingston have slammed at least one 700 series.

Ferraro has the high city record, a rousing 818, registered several years ago in the Hudson Valley League.

Registration For BRL Slated Saturday at Dietz

Kingston Fraternal Babe Ruth League will hold its final registration Saturday at Dietz Stadium, 12:45 p. m. Boys who fail to register on Saturday will not be allowed to play in the league, which is open for those 13, 14 and 15 years of age.

Candidates are reminded to bring certified birth certificates.

Tryouts will take place for those who have already registered. They will be conducted by Bill Thomas.

F and AM Lodge No. 10 will sponsor a team in the league this season. This brings the total of clubs to eleven.

President Larry Hyatt reminds those who have been sent booster tickets to please return their donations as soon as possible.

Atlanta Leads Triple A Loop

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The fledgling Atlanta Crackers —in their first year in the loop— looked down on the rest of the International League from their perch at the top today.

The Crackers, with Jim Beauchamp hitting two home runs, downed the Buffalo Bisons, 9-4 Tuesday night. In the only other game of the night, the Toronto Maple Leafs polished off the Jacksonville Suns, 5-1.

Buffalo and Jacksonville had been tied for the lead. Their defeats dropped them back into a tie for second, a half-game behind the Crackers.

The Crackers had to overcome an early Buffalo lead. The Bisons were leading, 3-0, in the fourth Crackers back in the ball game when Fred Whitfield got the Crackers back in the ball game by doubling home two runs.

Then, after Tim McCarver had singled in the fifth, Beauchamp hit his first homer to send the Crackers ahead, 4-3. McCarver added a homer in the seventh and Beauchamp hit his second a few minutes later after winning pitcher Bob Sadowski had walked.

Lee Elia hit a homer for the Bisons in the first.

Wallkill Cindermen Nip Onteora, 58 - 53

Wallkill's crack relay team captured its event in the final race of the day and nipped Onteora Central, 58-53, in a dual track meet yesterday.

The Indians, coached by Bernie Stahl, won six of the 13 events. Wallkill had the only double winner as Tom Apuzzo captured the 100 yard dash and the 220 yard run.

The results:

180 yard hurdles—1. Eric Stoutenburgh, O; 2. Was Buley, O. Time 23.4 seconds.

100 yard dash—1. Tom Apuzo, W; 2. Art Hawkins, O; 3. Richard Ronk, O. Time 11.6 seconds.

Flood's New Style Aids in High Mark

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Curt Flood took the advice of his batting coach, who told him to quit trying for home runs, and now finds himself the top batsman in the National League.

The 24-year-old St. Louis Cardinal center fielder leads the league with a .418 average. He's had 28 hits in 67 at bats, including four doubles, two triples ard two home runs.

"It's taken me a year to get the full benefit of the change in my swinging pattern," the right-hander said.

"George Crowe (former Card batting coach) told me late last season to use a shorter swing. I'm not a power hitter, all I'm trying to do is get some good wood on the ball."

Card Manager Johnny Keane says the shorter swing allows Flood to hit line drives and grounders through the infield rather than long flies to the outfield.

"He's got the speed to beat out some of those ground balls and he can stretch a single through the infield into a double," Keane said.

Bowling Boost

The remarkable growth of modern bowling dates back to Sept. 9, 1895, when the American Bowling Congress was organized with the objective of revitalizing the sport.

EMPLOYMENT

NOTICE TO JOB APPLICANTS
The Kingston Daily Freeman does not knowingly accept help wanted advertisements from employers covered by the Federal Wage-Hour Law if they offer less than legal minimum wages. Beginning September 3, 1961, employees engaged in interstate or foreign commerce or in the production of goods for such commerce must be paid not less than $1.15 an hour and at least time and one-half for hours worked after 40 in a workweek, unless specifically exempt. Employees of certain large retail, service, construction, and other enterprises must be paid not less than $1.00 an hour after September 3, 1961, but no overtime for such employment is required until September 3, 1963. If you are offered less by covered employers, or if you have questions concerning this law or other activities of the U. S. Department of Labor, call or write the Department's local office at Bronx: Abraham Klainpard, Investigation Supr., 881 Gerard Ave., Bronx, N. Y. WYandotte 2-1235.

16 May Start In Saturday's Kentucky Derby

By ORLO ROBERTSON

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The probable starting field for Saturday's $125,000-added Kentucky Derby swelled to at least 16 today but Sir Gaylord and Ridan remained the firm choices to make a two-horse race of the 88th running of the blue ribbon classic for 3-year-olds at Churchill Downs.

Out of Tuesday's so-so Derby Trial came three fairly definite starters and one faint "maybe."

The fairly definites are T. A. Grissom's Roman Line, who won the mile test by six lengths in the fair time of 1:37 1-5 on a sloppy track; Sharp Count from the Reverie Knoll Farm, who was third, beaten 6¾ lengths, and Neil S. McCarthy's Royal Attack, the Santa Anita Derby winner who ran a disappointing fourth.

There is one condition on Royal Attack's starting. Trainer Buddy Hirsch said the track must be fast. For Roman Line it would be his third race in 10 days. He ran third back of Ridan and Decidedly in last Thursday's Blue Grass Stakes at Keeneland.

The "maybe" came from Steve Di Mauri, who trains Mister Pitt for the Golden Triangle Stable. Mister Pitt showed a burst of early speed, as expected, in the trial, then wound up last in the seven-horse field.

Trainer Casey Hayes said C. T. Chenery's great filly, Cicada, would be entered in the Derby with stablemate Sir Gaylord.

"We'll enter both but only one will run," said Hayes.

It costs $250 to enter a horse and another $1,250 to start. Cicada also is eligible for Friday's $35,000-added Kentucky Oaks on which she appears to have a lock.

Against Weaker Bill

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—A group that supported passage of the state's new suburban town law were ready to move quickly today to organize against what they felt will be a move to weaken the act before its effective date, Jan. 1, 1964.

The first step, already under way, will be the formation of an association of towns eligible to adopt the suburban town status, Gov. Rockefeller signed the law Monday night.

Senate Pressing For Showdown on Literacy Vote

WASHINGTON (AP)—Marathon debate on the administration's literacy test bill swung into its eighth day today with Senate leaders pressing for showdown votes next week.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said he was making no advance claims that he could muster enough votes to clamp a filibuster-ending time limit on the debate being waged by Southern senators fighting the measure.

The bill seeks to prevent racial discrimination in voting in federal elections by prohibiting the states from barring the ballot on literacy grounds to any otherwise qualified citizen who has completed a sixth-grade education.

A two-thirds majority of senators voting is needed to invoke cloture—the Senate term for a debate lim

By ORLO ROBERTSON

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The probable starting field for Saturday's $125,000-added Kentucky Derby swelled to at least 16 today but Sir Gaylord and Ridan remained the firm choices to make a two-horse race of the 88th running of the blue ribbon classic for 3-year-olds at Churchill Downs.

Out of Tuesday's so-so Derby Trial came three fairly definite starters and one faint "maybe."

The fairly definites are T. A. Grissom's Roman Line, who won the mile test by six lengths in the fair time of 1:37 1-5 on a sloppy track; Sharp Count from the Reverie Knoll Farm, who was third, beaten 6¾ lengths, and Neil S. McCarthy's Royal Attack, the Santa Anita Derby winner who ran a disappointing fourth.

There is one condition on Royal Attack's starting. Trainer Buddy Hirsch said the track must be fast. For Roman Line it would be his third race in 10 days. He ran third back of Ridan and Decidedly in last Thursday's Blue Grass Stakes at Keeneland.

The "maybe" came from Steve Di Mauri, who trains Mister Pitt for the Golden Triangle Stable. Mister Pitt showed a burst of early speed, as expected, in the trial, then wound up last in the seven-horse field.

Trainer Casey Hayes said C. T. Chenery's great filly, Cicada, would be entered in the Derby with stablemate Sir Gaylord.

"We'll enter both but only one will run," said Hayes.

It costs $250 to enter a horse and another $1,250 to start. Cicada also is eligible for Friday's $35,000-added Kentucky Oaks on which she appears to have a lock.

Against Weaker Bill

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—A group that supported passage of the state's new suburban town law were ready to move quickly today to organize against what they felt will be a move to weaken the act before its effective date, Jan. 1, 1964.

The first step, already under way, will be the formation of an association of towns eligible to adopt the suburban town status, Gov. Rockefeller signed the law Monday night.

Senate Pressing For Showdown on Literacy Vote

WASHINGTON (AP)—Marathon debate on the administration's literacy test bill swung into its eighth day today with Senate leaders pressing for showdown votes next week.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said he was making no advance claims that he could muster enough votes to clamp a filibuster-ending time limit on the debate being waged by Southern senators fighting the measure.

The bill seeks to prevent racial discrimination in voting in federal elections by prohibiting the states from barring the ballot on literacy grounds to any otherwise qualified citizen who has completed a sixth-grade education.

A two-thirds majority of senators voting is needed to invoke cloture—the Senate term for a deb

Cool and Wet Period Ahead

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Extended forecasts, prepared by the U.S. Weather Bureau, from 7 p.m. today to 7 p.m. Monday:

Eastern New York—A cool and wet period is indicated. Rain at beginning and over the weekend with cloudy, cool weather a good portion of the period. Temperatures are expected to average several degrees below normal and rainfall more than three-fourths inch.

Western New York—Temperatures will average 2-4 degrees below normal. A warming trend early in the period but turning cooler over the weekend and continuing early next week. Precipitation will average about one-half inch as showers over the weekend and early next week.

Temperature normals—Daytime highs 57-65. Nighttime lows 38-44.

Test Clears Suspect

MIDLOTHIAN, Tex. (AP)—Displaying a black eye, one of the men who traded punches with the Midlothian Mirror's scrappy editor last week asked and received a lie detector test Tuesday.

Sheriff Wayne McCollum said the examination cleared Edward W. Seay of any connection with the fire bombing of the weekly newspaper's plant two days ago.

Seay said the black eye was a souvenir of his battle with 5-foot-2 editor Penn Jones Jr. and printer J. L. Lyon.

Jones, 47, told newsmen earlier he was whipped by both Seay and high school principal Roy Irvin "but my newspaper was not."

The editor had said he felt sure Seay was not the man who did the bombing.

Reminiscing in Abilene

AidesRecallMemorable Events of Ike's Rule

ABILENE, Kan. (AP) — Early efforts to get Dwight D. Eisenhower to run for president. His quick wit. His forthrightness. Statehood for Hawaii and Alaska.

Four members of President Eisenhower's Cabinet pick those incidents as highlights of their years in Washington.

'52 Tops to Brownell

The four—Fred A. Seaton, former secretary of the interior; William P. Rogers, attorney general; Herbert Brownell Jr., attorney general, and Neil H. McElroy, defense, reminisced Tuesday after dedication of the Eisenhower presidential library.

Former secretary of the Treasury Robert P. Anderson also attended the dedication but left immediately.

Brownell said his trip to Paris early in 1952 to try and convince Eisenhower to accept the Republican nomination was his outstanding memory of the Eisenhower years.

Brownell recalled he was sent by Gen. Lucius D. Clay, Henry Cabot Lodge, Sen. Frank Carlson of Kansas and Harry Darby, a former Kansas senator.

"They felt Ike was on the verge of agreeing to do this," Brownell said. "Ike said he hadn't made up his mind."

Brownell said Eisenhower told him some Democrats had sought him for their party's nomination but that if he ran it would be as a Republican.

Brownell was also on the receiving end of barbed presidential wit.

On one occasion, Brownell said, he was explaining a legal brief to Eisenhower, who had asked that it be kept short. After he had talked a while, Eisenhower interrupted with a story in which a man told a neighbor he had half a dozen reasons for not attending church.

Rogers Recalls Troops

"The first was I was excommunicated and somehow the other five don't make much difference," the story went.

Brownell took the hint and cut the explanation short.

Use of federal troops during the Little Rock school integration crisis was recalled by Rogers as a major incident in his career. When he outlined plans for removing the troops by the end of the year, Eisenhower quickly ordered "Go ahead," Rogers said.

"The President gave Cabinet officers complete security and confidence," he said.

To Seaton, a Nebraska publisher and now a Republican candidate for governor, the most important event was statehood for Hawaii and Alaska.

As secretary of the interior, Seaton had been governing official for the two territories.

McElroy remembered launching of the first Soviet satellite.

"The whole world was concerned because the Russians had made this tremendous jump," McElroy said. "About four months later we finally had a successful satellite."

Greatest Ever: Ike

Admiration of the Cabinet members for Eisenhower was repaid by the former President in an off-the-cuff speech.

"There has not been a Cabinet brought together since that compares in the abilities and wisdom of that group," he said.

Square Club To Honor Pair Saturday Night

Mrs. Agnes M. Hoffman, fire dispatcher and George Haythorne, Woodstock fire chief, will receive citizen of the year awards at the annual dinner of the Woodstock Square Club, Saturday, 7 p. m., at Deanie's Restaurant.

Oscar Newkirk, Kingston postmaster, will be master of ceremonies for the dinner and Joseph Fitzsimmons, County Commissioner of Public Welfare, will present the citations to the recipients.

The dinner is open to the public and tickets may be obtained through George Laws or Albert Varney.

Memorial Service To Take Place For Mrs. Beard

A memorial service for the late Mrs. Eva Beard will be held at the Chapel below Mead's on Sunday, May 6, 3 p. m., Archbishop Francis officiating.

Mrs. Beard for many years was a trustee of the Woodstock Historical Society and the members of the society are pleased to be able, in this way, to show their appreciation for her hard work and devotion to the aims of the society. She was always willing to pitch in to do whatever was necessary to keep the society operating; and her suggestions were always positive, concrete and helpful.

Mrs. Beard also was an active member of the Woodstock Craft Guild where she exhibited sculpture. In addition, she was a writer on horticulture and naturalist and a poetess with her works published in several magazines. She also sang in the Woodstock Choral Group.

Those who knew her will all miss her assistance and enthusiasm. The Trustees of the Woodstock Historical Society hope that her many friends will join in this tribute to her memory.

Christ Lutheran Holds Meeting

At a special meeting of the congregation of Christ Lutheran held on Monday, a statement of building needs was adopted. The purposes of the statement are: to fix the congregation's thinking in terms of its future building needs; to supply the person assigned to the task of planning future construction with helpful information and finally to provide the congregation with long range goals in terms of future building needs. Another special meeting of the congregation has been set tentatively for Tues., May 22, 8 p. m. in order to attain congregational authorization for the next step in the Building Program by the Executive Building Committee. The meeting underscored the fact that a hall for educational, fellowship, meeting and storage purposes is the present and foremost goal of the congregation and therefore is receiving, and will, receive highest priority.

At this same meeting Mr. Victor Lasher of Woodstock and Mr. Fred Thaiz Jr. of Zena were elected by the congregation to fill vacancies on the Church Council. In addition Mr. Marlin Klinger was elected to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of the Treasurer. The newly elected officers will be installed at this Sunday's service.

This Sunday, the Sacrament of Holy Communion will be celebrated at 11 a. m.

Speaker Named For Second SBM Lecture Thursday

HOMER R. LAUDIG

The second lecture in the Small Business Management Course being given at Kingston High School Vocational Building Thursday nights, will be Homer R. Laudig, vice-president and manager of Marsh's Department store, Hudson. His subject will be Merchandising.

Laudig has been in the merchandising field for the greater part of his life. He started his career with Butler Brothers in their sales promotion and store arrangement department. He joined the Marsh's Department store in Hudson 21 years ago and is now vice-president and manager of that organization.

This series of five lectures and discussions will be held each succeeding Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock, following the first lecture last Thursday, April 26, when Oscar J. Lawatsch, assistant cashier of the State of New York National Bank of Kingston was speaker. His topic was Consumer Credit and Collection.

Laudig will be the second speaker Thursday night, May 3. The course is sponsored by the Adult Education Department of Kingston High School, jointly with the New York State Department of Commerce, Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce and the Small Business Administration Bureau of Washington, D. C.

Eisenhower Asks For Return to Old Traditions

ABILENE, Kan. (AP)— Dwight D. Eisenhower compared American scientific and material gains in this century with "the vulgarity, the sensuality, indeed the downright filth," and said, "I wonder if we have advanced."

Speaking Tuesday at the dedication of the $3-million Eisenhower Library here, the former president asked, "What has happened to our concepts of beauty, decency and morality?"

Eisenhower was disdainful of some trends in modern art and entertainment. He referred to the new dance craze, the twist, saying he did not personally dislike it but "it does represent some change in our standards."

The former president called for a return to the standards and values of pioneer America.

He said the only danger to the United States "is in forgetting our glory, our traditions, our history, our ideals and aspirations so that we allow our fiber to weaken."

A crowd of several thousand persons stood in a hot sun to hear Eisenhower speak. Earlier about 25,000 lined the streets of Abilene's business district to greet him.

The library, built with private funds, will house Eisenhower's presidential papers. It is across the street from the house where the former president spent his boyhood.

Dignitaries attending the dedication included Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, Eisenhower's three brothers, and five former members of his Cabinet.

President Kennedy sent a statement praising the library as a cultural asset.

Titov Due in Capital

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet cosmonaut Gherman Titov arrives today for a three-day visit that will include a scientific talk on space flight, some small talk with Washington officials and a sightseeing tour guided by U.S. astronaut John H. Glenn Jr.

The 27-year-old Russian space conquerer and his wife Tamara, 24, will motor from Andrews Air Force Base in nearby Maryland to the Soviet Embassy, where Titov will hold a news conference in late afternoon.

Thant in Geneva

GENEVA (AP)—Acting U. N. Secretary-General U Thant arrived today from New York on a short visit to the United Nations European headquarters.

Thant was scheduled to stay three days in Geneva before going on to Sweden.

U.S. Sounds Out Soviet Union on Trade Exhibit

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has proposed to the Soviet Union that an American exhibition be held in Moscow and Leningrad in view of the scheduled Soviet participation in the 1964-65 New York World's Fair.

The proposal follows the recent unexpected cancellation of plans for a world's fair in Moscow in 1967 on the 50th anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution.

The cancellation deprived the United States of an opportunity to put on a national exhibition in the Soviet capital such as the Soviet Union is presumed to be planning for the World's Fair in New York.

A few days ago the State Department, it was learned today, sent a note to the Soviet Embassy proposing an American exhibition in the Soviet Union at a mutually agreeable date to match the Soviet exhibit at the New York fair.

Last March 2 the Soviet government signed a contract for 78,000 square feet of space at the New York fair grounds at a rental cost of $468,000. The contract contained a provision for cancelation unless the State Department within 60 days gave the Soviet government a statement of intention to participate in the 1967 Moscow fair.

In mid-April, before the United States had sent the letter of intent, it was announced in Moscow that the 1967 fair would not be held.

Still New Record

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—It's still a record for winged aircraft, but the X15 achieved about 246,700 feet altitude in its test flight Monday, and not 255,000 feet as first reported.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration Tuesday revised downward to 46.7 miles the height reached by the rocket plane. The previous mark for the X15 was 217,000 feet.

The 246,700-foot figure is still tentative and further study of radar data will be necessary before a final figure is released.

Speaker Named For Second SBM Lecture Thursday

HOMER R. LAUDIG

The second lecture in the Small Business Management Course being given at Kingston High School Vocational Building Thursday nights, will be Homer R. Laudig, vice-president and manager of Marsh's Department store, Hudson. His subject will be Merchandising.

Laudig has been in the merchandising field for the greater part of his life. He started his career with Butler Brothers in their sales promotion and store arrangement department. He joined the Marsh's Department store in Hudson 21 years ago and is now vice-president and manager of that organization.

This series of five lectures and discussions will be held each succeeding Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock, following the first lecture last Thursday, April 26, when Oscar J. Lawatsch, assistant cashier of the State of New York National Bank of Kingston was speaker. His topic was Consumer Credit and Collection.

Laudig will be the second speaker Thursday night, May 3. The course is sponsored by the Adult Education Department of Kingston High School, jointly with the New York State Department of Commerce, Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce and the Small Business Administration Bureau of Washington, D. C.

Eisenhower Asks For Return to Old Traditions

ABILENE, Kan. (AP)— Dwight D. Eisenhower compared American scientific and material gains in this century with "the vulgarity, the sensuality, indeed the downright filth," and said, "I wonder if we have advanced."

Speaking Tuesday at the dedication of the $3-million Eisenhower Library here, the former president asked, "What has happened to our concepts of beauty, decency and morality?"

Eisenhower was disdainful of some trends in modern art and entertainment. He referred to the new dance craze, the twist, saying he did not personally dislike it but "it does represent some change in our standards."

The former president called for a return to the standards and values of pioneer America.

He said the only danger to the United States "is in forgetting our glory, our traditions, our history, our ideals and aspirations so that we allow our fiber to weaken."

A crowd of several thousand persons stood in a hot sun to hear Eisenhower speak. Earlier about 25,000 lined the streets of Abilene's business district to greet him.

The library, built with private funds, will house Eisenhower's presidential papers. It is across the street from the house where the former president spent his boyhood.

Dignitaries attending the dedication included Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, Eisenhower's three brothers, and five former members of his Cabinet.

President Kennedy sent a statement praising the library as a cultural asset.

Titov Due in Capital

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet cosmonaut Gherman Titov arrives today for a three-day visit that will include a scientific talk on space flight, some small talk with Washington officials and a sightseeing tour guided by U.S. astronaut John H. Glenn Jr.

The 27-year-old Russian space conquerer and his wife Tamara, 24, will motor from Andrews Air Force Base in nearby Maryland to the Soviet Embassy, where Titov will hold a news conference in late afternoon.

Thant in Geneva

GENEVA (AP)—Acting U. N. Secretary-General U Thant arrived today from New York on a short visit to the United Nations European headquarters.

Thant was scheduled to stay three days in Geneva before going on to Sweden.

U.S. Sounds Out Soviet Union on Trade Exhibit

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has proposed to the Soviet Union that an American exhibition be held in Moscow and Leningrad in view of the scheduled Soviet participation in the 1964-65 New York World's Fair.

The proposal follows the recent unexpected cancellation of plans for a world's fair in Moscow in 1967 on the 50th anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution.

The cancellation deprived the United States of an opportunity to put on a national exhibition in the Soviet capital such as the Soviet Union is presumed to be planning for the World's Fair in New York.

A few days ago the State Department, it was learned today, sent a note to the Soviet Embassy proposing an American exhibition in the Soviet Union at a mutually agreeable date to match the Soviet exhibit at the New York fair.

Last March 2 the Soviet government signed a contract for 78,000 square feet of space at the New York fair grounds at a rental cost of $468,000. The contract contained a provision for cancelation unless the State Department within 60 days gave the Soviet government a statement of intention to participate in the 1967 Moscow fair.

In mid-April, before the United States had sent the letter of intent, it was announced in Moscow that the 1967 fair would not be held.

Still New Record

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—It's still a record for winged aircraft, but the X15 achieved about 246,700 feet altitude in its test flight Monday, and not 255,000 feet as first reported.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration Tuesday revised downward to 46.7 miles the height reached by the rocket plane. The previous mark for the X15 was 217,000 feet.

The 246,700-foot figure is still tentative and further study of radar data will be necessary before a final figure is released.
